Resurrection in Mark's Literary-Historical Perspective Paul Fullmer,2007-06-19 Through a careful reading of several ancient texts such as Chariton s Callirho Fullmer identifies an ancient storytelling convention with roots in the Homeric tradition in which narratives of death and revival accentuate significant points in a story In Mark s Gospel resurrection narratives accentuate the power of Jesus ministry Mark 5 21 43 as well as the ironic disloyalty of Jesus disciples as their failure is first assured Mark 9 14 29 and later realized Mark 16 1 18 The reader of this study will come to appreciate how the irony of the Gospel a literary feature that is prominent in novelistic literature is furthered by a novelistic application of the resurrection theme These observations affirm an identification of the genre of the Gospel as novelistic literature The study also examines themes of death and revival in texts of the Hebrew Bible revealing a recurrent constellation of motifs In these texts Fullmer convincingly traces a Prophetic resurrection topos with characteristics that are compared to an Epic resurrection topos identified in the Homeric tradition He then demonstrates how the two topoi merge in later novelistic texts of Hellenistic Judaism such as the Gospel of Mark witnessing to a widespread amalgamation of cultures that characterizes the Hellenistic period This study supports a growing appreciation of the ethnic hybridity of the context that produced Mark's Gospel contributing to the work of scholars who question an often overdrawn dichotomy between Jewish and Greek culture in the Hellenistic period Moreover the significant influence of epic non biblical traditions upon the Gospel becomes manifest without an assertion of direct dependence upon Homeric epic Overall the study provides a model for the examination of specific themes of the Gospel in light of related ancient literature which enhances modern understanding and appreciation of Mark's story
