Redefining Propaganda in Modern China James Farley, Matthew D. Johnson, 2020-11-19

Usage of the political keyword propaganda by the Chinese Communist Party has changed and expanded over time These changes have been masked by strong continuities spanning periods in the history of the People's Republic of China from the Mao Zedong era 1949-76 to the new era of Xi Jinping 2012 present Redefining Propaganda in Modern China builds on the work of earlier scholars to revisit the central issue of how propaganda has been understood within the Communist Party system What did propaganda mean across successive eras What were its institutions and functions What were its main techniques and themes What can we learn about popular consciousness as a result In answering these questions the contributors to this volume draw on a range of historical cultural studies propaganda studies and comparative politics approaches Their work captures the sweep of propaganda its appearance in everyday life as well as during extraordinary moments of mobilization and demobilization and its systematic continuities and discontinuities from the perspective of policy makers bureaucratic functionaries and artists More localized and granular case studies are balanced against deep readings and cross-cutting interpretive essays which place the history of the People's Republic of China within broader temporal and comparative frames Addressing a vital aspect of Chinese Communist Party authority this book is meant to provide a timely and comprehensive update on what propaganda has meant ideologically operationally aesthetically and in terms of social experience

they were confronted with truth and reality was authority obviously they gave up the former The only thing I can do is tell you what I have done and what contributions I have accomplished as well as how I verify my accomplishments to make you trust me as a successful person to believe in me and listen to me cautiously This book collected my comments and suggestions on all important events which occurred in China and around the world from 2004 until now which are also my appeals to God against the injustice and unfairness of the world Every article in the table of contents has its writing time marked so that you can verify my influence on the political situation of China and the world according to the writing time of each article my opinions my suggestions and dramatic change of the world political situation You can also verify how God has responded to my appeals and requests according to the writing time of each article my opinions my suggestions and dramatic change of the world political situation

EMERGENCE AND INTERPRETATION Ding Weixiang, 2023-03-22 Mencius many assertions from virtue Being what I inherently possess to this virtue is what Heaven or Nature gives to me clearly show the basic self consciousness of virtue in pre Qin Confucianism and the confirmation that virtue originates from Heaven or Nature Then what was the reason for the Chinese Axis Age thinkers to unanimously trace the origin of human virtue back to Heaven or Nature and the mandate of Heaven Of course for them the source of human virtue is Heaven or Nature which means that they realized that human being was the limit of cognition Since in their view the problem is itself a question that transcends human cognition or that human understanding can possibly clarify both virtue itself and the source of human virtue being beyond the bounds of human knowledge Namely tracing back virtue to its source is a quest that transcends the capacity of human understanding However those who have been influenced by modern cognitive theory and who constantly explore how Confucian thought emerged as well as how it took shape cannot give a satisfying answer Therefore to trace the emergence and development of Confucianism through the perspective of the survival of agency and the foundation of the survival of agency is not only my own personal interest but also one necessary for clarifying the development of Confucianism and the legitimacy of its existence

Material Culture John Kieschnick, 2020-06-16 From the first century when Buddhism entered China the foreign religion shaped Chinese philosophy beliefs and ritual At the same time Buddhism had a profound effect on the material world of the Chinese This wide ranging study shows that Buddhism brought with it a vast array of objects big and small relics treasured as parts of the body of the Buddha prayer beads and monastic clothing as well as new ideas about what objects could do and how they should be treated Kieschnick argues that even some everyday objects not ordinarily associated with Buddhism bridges tea and the chair on closer inspection turn out to have been intimately tied to Buddhist ideas and practices Long after Buddhism ceased to be a major force in India it continued to influence the development of material culture in China as it does to the present day At first glance this seems surprising Many Buddhist scriptures and thinkers rejected the material world or even denied its existence with great enthusiasm and sophistication Others however from Buddhist philosophers to ordinary devotees embraced objects as a means of expressing religious sentiments and doctrines What was a sad sign of compromise and decline for some was seen as strength and versatility by others Yielding rich insights through its innovative analysis of particular types of objects this briskly written book is the first to systematically examine the ambivalent relationship in the Chinese context between Buddhism and material culture Geo-Architecture and Landscape in China's

Geographic and Historic Context Fang Wang, 2016-04-22 This book analyzes forms of architectures within the frame concept of geo architecture and looks into the interaction of architecture and its environment It starts by discussing the collisions between architecture and geography humanity as well as other architectures and reflects on the ancient Chinese notion of emotional relief and expression through natural landscape It then studies important transportation and scenic routes like pavilions towers clan halls and villages within architectural systems It also discusses the forms of geographic integration and isolation expressed through architecture which reflects their historical and cultural context This book is the first of a 4 volume book series The series develops the innovative concept of geo architecture by exploring the myriad influences of natural human and historical factors upon architecture These influences are considered in three categories namely interaction between architecture and nature interaction between architecture and its human users and change in architecture over time each category serves as a lens Augmenting these lenses is the Time Person Place concept applied different geographic The analysis ultimately focuses on two aspects geographic influence on architecture and architectural response to geography The over 1000 pictures of case architectures enriches the study with stunning and unique visual angles This unprecedented work will be a unique and valuable contribution to the literature Integrating as it does the disciplines of architecture landscape architecture and geography Wang Fang's voice is original compelling and will be much appreciated by English speaking readers and inside China too I can only imagine Stephen M Ervin Assistant Dean Graduate School of Design Harvard University July 2nd 2013 One reason for why there would be interest is because her research would fill some significant gaps in the literature What is novel about Dr Wang's series is that she further extends this intellectual project of looking at Chinese architecture through Chinese eyes by taking it one provocative step further Annette M Kim Associate Professor Department of Urban Studies and Planning M I T July 1st 2013 First History Encyclopedia

Yet nationalism is not entrenched in China's intellectual tradition Over the course of the twentieth century the combined forces of cultural social and political transformations nourished its development but resistance to it has persisted Xin Fan examines the ways in which historians working on the world beyond China from within China have attempted to construct narratives that challenge nationalist readings of the Chinese past and the influence that these historians have had on the formation of Chinese identity He traces the ways in which generations of historians from the late Qing through the Republican period through the Mao period to the relative moment of opening in the 1980s have attempted to break cross cultural boundaries in writing an alternative to the national narrative
