Student Guide To Research On The World Wide Web:

The Student's Guide to Doing Research on the Internet David R. Campbell, Mary V. Campbell, 1995 Discusses the tools needed to access Internet resources including Gopher FTP browsers for accessing World Wide Web pages and WAIS and includes listings of hundreds of Internet sites that may be used to conduct research in a wide variety of disciplines

Student's Companion to the World Wide Web Jim Millhorn, 1999 The World Wide Web is expanding at a rapid pace This progressive growth has inevitably created a proliferation of sites and information sources that are posted on this medium Jim Millhorn attempts to examine a small corner of this undergrowth in Student's Companion to the World Wide Web by focusing on outstanding academic and scholarly sites for students in the social sciences and humanities While the Web is an invaluable source of information students do not always know how to extract the information that they seek This guide can offer assistance This book expertly handles common reference sources search engines meta subject guides the humanities and social science disciplines which are arranged in an alphabetized sequence of chapters featuring each individual discipline An innovative and timely answer to the student's quest for information this book opens the broadest purview the Web offers on a specific discipline while simultaneously limiting the number of featured sites

Using Internet Primary Sources to Teach Critical Thinking Skills in Geography Gary S. Elbow, Martha B. Sharma, 2000-09-30 Geography teachers and school library media specialists will find this resource indispensable for providing classroom lessons and activities in critical thinking for geography students in grades 7-12 It is filled with over 75 primary source Internet sites covering such topics as Places and Regions Physical Systems Human Systems Environment and Society and the Uses of Geography and will be an invaluable tool in helping teachers and librarians meet the standards set forth in the 1994 publication Geography for Life National Geography Standards Each site is accompanied by a site summary that describes the site contents and usefulness to geography teachers and school library media specialists Site subjects include Urban Landscapes Volcanoes and Earthquakes Weather The U S Census and the World Wildlife Fund Global Network The questions and activities that follow are designed to develop critical thinking skills for both oral and written presentations An appendix of additional geography resources includes Internet addresses for approximately 25 sites relating to maps primary sources and critical thinking This will provide teachers and librarians with even more resources for developing lessons to help each student meet all 18 of the National Geography Standards
