Struggle Survival In Modern Middle East:

Struggle and Survival in the Modern Middle East Edmund Burke (III), Edmund Burke (III.), 1993-02-05 Until now we have known very little of the lives of ordinary Middle Eastern men and women despite extensive research on the modern Middle East With this collection of essays the life stories of peasants villagers pastoralists and urbanites can finally be heard no more will our view of the Middle East be seen only over the shoulders of the elite These twenty four biographies are drawn from the entire Middle East from Morocco to Afghanistan and provide vantage points from which to understand modern Middle Eastern history from the bottom up Spanning the past 150 years and reflecting important transformations the stories challenge elite centered accounts of what has occurred in the Middle East and illuminate hidden corners of a largely unrecorded world The essays divided chronologically provide a comprehensive framework for those unfamiliar with Middle Eastern social history Pre Colonial Lives covers the period from 1850 until World War I Colonial Lives chronicles the beginning of European rule and Contemporary Lives relates the massive changes of the postwar era Through them we see how specific ecologies ways of life ethnic class and gender situations can shape individual human action

The hopes and disappointments that characterized the transition from slavery to freedom are depicted.

States and Women's Rights Mounira Charrad, 2001 At a time when the situation of women in the Islamic world is of global interest here is a study that unlocks the mystery of why women's fates vary so greatly from one country to another. Mounira M Charrad analyzes the distinctive nature of Islamic legal codes by placing them in the larger context of state power in various societies. Charrad argues that many analysts miss what is going on in Islamic societies because they fail to recognize the logic of the kin-based model of social and political life which she contrasts with the Western class-centered model. In a skillful synthesis she shows how the logic of Islamic legal codes and kin-based political power affect the position of women. These provide the key to Charrad's empirical puzzle: why after colonial rule women in Tunisia gained broad legal rights even in the absence of a feminist protest movement while despite similarities in culture and religion women remained subordinated in post-independence Morocco and Algeria. Charrad's elegant theory, crisp writing and solid scholarship make a unique contribution in developing a state-building paradigm to discuss women's rights. This book will interest readers in the fields of sociology, politics, law, women's studies, postcolonial studies, Middle Eastern studies, Middle Eastern history, French history and Maghrib studies.

Marxist Historiographies Q. Edward Wang, Georg G. Iggers, 2015-07-16 Marxist Historiographies is the first book to examine the ebb and flow of Marxist historiography from a global and cross-cultural perspective. Since the eighteenth century few schools of historical thought have exerted a more lasting impact than Marxism and this impact extends far beyond the Western world within which it is most commonly analysed. Edited by two highly respected authors in the field, this book deals with the effect of Marxism on historical writings not only in parts of Europe where it originated but also in countries and regions in Africa, Asia, North and South America and the Middle East. Rather than presenting the chapters geographically it is structured with respect to how Marxist influence was shown in the works of historians in a particular area. This title takes a dual approach to the subject: some chapters are national in scope, addressing the Marxist impact on historical practices within a country, whereas others deal with the varied expressions of Marxist historiography throughout a wider region. Taking a truly global perspective on this topic, Marxist Historiographies demonstrates clearly the breadth and depth of Marxism's influence in historical writing throughout the world and is essential reading for all students of historiography.

A History of the Modern Middle East Betty S. Anderson, 2016-04-20. A History of the Modern Middle East offers a comprehensive assessment of the region stretching from the fourteenth century and the founding of the Ottoman and Safavid empires through to the present day protests and upheavals. The textbook focuses on Turkey, Iran, and the Arab countries of the Middle East, as well as areas often left out of Middle East history, such as the Balkans and the changing roles that Western forces have played in the region. It discusses the larger contexts and influences on the region's cultural and political development. Enriched by the perspectives of workers and professionals, urban merchants and provincial notables, slaves, students, women and peasants, as well as political leaders, the book maps the complex social interrelationships and provides a pivotal understanding of the shifting shapes of governance and trajectories of social change in the Middle East. Extensively illustrated with drawings, photographs and maps, this text skillfully integrates a diverse range of actors and influences to construct a narrative that is at once sophisticated and lucid. A History of the Modern Middle East highlights the region's complexity and variation, countering easy assumptions about the Middle East: those who governed and those they governed, the rulers, rebels and rogues who shaped a region.

The SAGE Handbook of Social Anthropology Richard Fardon, Oliva Harris, Trevor H. J. Marchand, Cris Shore, Veronica Strang, Richard Wilson, Mark Nuttall, 2012-07-25. In two volumes, the SAGE Handbook of Social Anthropology provides the definitive overview of contemporary research in the discipline. It explains the what, where and how of current and anticipated work in Social Anthropology. With 80 authors contributing more than 60 chapters, this is the most comprehensive and up-to-date statement of research in Social Anthropology available and the essential point of departure for future projects. The Handbook is divided into four sections: Part I, Interfaces, examines Social Anthropology's disciplinary connections from Art and Literature to Politics and Economics, from Linguistics to Biomedicine, from History to Media Studies; Part II, Places, examines place, region, culture and history from regional area studies to a globalized world; Part III, Methods, examines issues of method from archives to war zones, from development projects to art objects and from ethics to comparison; Part IV, Futures, anticipates anthropologies to come in the Brain Sciences, in post-Development in the Body and Health, and in new Technologies and Materialities. Edited by the leading figures in social anthropology, the Handbook includes a substantive introduction by Richard Fardon, a think piece by Jean and John Comaroff, and a concluding last word on futures by Marilyn Strathern. The authors, each at the leading edge of the discipline, contribute in-depth chapters on both the foundational ideas and the latest research. Comprehensive and detailed.

this magisterial Handbook overviews the last 25 years of the social anthropological imagination It will speak to scholars in Social Anthropology and its many related disciplines The Origins of the Libyan Nation Anna Baldinetti,2014-05-12 This book is concerned with the emergence and construction of the Libyan nation It charts the rise of nationalism out of the colonial era and shows how nationalism developed through an external Libyan diaspora and the influence of Arab nationalism
