Miles,2005-06-28 The team of authors including academics from all five main Nordic countries provides an authoritative assessment of the intricate relationship between the EU and the Nordic countries Nordic Welfare States in the European Context Johan Fritzell,Bjorn Hvinden,Mikko Kautto,Jon Kvist,Hannu Uusitalo,2005-07-28 This important sequel to Nordic Social Policy Routledge 1999 compares welfare state development over the last twenty years in Denmark Finland Norway and Sweden with that of Germany the Netherlands the United Kingdom and other Western European countries Topics covered include income distribution health inequalities and gender equality gender policies health and social care services and policy reaction to family changes social security and employment policies financing of welfare states In the context of globalisation ageing populations changing employment patterns and rising inequalities Nordic Welfare States in the European Context offers an empirical analysis of welfare adaptations and a lively discussion of the historical development of European social policy It finds a greater ambiguity regarding variation and trends than is commonly suggested Contrary to expectation there is little evidence of the Europeanisation of Nordic welfare states rather the reverse The comparable and empirical data used in this study make it a unique contribution to understanding current trends in European social policy

The Peregrine Profession Per-Olof Grönberg, 2018-11-26 In The Peregrine Profession Per Olof Grönberg offers an account of the pre 1930 transnational mobility of engineers and architects educated in the Nordic countries 1880 1919 Outlining a system where learning mobility was more important than labour market mobility the author shows that more than every second graduate went abroad Transnational mobility was stronger from Finland and Norway than from Denmark and Sweden partly because of slower industrialisation and deficiencies in the domestic technical education This mobility included all parts of the world but concentrated on the leading industrial countries in German speaking Europe and North America Significant majorities returned and became agents of technology transfer and technical change Thereby these mobile graduates also became important for Nordic industrialisation

Social Structure, Value Orientations and Party Choice in Western Europe Oddbjørn Knutsen, 2017-07-24 This book analyses the impact of socio structural variables such as social class religion urban rural residence age and gender on influencing an individual's voting preferences There have been major changes in recent decades both to social structure and how social structure determines people's voting behaviour There has also been a shift in value orientations for example from religious to secular values and from more authoritarian to libertarian values The author addresses the questions How do social structure and value orientations influence party choice in advanced industrial democracies To what extent is the impact of social structure on party choice transmitted via value orientations To what extent is the impact of value orientations on party choice causal effects when controlled for the prior structural variables The book will be of use to advanced students and scholars in the fields of comparative politics electoral politics and political sociology Digital Transformations of Traditional Work in the Nordic Countries Rolandsson, Bertil, Alasoini, Tuomo, Berglund, Tomas, Dølvik, Jon Erik, 2020-11-19 Available online <https://pub.norden.org/temanord2020/540> This report aims to go behind narratives of digitalization as a uniform force of disruption job destruction and revolutionary change at work and convey a nuanced picture of digitalization played out at ordinary Nordic workplaces in traditional sectors of work The report is explorative and the findings preliminary but the picture emerging is nevertheless sobering Findings show how digitalization in important sectors of Nordic labour markets are marked by gradual adaptation rather than paradigmatic disruptive change The connection between digital technologies and the organization of work emerges as a two way relationship where institutions and politics still matter Our empirical observations also suggest that the actors in the Nordic model of work are able to continue to influence this relationship in ways that appear to be compatible with the modus operandi of the model New Nordic Peace: Nordic Peace and Conflict Resolution Efforts Hagemann, Anine, Bramsen, Isabel, 2019-04-09 For a long time the Nordic countries have been a region of peace with the ability to resolve conflicts peacefully among themselves and a region for peace actively promoting peace globally Although efforts to actively brand the Nordic region are ongoing the Nordic Peace brand is an area with untapped potential The Nordics have rich traditions for working together on peace and conflict resolution These joint efforts have grown organically and informally from like mindedness letting the common Nordic culture and ways of working foster integration among them where relevant The people working in the Nordic countries on Nordic cooperation and peace recognize the potential of strengthening the Nordic Peace brand One area of special potential is increasing focus on the shared Nordic priorities of prevention and the women peace and security agenda as part of the Nordic Peace brand Integrating Immigrants into the Nordic Labour Markets: The impact of the COVID-19 pandemic Sánchez Gassen, Nora, Penje, Oskar, Bratsberg, Bernt, Raaum, Oddbjörn, Roed, Knut, Skedinger, Per, Åslund, Olof, 2021-09-23 Available online <https://pub.norden.org/nord2021/050> Nordic countries have been affected by the Covid 19 pandemic which has taken a substantial toll on economic growth and employment level Immigrants may have been disproportionately affected even though Denmark Finland Norway and Sweden already face serious challenges in integrating immigrants into their labour markets for several years This report aims to make a contribution to further research into the consequences of the pandemic European Peace Movements and the Future of the Western Alliance Walter Laqueur, 2017-09-08 This extraordinary compendium concerns the future of the Western alliance and the development of the peace movements in Europe and in the United States The peace movement is an old phenomenon given new life by NATO decisions concerning nuclear deployment in Europe and the Soviet responses along the same lines After a long postwar marriage Europeans and Americans alike are reexamining the premises of the Western alliance The contributors provide a variety of scenarios extending from the maintenance of the status quo to the complete dismantling of the Western alliance or at least of its NATO component In a context of rapid change and new challenges to the democratic bloc the editors and authors argue for higher levels of economic integration and caution that competition might spill over into political collapse The work deals with thorny security issues in a frank and policy oriented way While each contributor expresses a unique standpoint a surprising consensus emerges The need for democratic nations to move toward a higher policy ground in order to preserve the fundamental alliance that led to the postwar consensus to begin with Some contributors feel this is still possible others that the time has passed and that national rather than regional interests will once more prevail The work contains an extraordinary array of talent from both the American and European perspectives Among the major contributors and their themes are Henry Kissinger on A Plan to Reshape NATO William G Hyland on The European Peace Movement and NATO Irving Kristol on What s Wrong with NATO Theodore Draper on The Western Misalliance Niels Haagerup on The Nordic Peace Movements Martin Ceadel on The British Nuclear Disarmers and Jeffrey Herf on The SPD and the Peace Movement in West Germany This is a well integrated text with no random essays
