Street Kurt Borchard,2005-03-01 Just beyond Las Vegas s neon and fantasy live thousands of homeless people most of them men To the millions of visitors who come to Las Vegas each year to enjoy its gambling and entertainment the city s homeless people are largely invisible segregated from tourist areas because it s good business Now through candid discussions with homeless men analysis of news reports and years of fieldwork Kurt Borchard reveals the lives and desperation of men without shelter in Las Vegas Borchard s account offers a graphic disturbing and profoundly moving picture of life on Las Vegas s streets depicting the strategies that homeless men employ in order to survive from the search for a safe place to sleep at night to the challenges of finding food maintaining personal hygiene and finding an acceptable place to rest during a long day on the street That such misery and desperation exist in the midst of Las Vegas s hedonistic tourist economy and booming urban development is a cruel irony according to the author and it threatens the city s future as a prime tourist destination The book will be of interest to social workers sociologists anthropologists politicians and all those concerned about changing the misery on the street The Complete Theory-to-practice Handbook of Adult Literacy ,1990 This work offers guidelines for curriculum design and teaching approaches for adult education programmes that are broader and more interactive than many existing programmes for undereducated adults The authors describe ways in which classes can be organized and lessons developed around the specific needs and interests of adult learners rather than around pre packaged materials The Writing Instructor ,1985 Aristotle's Voice Jasper Neel,2013-11-14 In this book Jasper Neel s sure to be controversial resituating of Aristotle centers around three questions that have been constants in his twenty two years of teaching experience What does itmean to teach writing What should one know before teaching writing And if there is such a thing as research in the teaching of writing what is it Believing that all composition teachers are situated politically and socially both as part of the institution in which they teach and as beings with lived histories Neel examines his own life and the life of composition studies as a discipline in the context of Aristotle Neel first situates the Rhetoric as a political document he then situates the Rhetoric in the Aristotelian system and describes how professional discourse came to know itself through Aristotle s way of studying the world finally he examines the operation of the Rhetoric inside itself before arguing the need to turn to Aristotle s notion of sophistry as a way of negating his system By pointing out the connections among Aristotelian rhetoric the contemporary university and the contemporary writing teacher Neel shows that Aristotle s frightening social theories are as alive today as are Aristotelian notions of discourse Neel explains that by their very nature teachers must speak with a professional voice It is through showing how to hear one s professional voice that Neel explores the notion of professional discourse that originates with Aristotle In maintaining that one must pay a high price in order to speak through Aristotle s theory or to assume the role of professional he argues that no neutral ground exists either for pedagogy or for the analysis of pedagogy Neel concludes this discussion by proposing that Aristotelian sophistry is both an antidote to Aristotelian racism sexism and bigotry and a way of allowing Aristotelian categories of discourse to remain useful Finally as an Aristotelian a teacher and a writer Neel responds both to Aristotle and to professionalism by rethinking the influence of the past and reviving the voice of Aristotelian sophistry
