The Penguin Of International Womens Stories:

The Penguin Book of International Women's Stories Kate Figes, 1997 The Penguin Book of International Women's Stories brings together a vast array of writing from women around the world These stories mirror the changes and expectations of women's lives everywhere and reflect the diversity of their experience

A Space of Her Own Leela Gulati, Jasodhara Bagchi, 2005-05 Several books have been written about the position of women in India's patriarchal society This collection of twelve narratives however focuses not so much on women's subservient position vis a vis men but on women's relations with each other With the authors locating their personal struggles within those of three generations of women in their families these narratives span a period of over a 100 years and intersect both the private and public domains Each narrative in A Space of Her Own is a tale of how the author fought to establish her own personhood and create a sphere of autonomy where she is able to make decisions to nurture herself and those around her It is stories such as these the editors argue which when repeated over generations will inspire women to live with dignity and to create and defend lives for themselves their families and the women who follow them

Reading Circles, Novels and Adult Reading Development Sam Duncan, 2012-02-23 Adult literacy teachers are constantly searching for effective engaging and distinctly adult ways to develop adult emergent reading and for at least the past two hundred years adults have formed themselves into reading circles to read and discuss novels on a weekly or monthly basis Why then are reading circles rarely used or studied in formal adult literacy provision This book explores adult reading development novel reading and reading circles in the context of a wider examination of reading pedagogies and practices in the English speaking world It discusses reading as both an individual and a communal act and investigates the relationship between literature and literacy development practice and pedagogy including a reassessment of the controversial approaches of reading aloud and phonics for adults Sam Duncan reviews a case study of an adult reading circle in a large London further education college and identifies the wider implications for the teaching and learning of adult emergent reading for the use and understanding of reading circles and for how we understand the novel reading experience more broadly

Understanding Lorrie Moore Alison Kelly, 2009 The first book length critical approach to the fiction of the award winning author of Birds of America Understanding Lorrie Moore is a comprehensive companion to the works of this wickedly humorous writer whose fiction shows a deep sensitivity to the dynamics of contemporary gender relations and an abiding interest in portraying and critiquing the American national character The recipient of the 1998 O Henry Award and the 2004 Rea Award for the Short Story Lorrie Moore is best known for her short fiction Alison Kelly shows that Moore's virtuosic prose wry humor and sense of irony are tools for registering how Americans face the discomfort of their daily lives as individuals and as a nation Kelly traces Moore's emergence as a writer in the 1980s and her artistic development up to the present day illuminating the distinctive narrative methods aesthetics and thematic preoccupations of Moore's major works Kelly follows Moore's recurrent characters situations metaphors and motifs in order to promote understanding of the texts and appreciation for their wordplay wit and imagery Viewing her subject as a subtly political writer Kelly discusses Moore's major themes techniques and stylistics as evidence that her characters' private pains are symptomatic of a wider national malaise

A Study Guide for Lorrie Moore's "You're Ugly, Too" Gale, Cengage Learning, The Short Story Anthology and Women's Writing Aleix Tura Vecino, 2025-08-14

Hundreds of anthologies of women's short stories have appeared in the literary market between the 1970s and now This publishing and cultural phenomenon is considered for the first time in this book which argues that during this period anthologies have become a literary technology used not only to make visible female short story writers but also to think about and mould ideas of womanhood Through creative and contextualised readings of the most important anthologies produced in this period this study shows that this literary form has contributed to and in some cases pioneered key developments in gender theory and feminist thought including questions of political combination among women which underlie contemporary global movements such as MeToo In doing so the book also develops the first book length conceptualisation of the features and meaning making mechanisms of the short story anthology as a literary form This book will benefit academics and students working in the fields of short fiction publishing and women's studies as well as feminist scholars and a growing number of specialists interested in the anthology as a literary form worldwide

Contemporary Chinese Fiction Writers Laifong Leung, 2016-07-28

In the years since the death of Mao Zedong interest in Chinese writers and Chinese literature has risen significantly in the West In 2000 Gao Xingjian became the first Chinese writer to receive the Nobel Prize for Literature followed by Mo Yan in 2012 and writers such as Ha Jin and Da Sijie have also become well known in the West. Despite this progress, the vast majority of Chinese writers remain largely unknown outside of China. This book introduces the lives and works of eighty contemporary Chinese writers and focuses on writers from the Rightist generation (Bai Hua, Gao Xiaosheng, Liu Shaotang), writers of the Red Guard generation (Li Rui, Wang Anyi), Post-Cultural Revolution Writers, as well as others. Unlike earlier works, it provides detailed, often first-hand biographical information on this wide range of writers, including their career trajectories, major themes, and artistic characteristics. In addition to this, each entry includes a critical presentation and evaluation of the writer's major works, a selected bibliography of publications that includes works in Chinese, works translated into English, and critical articles and books available in English. Offering a valuable contribution to the field of contemporary Chinese literature by making detailed information about Chinese writers more accessible, this book will be of interest to students and scholars. Chinese Literature: Contemporary Literature and Chinese Studies International Who's Who in Poetry 2005 Europa Publications, 2004. Provides up-to-date profiles on the careers of leading and emerging poets.

