Visions and Revelations J. T.

Dean,2015-07-06 Excerpt from Visions and Revelations Discourses on the Apocalypse Few books of the New Testament have so appealed to the imagination and heart of the Church as the Revelation of St John In every age the Apocalypse has had its careful students who have sought to interpret its imagery and explain its message These writers have for the most part been anxious chiefly to shew the application of the Book to the circumstances of their own time and it is not to be denied that the results of their ingenious toil have been often fantastic enough Yet they have not erred in believing that the Visions of Patmos have a new significance for every age Their mistake has been their failure sometimes to recognise that the pictures and sayings of the Apocalypse had an immediate contemporary meaning and were directly addressed to men and women who had to live the Christian life under the conditions that prevailed in the Roman Province of Asia at the close of the first century of our era About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
