The Apostolic Fathers and the New Testament Clayton N. Jefford, 2006-08-01 Selected for inclusion in Preaching magazine's Annual Review of Outstanding Books for Preachers 2006 The apostolic fathers were authors of nonbiblical church writings of the first and early second centuries These works are important because their authors Clement I Hermas Ignatius of Antioch Polycarp and the author of the Epistle of Barnabas were contemporaries of the biblical writers Expressing pastoral concern their writings are similar in style to the New Testament Some of their writings in fact were venerated as Scripture before the official canon was decided The Apostolic Fathers and the New Testament provides a comparison of the apostolic fathers and the New Testament that is at once comprehensive and accessible What genres letters miracle stories etc appear in what ways What apostolic fathers seem to reflect which passages in the New Testament What themes appear in both bodies of literature How did the apostolic fathers adopt and adapt images from the New Testament How do the New Testament and the Apostolic Fathers contribute to our understanding of how early Christians understood themselves in relation to the mother faith of Judaism Any attempt to compare the Apostolic Fathers and the New Testament faces the difficulty that each set of writings represents diverse authors and historical contexts within the early church As a result scholars who work in the field have typically restricted their research to individual authors and writings Thus it has been difficult to come to any general observations about the larger corpus After carefully examining images themes and concepts found in the New Testament and the apostolic fathers Jefford posits some general observations and insights about the beliefs of the early church

The Doctrine of Grace in the Apostolic Fathers Thomas F. Torrance, 1996-12-03 T F Torrance aims in this book to discover how and why there came about in the early history of the Christian Church the enormous difference that exists between the faith of the New Testament and that of the second and third centuries He explores how the concept of grace is distinctively characteristic of every doctrine of the New Testament and yet at the same time is the most sensitive to change

THE APOSTOLIC FATHERS Kirsopp Lake, 2020-03-03 The Apostolic Fathers were core Christian theologians among the Church Fathers who lived in the 1st and 2nd centuries A D who are believed to have personally known some of the Twelve Apostles or to have been significantly influenced by them Their writings though widely circulated in Early Christianity were not included in the canon of the New Testament Many of the writings derive from the same time period and geographical location as other works of early Christian literature which came to be part of the New Testament Some of the writings found among the Apostolic Fathers appear to have been as highly regarded as some of the writings which became the New Testament These writers include Clement of Rome Ignatius Polycarp Hermas Barnabas Papias and the anonymous authors of the Didach Teaching of the Twelve Apostles Letter to Diognetus Letter of Barnabas and the Martyrdom of Polycarp Not everything written by the Apostolic Fathers is considered to be equally valuable theologically but taken as a whole their writings are more valuable historically than any other Christian literature outside the New Testament They provide a bridge between it and the more fully developed Christianity of the late 2nd century The Apostolic Fathers ,1962 The Christology in the Apostolic Fathers Alonzo Rosecrans Stark,1912