Latin American Women Writers Kathy S. Leonard, 2007-09-19. There is a wealth of published literature in English by Latin American women writers, but such material can be difficult to locate due to the lack of available bibliographic resources. In addition, the various types of published narrative (short stories, novels, novellas, autobiographies, and biographies) by Latin American women writers has increased significantly in the last ten to fifteen years. To address the lack of bibliographic resources, Kathy Leonard has compiled Latin American Women Writers: A Resource Guide to Titles in English. This reference includes all forms of narrative (short story, autobiography, novel, novel excerpt, and others) by Latin American women dating from 1898 to 2007. More than 3,000 individual titles are included by more than 500 authors. This includes nearly 200 anthologies, more than 100 autobiographies, biographies, or other narrative, and almost 250 novels written by more than 100 authors from 16 different countries. For the purposes of this bibliography, authors who were born in Latin America and either continue to live there or have immigrated to the United States are included. Also, titles of pieces are listed as originally written in either Spanish or Portuguese. If the book was originally written in English, a phrase to that effect is included to better reflect the linguistic diversity of narrative currently being published. This volume contains seven indexes: Authors by Country of Origin, Authors' Titles of Work, Titles of Work, Authors' Autobiographies, Biographies, and Other Narrative Anthologies, Novels, and Novellas in Alphabetical Order by Author, and Novels and Novellas by Authors' Country of Origin. Reflecting the increase in literary production and the facilitation of materials, this volume contains a comprehensive listing of narrative pieces in English by Latin American women writers not found in any other single volume currently on the market. This work of reference will be of special interest to scholars, students, and instructors interested in narrative. Blood Stories Janet Lee, Jennifer Sasser-Coen, 2015-12-22. Blood Stories focuses on menarche as a central aspect of body politics in contemporary US society, emphasizing that women are integrated into the social and sexual order through the body. Using oral and written narratives of 104 diverse women the authors address the central question of how menarche as a bodily event signifying womanhood takes on cultural significance in a society that devalues women Exploring issues of contamination and concealment and the sexualization of women's bodies that occurs at menarche the authors emphasize how the politics of gender are negotiated on through women's bodies

American Book Publishing Record ,1997 Aboriginal Peoples, Colonialism and International Law Irene

Watson,2014-10-17 This work is the first to assess the legality and impact of colonisation from the viewpoint of Aboriginal law rather than from that of the dominant Western legal tradition It begins by outlining the Aboriginal legal system as it is embedded in Aboriginal people s complex relationship with their ancestral lands This is Raw Law a natural system of obligations and benefits flowing from an Aboriginal ontology This book places Raw Law at the centre of an analysis of colonisation thereby decentring the usual analytical tendency to privilege the dominant structures and concepts of Western law From the perspective of Aboriginal law colonisation was a violation of the code of political and social conduct embodied in Raw Law Its effects were damaging It forced Aboriginal peoples to violate their own principles of natural responsibility to self community country and future existence But this book is not simply a work of mourning Most profoundly it is a celebration of the resilience of Aboriginal ways and a call for these to be recognised as central in discussions of colonial and postcolonial legality Written by an experienced legal practitioner scholar and political activist Aboriginal Peoples Colonialism and International Law Raw Law will be of interest to students and researchers of Indigenous Peoples Rights International Law and Critical Legal Theory Introduction to Conflict Resolution Sara Cobb,Sarah Federman,Alison Castel,2019-07-02

The field of conflict resolution has evolved dramatically during the relatively short duration of the discipline s existence Each generation of scholars has struggled with the major puzzles of their era providing theories and solutions that meet the needs of the time only to be pushed forward by new insights and at times totally upended by a changing world This introductory course text explores the genealogy of the field of conflict resolution by examining three different epochs of the field each one tied to the historical context and events of the day In each of these epochs scholars and practitioners worked to understand and address the conflicts that the world was facing at that time This book provides a framework that students will carry with them far into their careers enriching their contributions and strengthening their voices Rather than a didactic approach to the field students will develop their critical analytical skills through an inductive inquiry Students will broaden their vocabulary grapple with argumentation and develop critical reading skills
