Women's Identities and Bodies in Colonial and Postcolonial History and Literature Maria Isabel Romero Ruiz, 2012-01-17

Companion Animals and Domestic Violence

Nik Taylor, Heather Fraser, 2019-02-03 In this book Nik Taylor and Heather Fraser consider how we might better understand human animal companionship in the context of domestic violence The authors advocate an intersectional feminist understanding drawing on a variety of data from numerous projects they have conducted with people about their companion animals and links between domestic violence and animal abuse arguing for a new understanding that enables animals to be constituted as victims of domestic violence in their own right The chapters analyse the mutual loving connections that can be formed across species and in households where there is domestic violence Companion Animals and Domestic Violence also speaks to the potentially soothing healing and recovery oriented aspects of human companion animal relationships before during and after the violence and will be of interest to various academic disciplines including social work anthropology sociology philosophy geography as well as to professionals working in domestic violence or animal welfare service provision

Women, Consumption and Paradox Timothy de Waal Malefyt, Maryann McCabe, 2020-04-23 Women are the world's most powerful consumers yet they are largely marketed to erroneously through misconceptions and patriarchal views that distort the reality of women's lives, bodies and work. This book examines the contradictions and mismatches between women's everyday experiences and market representations. It considers how women themselves exhibit paradoxical behaviour in both resisting and supporting conflicting messages. The volume emphasizes paradox as a form of agency and negotiation through which women develop dialogical meanings. The contributions highlight the ways in which women transform inconsistencies and contradictions in advertising and marketing, global consumption practices and material consumption into positive practices for living. The rich range of ethnographic accounts drawn from countries including the United States, Brazil, Mexico, Denmark, Japan and China provide readers with a valuable perspective on consumer behaviour.

Theory and Method Mel Churton, Anne Brown, 2017-09-16 Knowledge of theory is essential to study but it often seems quite abstract and distant from the real world. Research methods, on the other hand, are strategies that allow us to gather evidence from the people around us to help explain social phenomena. This book explores these two key areas and shows new sociologists how they can understand, appreciate and use both theory and method. Written with student needs firmly in mind, this new edition begins by exploring the most important theories and debates that are essential to understanding sociology. It then goes on to examine the concepts, techniques and trends in research methods and explains how these link back to theory. Whilst continuing to cover traditional ideas, debates and methodologies, the book has also been updated to address recent thinking and research techniques. It explains how sociologists have responded to contemporary developments in sociology, including postmodernist views on science and introduces contemporary research techniques such as cyberethnography. Exploring the basics of quantitative and qualitative methods and explaining how to choose the right method, the book combines practical and theoretical coverage throughout. Part of the Skills Based Sociology series, Theory and Method continues to encourage an active approach to learning. Each chapter uses a variety of tasks, activities and practice questions that promote critical thinking and develop interpretation, analysis and evaluation skills. It is an invaluable guide for those learning about theory and research for the first time.

The Family Liz Steel, Warren Kidd, Anne Brown, 2012-05-01 Family structures have become increasingly diverse over recent decades. Examining contemporary theory alongside key terms and concepts, this new edition explores issues of intimacy, parenting, cohabitation and media representations. This book provides an in-depth look at the role of the family in society for all students of sociology.

Sporty Girls Sheryl Clark, 2021-03-01 This book engages with the ongoing question of why many girls stop doing sport and physical activity in their teenage years. Previous research has found that many girls disengage from sport, taking place despite their childhood enjoyment, and that frequently these same women take up sport again as adults. Within these chapters, Sheryl Clark explores what it is about this period of time that persuades many girls to disengage from sports when their male peers continue to take part why some girls continue to take part and most importantly how girls understand this participation She suggests that girls participation in sport should be viewed as part of their ongoing constructions of successful girlhood within a competitive schooling system and broader socioeconomic context Genderwashing in Leadership Rita A. Gardiner, Wendy Fox-Kirk, Carole J. Elliott, Valerie Stead, 2024-08-28

International scholars from diverse areas such as leadership organizational studies sociology and education explore how genderwashing occurs from various perspectives including leadership power and privilege identity and career recruitment and selection Gender and Education Barbara J. Bank, 2007-09-30 In this two volume set educators explore the intersection of gender and education Their entries deal with educational theories research curricula practices personnel and policies but also with variations in the gendering of education across historical and cultural contexts The various contributors discuss gender as a social construction The latest research on boys and masculinities as well as girls and feminism is included The entries in this work cover the breadth of topics related to gender and education They provide reference information on the history and condition of gender and education from elementary to high school Entries cover such topics as alternative schools historically black colleges and universities in the United States military colleges and academies private and public single sex and co educational schools literacy mathematics achievement women s centers teacher interactions with girls and boys affirmative action in U S higher education sororities and fraternities educator sexual misconduct expectations of teachers for boys and girls heterosexism and homophobia bullying harassment and violence among students salaries of male and female educators school choice and gender equity disabled students and gender equity Title IX and school sports black feminism womanism and queer theory Identity and Capitalism Marie Moran, 2014-11-13

This is a splendid book that dispels myths about identity and presents a cultural materialist case for the study of such keywords and their preoccupations under the hegemony of neoliberal capitalism Professor Jim McGuigan Loughborough University Identity particularly as it is elaborated in the associated categories of personal and social identity is a relatively novel concept in western thought politics and culture The explosion of interest in the notion of identity across popular political and academic domains of practice since the 1960s does not represent the simple popularisation of an older term as is widely assumed but rather the invention of an idea Identity and Capitalism explores the emergence and evolution of the idea of identity in the cultural political and social contexts of contemporary capitalist societies Against the common supposition that identity always mattered this book shows that what we now think of routinely as personal identity actually only emerged with the explosion of consumption in the late twentieth century It also makes the case that what we now think of as different social and political identities only came to be framed as such with the emergence of identity politics and new social movements in the political landscapes of capitalist societies in the 60s and 70s Marie Moran provides an important new exploration of the articulation of the idea of identity to the social logic of capitalism from the organised capitalism of the mid twentieth century up to and including the neoliberal capitalism that prevails today Drawing on the work of Raymond Williams the cultural materialist approach developed here provides an original means of addressing the political debates about the value of identity in contemporary capitalist societies
