The Short Story Anthology and Women's Writing Aleix Tura Vecino, 2025-08-14 Hundreds of anthologies of women's short stories have appeared in the literary market between the 1970s and now This publishing and cultural phenomenon is considered for the first time in this book which argues that during this period anthologies have become a literary technology used not only to make visible female short story writers but also to think about and mould ideas of womanhood Through creative and contextualised

readings of the most important anthologies produced in this period this study shows that this literary form has contributed to and in some cases pioneered key developments in gender theory and feminist thought including questions of political combination among women which underlie contemporary global movements such as MeToo In doing so the book also develops the first book length conceptualisation of the features and meaning making mechanisms of the short story anthology as a literary form This book will benefit academics and students working in the fields of short fiction publishing and women s studies as well as feminist scholars and a growing number of specialists interested in the anthology as a literary form worldwide

Colonial Australian Women Poets Katie Hansord,2021-01-08 My book traces the significant poetic and political contributions made by non canonical women poets situating women s poetry both in colonial Australian print culture and in wider imperial and transnational contexts Women poets in colonial Australia have tended to be represented as marginal and isolated figures or absent This study intervenes by demonstrating an alternative networked tradition of transnational feminist poetics and politics beyond and around emergent masculine nationalism particularly within newspapers and periodical print culture Without the inclusion of periodical literature women s poetry in Australia during the colonial period would appear to have been fairly limited When periodical literature is taken into account this picture is radically altered and poets emerge as consistent contributors often across a variety of newspapers and journals who were well known influential and connected with political figures and literary circles In examining this poetry in the original context of the newspapers and journals the political intervention and the reception of that poetry is made much more apparent

Crabtracks ,2021-12-28 The essays in this collection celebrate the signal achievement of Dieter Riemenschneider in helping found and consolidate the study of postcolonial anglophone literatures in Germany and Europe As well as poems a short story drawings of the Indian scene the first and abiding focus of this scholar s work and letters of reminiscence one quite grave there are revealing contributions of a literary historical nature on the establishment of anglophone especially African literatures as an academic discipline within Germany the UK and Northern Europe generally as well as a group of searching reflections on such topics of postcolonial import as globalization and the applicability of models to the literature of the indigene in Canada and Australia The largest section is devoted to individual topics each treatment implicitly keyed to approaches to the teaching of New Literatures texts Writers covered include Anita Desai landscape and memory Salman Rushdie painting in The Moor s Last Sigh Charlotte Bront imperial discourse in Jane Eyre Derek Walcott Omeros and cultural cohabitation and Witi Ihimaera his rewriting of Katherine Mansfield Topics dealt with include music and radio in West Africa the African literary hit parade the New Zealand prose poem Canadian and Australian war fiction the Middle Passage in the American and Caribbean novel Paul Theroux s uneasy relations with V S Naipaul and the colonial discourse of illness and recuperation The volume closes with Dieter Riemenschneider s very first and most recent critical essays the one a classic on Mulk Raj Anand the other a challenging and doubtless controversial thesis on postcolonial minority writing A select bibliography of Riemenschneider's work books edited publications journal articles and book contributions reviews and broadcasts rounds off this substantial collection     An Unsettled Spirit Terry Sturm, 2003 Under the name of G B Lancaster Edith Lyttleton wrote over a dozen novels and some 250 short stories mostly narratives of romance and adventure set in the remote back country of New Zealand Australia and Canada This book is a fascinating account of the harsh experience of a gifted woman writer forced to earn her own living but struggling to move beyond the limits of potboilers to more serious work     Peripheral Fear Gerry Turcotte, 2009 This is a pioneering work published here for the first time in its complete form At a time when Gothic studies still concentrated on traditional European and American Gothic the author laid the foundations for the exploration of how Gothic conventions were transported and transformed in places remote from Europe Through a detailed reading of 19th and 20th century examples of Canadian and Australian Gothic fiction this work demonstrates the transformative potential of a once much maligned mode in what were arguably neglected national literatures     De-Scribing Empire Alan Lawson, Chris Tiffin, 2002-03-11 De-Scribing Empire is a stunning collection of first class essays Collectively they examine the formative role of books writing and textuality in imperial control and the fashioning of colonial world views The volume as a whole puts forward strategies for understanding and neutralising that control and as such is a major contribution to the field It will be invaluable for students in post colonialist criticism
