Morgan, 2000-11-09

Established in 1955 as a private advocacy group the American Friends of Vietnam worked to influence U S attitudes and policies toward Vietnam for nearly two decades AFV members wrote articles gave speeches sponsored aid drives and forged ties with journalists academics and government officials in an effort to generate American assistance for South Vietnam In The Vietnam Lobby Joseph Morgan shifts the focus away from the much examined antiwar demonstrations that took place in America to concentrate instead on the actions of those who endorsed U S intervention in Vietnam Drawing on a wide range of documentary sources Morgan presents a comprehensive study of the AFV and its activities He traces the group s establishment and growth examines its internal organization and politics and ultimately evaluates its effectiveness in guiding government policy and public opinion Morgan also assesses the charges of antiwar critics who claimed the AFV exerted an excessive perhaps disastrous influence in shaping America s Vietnam policy Finally he offers insights into the thinking of those who believed that the United States had the unique ability even the obligation to help shape Vietnam s future Originally published in 1997 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value

Brother, Can You Spare a Dime? Sondra Gorney, 2005-08-25 Throughout his lifetime Gorney wrote hundreds of popular songs for theater film and television In addition to composing Gorney also produced films and was a distinguished writer and teacher This memoir by Jay s wife of more than forty five years chronicles the life of one of American music s most prolific and respected composers whose humanity kindness and courage triumphed over adversity From Gorney s childhood in Russia to his many stage and screen successes from his blacklist in the 1950s to his 1962 Tony Award Brother Can You Spare a Dime is a tribute to this accomplished artist BOOK JACKET Historic Real Estate Whitney Martinko, 2020-05-15 A detailed study of early historical preservation efforts between the 1780s and the 1850s In Historic Real Estate Whitney Martinko shows how Americans in the fledgling United States pointed to evidence of the past in the world around them and debated whether and how to preserve historic structures as permanent features of the new nation s landscape From Indigenous mounds in the Ohio Valley to Independence Hall in Philadelphia from Benjamin Franklin s childhood home in Boston to St Philip s Episcopal Church in Charleston South Carolina from Dutch colonial manors of the Hudson Valley to Henry Clay s Kentucky estate early advocates of preservation strove not only to place boundaries on competitive real estate markets but also to determine what should not be for sale how consumers should behave and how certain types of labor should be valued Before historic preservation existed as we know it today many Americans articulated eclectic and sometimes contradictory definitions of architectural preservation to work out practical strategies for defining the relationship between public good and private profit In arguing for the preservation of houses of worship and Indigenous earthworks for example some invoked the public interest of their stewards to strengthen corporate control of these collective spaces

Meanwhile businessmen and political partisans adopted preservation of commercial sites to create opportunities for and limits on individual profit in a growing marketplace of goods And owners of old houses and ancestral estates developed methods of preservation to reconcile competing demands for the seclusion of and access to American homes to shape the ways that capitalism affected family economies In these ways individuals harnessed preservation to garner political economic and social profit from the performance of public service Ultimately Martinko argues by portraying the problems of the real estate market as social rather than economic advocates of preservation affirmed a capitalist system of land development by promising to make it moral

The Dream That Died Raymond Fitzwalter, 2008 This title presents a unique insider account of the rise and fall of ITV as seen through the fate of Granada Television and the ripple effect on the standard of broadcasting we see on our screens today It is the unfolding of the story of 25 years in which The best broadcasting system in the world was turned into Ignorance and self interest the idiocy and feeble mindedness that is 21st century ITV It is a book based on more than 90 exclusive interviews with key players who had their hands on the money and the power behind commercial television but who saw politicians businessmen and broadcasters convert high quality public service broadcasting into a ratings driven commercial wasteland undermining the BBC and Channel 4 Accompanied by a collection of original photographs The Dream That Died is essential for anyone involved in or learning about the broadcasting industry
