The Painted Faades Of Florence Xv To Xix Centuries:

The Painted Façades of Florence Eleonora Pecchioli, 2005 This is the first book published in forty years featuring the painted fa ades of Florentine palaces A topic of enormous interest since Florence is one of the most visited and admired cities in the world The Painted Facades of Florence XV to XIX Centuries is the result of thorough research revealing that the historical circumstances that lead local families to decorate the fa ades of their residences as well as providing a description of the various decorative techniques Lavishly illustrated in colour this volume includes a significant amount of previously unpublished photographic archival material Most of the new photographs were especially commissioned An important book not only for architects art historians and decorative arts specialists but for all those who have visited and loved Florence 227 colour 21 b w illustrations

The Frescoed Façade in Renaissance Roman Visual Culture Alexis Culotta, 2025-10-01 This book examines Roman fa ades decorated with fresco and sgraffito between the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries that once enveloped the central rioni of Rome within a web of symbolic social political and familial allegiances that transformed a street side stroll into a visually engaging experience Today many of these faces are lost and our understanding of what they comprised is frighteningly incomplete This book offers a refreshed look at this often forgotten facet of Renaissance visual culture to reignite interest in the tradition before its last remnants disappear In addition to offering a new compilation of these documented fa ades this book also places new emphasis on the making and meaning of these painted faces to provide new insights into the place of the decorated fa ade at the intersections of patron identity and painterly innovation in a city working tirelessly to reinvent itself [Florence and Tuscany.
