Structures Of Feeling:

Structures of Feeling Devika Sharma, Frederik Tygstrup, 2015-03-05 Raymond Williams coined the notion structure of feeling in the 1970s to facilitate a historical understanding of affective elements of consciousness and relationships Since then the need to understand emotions moods and atmospheres as historical and social phenomena has only become more acute in an era of social networking ubiquitous media and a public sphere permeated by commodities and advertisement culture Concomitantly affect studies have become one of the most thriving branches of contemporary humanities and social sciences This volume explores the significance of the study of affectivity for already thriving fields of cultural analysis such as media studies memory studies gender studies and cultural studies at large The volume is divided into four sections The first part Producing Affect brings together contributions which explore some of the ways in which new media works to produce and intensify affectivity The essays making up the second part Affective Pasts explore the significance of affect to the ways we remember commemorate and in other ways get hold of things in our recent and not so recent past or fail to do so The essays engage the affective production of presence in contexts such as 9 11 the emotional culture of the eighteenth century and literary auto fiction The third part Affective Thinking examines various concepts theories and forms of thinking not so much to show how the thinking in question may inform the field of affect studies but rather in order to draw attention to the way in which these modes of thinking are themselves already attuned to matters of affect New social relations and ways of being in a networked world are the common themes of the essays in the final part of the volume Circulating Affect

Structures of Feeling in Seventeenth-Century Cultural Expression Susan McClary, 2013-03-04 Between the waning of the Renaissance and the beginning of the Enlightenment many fundamental aspects of human behaviour from expressions of gender to the experience of time underwent radical changes While some of these transformations were recorded in words others have survived in non verbal cultural media notably the visual arts poetry theatre music and dance Structures of Feeling in Seventeenth Century Cultural Expression explores how artists made use of these various cultural forms to grapple with human values in the increasingly heterodox world of the 1600s Essays from prominent historians musicologists and art critics examine methods of non verbal cultural expression through the broad themes of time motion the body and global relations Together they show that seventeenth century cultural expression was more than just an embryonic stage within Western artistic development Instead the contributors argue that this period marks some of the most profound changes in European subjectivities Fascism, the War, and Structures of Feeling in Italy, 1943-1945 Simonetta

Falasca-Zamponi, 2023-05-23 On July 25 1943 news of Mussolini's resignation and subsequent arrest stunned Italians leaving them dumbfounded After two decades fascism had fallen without any advance warning As festive events marked the incredible outcome and reminders of the past were destroyed an uncontrollable joy seemed to pervade Italians But what did people actually celebrate How did they understand the bygone dictatorship which was soon to be reincarnated in the Italian Social Republic RSI Drawing on more than one hundred diaries written by ordinary citizens and some prominent figures as well and inspired by Raymond Williams's concept of structures of feeling the book examines Italians' perspectives on fascism at a very critical moment in their history With the country mired in a devastating war further complicated by the September 8 1943 armistice with the Allies and subsequent German occupation followed by the eruption of an Italian against Italian conflict the switching of alliances and the declaration of war against Germany on October 13 1943 the fast pace of history seemed to deflect Italians' attention from their immediate past Amidst the daily experience of bombings hunger displacement and death coming to terms with twenty years of dictatorship turned out to be an arduous enterprise Whether those who had lived under the fascist regime wished not to think of it and not to speak any more about it as philosopher Benedetto Croce maintained it is hard to ascertain In truth little is known of what Italians felt and thought about fascism after its precipitous demise This book remedies the gap in historical scholarship by assessing how Italians confronted their present and negotiated their past during the two years from the fall of the regime to the definitive defeat of the RSI and the end of the world war in May 1945 By bringing to life the cultural imaginaries and practices of the past the book raises ostensibly intractable questions on the epochal impact of what often appears as inconsequential the typically unseen and seemingly banal power of everyday experiences Affective Mapping Jonathan FLATLEY, Jonathan Flatley, 2009-06-30 The surprising claim of this book is that dwelling on loss is not necessarily depressing Instead embracing melancholy can be a road back to contact with others and can lead people to productively remap their relationship to the world around them Flatley demonstrates that a seemingly disparate set of modernist writers and thinkers showed how aesthetic activity can give us the means to comprehend and change our relation to loss      The Politics of Feeling Ben Anderson, Anna J. Secor, 2025-09-23 How today's dominant political forms right wing populism progressivism and liberalism offer differentiated responses to shared conditions of uncertainty The Politics of Feeling argues that politics has become a matter of political feelings in an age of uncertainty The uncertainties of the post 2008 period have transformed the political arena and made the question of how people feel central to the formation of political affiliations and divisions The book identifies three competing political forms in the US and the UK today right wing populism progressivism and contemporary liberalism It argues that rather than naming coherent programs of political thought these popular political forms are operating as arrangements or modes of attachment and political intensity Each one suggests a different way of remembering the past imagining the future and making the present politically meaningful Each one elevates some affective orientations over others and thereby etches differences of race class and gender within its structure The Politics of Feeling is a critique of the living edge of politics where feelings emerge gather intensity or dissolve in the continual making and remaking of the politics of the present

