Struggle For Health Medicine And The Politics Of Underdevelopment:

The Struggle for Health David Sanders, 2023-02-27 The first edition of The Struggle for Health was published in 1985 and was widely acclaimed by those seeking a broader and deeper political understanding of ill health beyond the medical model of care. It was a revolutionary book charting new ways of understanding and tackling the causes of ill health and suggesting strategies to enable health for all. This second edition includes health problems that have emerged since the 1980s notably HIV AIDs COVID 19 and other epidemics and the increase in non communicable diseases such as cardiovascular disease and diabetes. It examines some of the health impacts of globalization specifically on the food and pharmaceutical value chains and considers the consequences of climate change on the health of populations. However this edition does not depart from the core message of the original book. Health for All can only be achieved through a more equitable distribution of wealth resources and power. The Struggle for Health Second Edition utilises the same approach as the first with a narrative that begins with diseases then describes historical trends and the limitation of the medical and commercial model of care. At each juncture it asks the question WHY why do people especially children still die in large numbers throughout the world from wholly preventable diseases. Why is it that appropriate provision for health care is not available to every individual in the world. What changes can be made to improve this situation. Most importantly this edition presents a strengthened call to action building upon the original work and advocating for systemic changes to ensure justice and equity in health for all.

The Struggle for Health David Sanders, Wim de Ceukelaire, Barbara Hutton, 2023 The first edition of The Struggle for Health was published in 1985 and was widely acclaimed by those seeking a broader and deeper political understanding of ill health beyond the medical model of care. This second edition includes health problems that have emerged since the 1980s notably HIV AIDS COVID 19 and other epidemics and the increase in non communicable diseases such as cardiovascular disease and diabetes.

Privatizing Health Services in Africa Meredith Turshen, 1999 Privatizing Health Services in Africa analyzes the disappearance of public health in the form of state services in Africa and the growth of a private market in health care that will serve primarily an urban elite Meredith Turshen considers the implications of introducing private insurance in countries with growing unemployment a shrinking formal job sector and a lack of social security programs or other safety nets She debates the pros and cons of shifting the delivery of health services to the nongovernmental sector in the context of new concepts of the role of the state Many of the schemes to privatize the purchase and sale of pharmaceuticals reverse decades of United Nations work challenging the power of the multinational drug industry Turshen weighs these policy changes in light of the World Bank s eclipse of the World Health Organization as the premier UN health policy agency Until now no book has disputed the World Bank's plans to privatize health care in Africa This is the first book length analysis of policy changes in light of monetarism and globalization Throughout the book Turshen examines the implications of privatization for gender equity She also provides a case study of Zimbabwe and comparative material from Malawi Mozambique and Zambia Her study makes a contribution to current debates on the impact of structural adjustment policies on health and the design of health services in the Third World

Loepky, Robin Chang, 2024-02-28 This handbook provides a comprehensive and critical overview of the gamut of contemporary issues around health and healthcare from a political economy perspective Its contributions present a unique challenge to prevailing economic accounts of health and healthcare which narrowly focus on individual behaviour and market processes Instead the capacity of the human body to reach its full potential and the ability of society to prevent disease and cure illness are demonstrated to be shaped by a broader array of political economic processes The material conditions in which societies produce distribute exchange consume and reproduce and the operation of power relations therein influence all elements of human health from food consumption and workplace safety to inequality healthcare and housing and even the biophysical conditions in which humans live This volume explores these concerns across five sections First it introduces and critically engages with a variety of established and cutting edge theoretical perspectives in political economy to conceptualise health and healthcare from neoclassical and behavioural economics to Marxist and feminist approaches The next two sections extend these insights to evaluate the neoliberalisation of health and healthcare over the past 40 years highlighting their individualisation and commodification by the capitalist state and powerful corporations The fourth section examines the diverse manifestation of these dynamics across a range of geographical contexts The volume concludes with a section devoted to outlining more progressive health and healthcare arrangements which transcend the limitations of both neoliberalism and capitalism This volume will be an indispensable reference work for students and scholars of political economy health policy and politics health economics health geography the sociology of health and other health related disciplines Chapters 1-8 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 license
