The Analects Of Confucius Sixth Impression:

Cross-Textual Reading of Ecclesiastes with the Analects Elaine Wei-Fun Goh, 2019-10-03 Various cross textual readings have been attempted between the Christian Bible and Chinese literature Using cross textual hermeneutics this study centers on the political wisdom of Ecclesiastes and the Analects and its goal is to demonstrate that both texts offer wisdom pointers for human survival amid uncertain sociopolitical realities Chapter 1 introduces the vibrant interaction of biblical wisdom literature within the ancient Near East and highlights some of its political connections The openness of wisdom literature is then proposed to support this present effort of cross textual research Chapter 2 offers readings of eight passages that communicate Qoheleth's political wisdom in Ecclesiastes Chapter 3 centers on the Analects and on some notable passages that relate to Confucius political ideas Chapter 4 seeks to demonstrate the dialogical dynamics between the two works by exploring specific hermeneutical connections In conclusion readers will come to understand the distinctive and collective political insights of both wisdom texts That is this study suggests contextualized ideas for living wisely from within both a faith tradition and a native tradition

Literature and Religion Ou Guang-an, David Jasper, 2022-07-28 How does one culture read another In Literature and Religion two scholars one from China and one from the West each read texts from the other's culture as a means of dialogue A key issue in such an enterprise is the nature of religion and what we understand by that term in a world in which ancient religious customs seem to be dying or under threat Does a comparative study of religious literature offer a way towards mutual understanding or merely illustrate our differences Underpinned by their own friendship these two partners in conversation show what is possible

The Poetic Character of Human Activity Wendell John Coats Jr., Chor-yung Cheung, 2012-07-21 The Poetic Character of Human Activity is a collection of essays by two Oakeshott scholars most of which explores the meaning of Oakeshott's pregnant phrase the poetic character of human activity by comparing and contrasting this idea with similar and opposing ones in particular those of the Taoist thinker Zhuangzi Chuang Tzu and his Western interpreter A C Graham Oakeshott's deep appreciation of the poetic and non instrumental character of human activity led him to develop an interest in the works of Zhuangzi and Confucius Comparison of shared themes between Oakeshott and these two Chinese thinkers facilitates appreciation of his elegant analytic style and his resort to use of metaphors and story telling when conveying some of his most profound insights The collection also contains essays contrasting Oakeshott's idea of the creative in human experience with views of among others Plato Leo Strauss and Eric Voegelin Oakeshott used the phrase the poetic character of human activity arguably the animating center of his entire thought to refer to the creative character of human experiential reality that is to the fact that the form the how and content the what of all human experience and activity arise simultaneously and fluidly and can be separated only at the expense of theoretical coherence and practical skill The various essays in this collection explore the meaning of this claim and its ramifications for the proper role of critical intellect in especially philosophy morality learning and governance There is also some brief contrast of Oakeshott with John Rawls Alasdair MacIntyre Charles Taylor and Quentin Skinner

The Coming of Karuna Ranjee Shahani, 1934 Exploring the Old

Testament in Asia Jerry Hwang, Angukali Rotokha, 2022-11-07 Exploring the Old Testament in Asia is the first evangelical Old Testament textbook written both from and for an Asian cultural context Rooted in the theological conviction that God still speaks through the Old Testament in all its fullness the twelve essays in this book address key theological issues pertinent to the diverse cultures and contexts of Asia Touching on topics from polytheism and kinship bonds to Scripture translation and the biblical conception of wisdom the writers position themselves in conversation with Asia's rich spiritual cultural and literary heritage The result is a theological contribution that is both contextually relevant and biblically faithful The Confucian Creation of Heaven Robert Eno, 1990-06-01 Demonstrating that the relation between practice and theory in early Confucianism is highly systematic the author suggests that Confucianism represents a species of synthetic philosophy distinct from the analytical traditions of the West but equally rigorous in its attempt to disclose the foundations of understanding He illustrates how theory served as an ancillary activity expressing ethical insights derived from the systematic structure of core ritual practice and legitimizing those insights in terms of teleological model of their efficacy in creating a divinely ordained political utopia The central agenda of the early Confucians is pictured as the preservation and promotion of ritual skills and the aesthetic social perspectives they generate Metaphysical and political theory serve as practical vehicles mediating between the skill based philosophy of the early Confucian community and the changing features of the intellectual social and political environments in which that community had to survive The National Union Catalog, Pre-1956 Imprints Library of Congress, American Library Association.
