Toolkits, Translation Devices and Conceptual Accounts Parlo Singh, Alan R. Sadovnik, Susan F. Semel, 2010 For over four decades Basil Bernstein researched the internal organisation and educational context of the school specifically and educational systems generally In particular he was interested in the powerful forms of knowledge transmitted through schooling systems who gained access to these forms of knowledge how they did so and with what consequences His research began by examining the differences between language and communication patterns in the institutions of the home family and of the school and extended to examining the structuring of pedagogic discourse from the level of the state to the classroom This collection brings together chapters by researchers from South Africa Portugal the United Kingdom United States and Australia to build on the theoretical concepts developed by Bernstein to explore issues of access and acquisition to school knowledge In addition contributors explore the strengths and limitations of Bernstein's work for understanding the structuring of educational institutions as well as the potential of the theory for assisting educators to make a difference in the lives of students

Dialogue and Conflict on Religion. Studies of Classroom Interaction in European Countries Ina ter Avest, Dan-Paul Jozsa, Thorsten Knauth, Javier Rosón, Geir Skeie, 2009 Regarding teaching about religions and worldviews there is a gap between the ambitions of educational policies and our knowledge about what really happens in the classroom Research on classroom interaction about religion is not very far developed either nationally or as international and as comparative research There is a growing awareness however that research on pupils' perspectives on religion in education is needed in order to develop sustainable approaches for future education and this book is a contribution to this research The classroom can be seen as an arena both for learning and for micro politics This arena is shaped and sometimes challenged and restricted or even curtailed by the wider societal and political context In this book we present studies of classroom interaction that focus on the micro sociological level of research The studies presented open up a rather unexplored field of international comparative research on religion in education and the role of diversity for classroom interaction giving deeper insights into what happens in classrooms displaying varieties of interactive patterns and relating these to their specific contexts
