Glasrud,Charles A. Braithwaite,2009-10-01 Until recently histories of the American West gave little evidence of the presence let alone importance of African Americans in the unfolding of the western frontier There might have been a mention of Estevan slavery or the Dred Scott decision but the rich and varied experience of African Americans on the Great Plains went largely unnoted This book the first of its kind supplies that critical missing chapter in American history Originally published over the span of twenty five years in Great Plains Quarterly the essays collected here describe the part African Americans played in the frontier army and as homesteaders community builders and activists The authors address race relations discrimination and violence They tell of the struggle for civil rights and against Jim Crow and they examine African American cultural growth and contributions as well as economic and political aspects of black life on the Great Plains From individuals such as Pap Singleton Era Bell Thompson Aaron Douglas and Alphonso Trent to incidents at Fort Hays Brownsville and Topeka to defining moments in government education and the arts this collection offers the first comprehensive overview of the black experience on the Plains      MultiCultural Review ,2007      A Journey to Freedom Franco Imoda,2000 Can psychology and religion engage in constructive dialogue Has psychology a contribution to make in Christian formation These are some of the issues addressed in this volume marking 25 years of the Institute of Psychology of the Gregorian University The twenty articles which make up the work offer essential insights into how psychology and religion can meet and interact constructively at the level of theory and of practice These insights are presented in the context of an overall Christian anthropology which continues to develop and to further refine its practical applications The contributions are divided into four sections theory and method dialogue between psychology and other disciplines applications in different cultures and concrete experiences of applying a psychologically informed Christian anthropology in the educational setting The balanced approach presented in this work makes it both a serious instrument of study and a valuable point of reference for the educator Its constant reference to a Christian conception of the person will help avoid short sighted pragmatism