Hyperscapes in the Poetry of Frank O'Hara Hazel Smith, 2000-01-01 Elizabeth A Kaye specializes in communications as part of her coaching and consulting practice She has edited Requirements for Certification since the 2000 01 edition

Living On After Failure Irving Goh, 2025-08-08 Rather than understanding failure as something to overcome Irving Goh dwells with failure and all of its negative affects to consider new ways of living beyond the failure success binary

Cultural Materialism Andrew Milner, 1993 This book places cultural materialism in relation to earlier paradigms such as literary humanism and Marxism and explains how the new paradigm has been applied to important areas such as cultural studies media studies and literary studies      Encountering Affect Ben Anderson, 2017-03-02 Since the mid 1990s affect has become central to the social sciences and humanities Debates abound over how to conceptualise affect and how to understand the interrelationships between affective life and a range of contemporary political transformations In Encountering Affect Ben Anderson explores why understanding affect matters and offers one account of affective life that hones in on the different ways in which affects are ordered Intervening in debates around non representational theories he argues that affective life is always already mediated the never finished product of apparatuses encounters and conditions Through a wide range of examples including dread debility dependency in torture ordinary hopes and precariousness Anderson shows the significance of affect for understanding life today      Studying Audiences Virginia Nightingale, 1996 A critical overview of two decades of research into the television audience i      Feelings of Structure Karen Engle, Yoke-Sum Wong, 2018-11-30 Sweatsuits and the apocalypse the demands of a sofa a life recalled through window frames whale watching through cancer the serendipity of geographical names in Feelings of Structure these are just some of the spaces and places memories and experiences addressed by the authors in writings that are multilevel explorations of the tangled up nature of feeling and structure Inspired by Raymond Williams s classic essay Structures of Feeling and influenced by the current discussion of affect studies this collection inverts Williams s influential concept to explore the ephemerality of feeling as working in concert with the grounding forces of materiality and history Feelings of Structure is a collection of twelve original texts that explores the weight of diverse encounters with a variety of configurations be they institutional spatial historical or fantastical Featuring writers from a range of disciplines this book aims for textual evocation in subject matter and approach with essays that encompass multiple methodologies writing styles and tones Experimental in nature Feelings of Structure balances the need for concrete and specific observation with the ephemerality of experience      Structures of Desire Tony Williams,2000-08-10 Examines the cultural historical and ideological factors influencing British cinema during World War II and the postwar years with attention to male female relationships as well as to utopian desires for a better postwar world      Invitations to Love Laura M. Ahearn,2001 A discussion of the implications of the emergence of love letter correspondences for social relations in Nepal      Cultural Feelings Ben Highmore,2017-05-18 Cultural Feelings Mood Mediation and Cultural Politics sets out to examine the role of feelings and mood in the production of social and cultural experience By returning to the work of Raymond Williams and informed by recent affect theory it treats feeling as a foundational term for cultural studies Ben Highmore argues that feelings are political and cultural forms that orchestrate our encounters with the world He utilises a range of case studies from twentieth century British culture focusing in particular on Home Front morale during the Blitz the experiences of Caribbean migration in the post war decades the music of post punk bands in the late 1970s and early 1980s and more recent state of the nation film and television including Our Friends in the North and This is England He finds evidence in oral history in films photographs television novels music policy documents and journalism Through these sources this book tells a vivid and compelling story of our most recent history and argues that the urgent task for a progressive cultural politics will require the changing of moods as well as minds Cultural Feelings is essential reading for students and researchers with an interest in affect theory emotion and culture      Digital Labour and Karl Marx Christian Fuchs,2014-01-03 How is labour changing in the age of computers the Internet and social media such as Facebook Google YouTube and Twitter In Digital Labour and Karl Marx Christian Fuchs attempts to answer that question crafting a systematic critical theorisation of labour as performed in the capitalist ICT industry Relying on a range of global case studies from unpaid social media prosumers or Chinese hardware assemblers at Foxconn to miners in the Democratic Republic of Congo Fuchs sheds light on the labour costs of digital media examining the way ICT corporations exploit human labour and the impact of this exploitation on the lives bodies and minds of workers      Sound Souvenirs Karin Bijsterveld,José van Dijck,2009 In recent decades the importance of sound for remembering the past and for creating a sense of belonging has been increasingly acknowledged We keep sound souvenirs such as cassette tapes and long play albums in our attics because we want to be able to recreate the music and everyday sounds we once cherished Artists and ordinary listeners deploy the newest digital audio technologies to recycle past sounds into present tunes Sound and memory are inextricably intertwined not just through the commercially exploited nostalgia on oldies radio stations but through the exchange of valued songs by means of pristine recordings and cultural practices such as collecting archiving and listing This book explores several types of cultural practices involving the remembrance and restoration of past sounds At the same time it theorizes the cultural meaning of collecting recycling reciting and remembering sound and music

