Stroke-Vascular Diseases W.Wolfgang Fleischhacker,David J. Brooks,2013-12-01 Atherosclerosis the underlying cause of heart attacks strokes and peripheral vascular disease is one of the major killers in the world By 2020 WHO statistics indicate that it will be the most common cause of morbidity and mortality in both the industrialised world and the underdeveloped world The disease develops slowly over many years in the innermost layer of large and medium sized arteries Fig 1 Scott 1995 Ross 1999 Naumova and Scott 2000 Glass and Witztum 2001 Libby 2001 It does not usually become manifest before the fourth or fifth decade but then often strikes with devastating suddenness Fifty per cent of individuals still die 25 per cent immediately from their first heart attack and morbidity from coronary heart disease and stroke is very significant The disease has a profound impact on health care services and on industrial economies The lesions of atherosclerosis Autopsy studies show that in humans atherosclerosis begins in the first and second decade of life A similar disease can be produced in experimental animals where diet and genetics can be manipulated to produce identical lesions The earliest lesions are fatty streaks These consist of an accumulation of lipid engorged macrophages foam cells and T and B lymphocytes in the arterial intima With time the fatty streaks progress to intermediate lesions composed of foam cells and smooth muscle cells

Therapeutic Angiogenesis for Vascular Diseases Mark Slevin,2010-10-11 Angiogenesis is the growth of new blood vessels and is a key process which occurs during pathological disease progression Excessive and damaging angiogenesis occurs in diseases such as cancer diabetic retinopathies age related macular degeneration and atherosclerosis In other diseases such as stroke and myocardial infarction insufficient or improper angiogenesis results in tissue loss and ultimately higher morbidity and mortality In this book we will begin by providing the reader with an overview of the process of angiogenesis including normal embryological development of blood vessels The following chapters will each focus on a key angiogenic disease incorporating current scientific knowledge concerning the causes of activation of the angiogenic switch pathological consequences current treatment options and future perspectives Where appropriate results from pre clinical trials novel imaging modalities and nanotechnological approaches will be incorporated into these sections Finally since it is now believed that the process of angiogenesis operated via different signalling mechanisms in different vascular beds we will discuss our current understanding of this phenomenon The target audience for this book would include researchers in all the basic sciences post graduate students at Universities and Institutes pharmaceutical industries clinicians working in vascular biology or tissue imaging pathologists neurologists tumour biologists ophthalmologists and cardiologists

Cardiovascular Diseases Related to Diabetes and Obesity, volume V Ying Xin, 2025-09-18 Given the success of the previous collection Cardiovascular Diseases Related to Diabetes and Obesity Volume IV and the new advances in the field we are pleased to announce the launch of Volume V The dramatic increase in the prevalence of diabetes obesity and metabolic syndrome worldwide has seriously threatened human health since its associated complications cause high morbidity and mortality Among the complications cardiovascular diseases are the predominant component Although various controls for blood glucose and blood pressure are applied patients with diabetes or obesity and associated metabolic syndromes are still at high risk of developing various cardiovascular diseases nephropathy retinopathy neuropathy skin disorders and male infertility Therefore we need to understand the mechanisms underlying the pathogenesis of these complications in order to develop more effective therapies to prevent or slow down the progression of diabetic or metabolic syndrome complications One of the underlying mechanisms for these cardiovascular diseases is oxidative stress a critical role in the pathogenesis of diabetic complications Diabetes induced overproduction of mitochondrial superoxide leads to a series of detrimental cellular events including the increased formation of advanced glycation end products AGEs increased expression of the receptor for

AGEs RAGE and activation of protein kinase C isoforms the polyol pathway and the hexosamine pathway These effects consequently result in pathological remodeling of the end organs and their dysfunction Hence targeting diabetes induced oxidative stress has attracted much research interest in recent years