Language and Cognitive Structures of Emotion Prakash Mondal, 2016-09-13 This book examines linguistic expressions of emotion in intensional contexts and offers a formally elegant account of the relationship between language and emotion The author presents a compelling case for the view that there exist contrary to popular belief logical universals at the intersection of language and emotive content This book shows that emotive structures in the mind that are widely assumed to be not only subjectively or socio culturally variable but also irrelevant to a general theory of cognition offer an unusually suitable ground for a formal theory of emotive representations allowing for surprising logical and cognitive consequences for a theory of cognition Challenging mainstream assumptions in cognitive science and in linguistics this book will appeal to linguists philosophers of the mind linguistic anthropologists psychologists and cognitive scientists of all persuasions

Expressions of Identity Dr Kevin Hetherington, 1998-09-14 This innovative book sets out to question what we understand by the term new social movements By examining a range of issues associated with identity politics and alternative lifestyles the author challenges those who treat new social movements as instances of wider social change while often ignoring their more local and dispersed importance This book questions what it means to adopt an identity that is organised around issues of expressivism and offers a series of non reductionist ways of looking at identity politics Hetherington analyzes expressive identities through issues of performance spaces of identity and the occasion This important work shows how the significance of identity politics are at once local plural situated and topologically complex

The Brooklyn Film John B. Manbeck, Robert Singer, 2010-06-28 Brooklyn New York a borough of New York City is known for its distinctive vernacular its communal feel on the fringes of a booming city and its famous bridge a gateway to the unlimited opportunities in Manhattan Of course Coney Island deserves a mention as it garners its own fame independent of Brooklyn its parent locale New York City moviemaking got its start in Brooklyn when Charles E Chinnock shot his silent film in 1894 Since then many films have been made studios opened and stars born in Brooklyn contributing to its undeniable influence in the film industry This work is a collection of essays on the topic of Brooklyn as portrayed in film It includes a discussion of race relations in films dealing with Brooklyn the story of Jackie Robinson as shown on film the changing face of cinematic Brooklyn and some thoughts on a Brooklyn filmgoer's experience The combination of Brooklyn and baseball in the films of Paul Auster is examined as well as the typical portrayal of a Brooklyn native in film
