The Ancient World History In The Making History In The Making:

Making History Alex Callinicos, 2004-01-01 Making History seeks systematically to address the problem widely discussed by social scientists and historians of the relative roles played by social structures and human agency in social change Alex Callinicos has added an introduction to this new edition updating the argument of this influential book first published in 1987 World History in the Making Albert Edward McKinley, Arthur Charles Howland, Matthew Lincoln Dann, 1927 Making History in Iran Farzin Vejdani, 2014-11-05 Iranian history was long told through a variety of stories and legend tribal lore and genealogies and tales of the prophets But in the late nineteenth century new institutions emerged to produce and circulate a coherent history that fundamentally reshaped these fragmented narratives and dynastic storylines Farzin Vejdani investigates this transformation to show how cultural institutions and a growing public sphere affected history writing and how in turn this writing defined Iranian nationalism Interactions between the state and a cross section of Iranian society scholars schoolteachers students intellectuals feminists and poets were crucial in shaping a new understanding of nation and history This enlightening book draws on previously unexamined primary sources including histories school curricula pedagogical materials periodicals and memoirs to demonstrate how the social locations of historians writ broadly influenced their interpretations of the past The relative autonomy of these historians had a direct bearing on whether history upheld the status quo or became an instrument for radical change and the writing of history became central to debates on social and political reform the role of women in society and the criteria for citizenship and nationality Ultimately this book traces how contending visions of Iranian history were increasingly unified as a centralized Iranian state emerged in the early twentieth century Making History Carol Bakhos, Alyssa M. Gray, 2024-03-29 Essays in this volume honor Richard L Kalmin one of the leading scholars of rabbinic literature Volume contributors explore a variety of topics related to Kalmin s wide ranging work from the development of the Talmud to rabbinic storytelling from the transmission of tales across geographic and cultural boundaries to ancient Jewish and Iranian interactions Many of the essays reflect current trends in how scholars use ancient Jewish literary sources to address questions of historical import Contributors include Carol Bakhos Beth A Berkowitz Noah Bickart Robert Brody Joshua Cahan Shaye J D Cohen Steven D Fraade Shamma Friedman Alyssa M Gray Judith Hauptman Christine Hayes Catherine Hezser Marc Hirshman David Kraemer Marjorie Lehman Kristen Lindbeck Jonathan S Milgram Chaim Milikowsky Michael L Satlow Marcus Mordecai Schwartz Seth Schwartz Burton L Visotzky and Sarah Wolf Making History Mine Sarah Cooper, 2023-10-10 Middle school history teachers confront the same challenge every day how to convey the breadth and depth of a curriculum that spans centuries countries and cultures In Making History Mine Sarah Cooper shows teachers how to use thematic instruction to link skills to content knowledge By combining thought provoking activities and rich assessments Sarah encourages teachers to challenge students to make history personal and relevant to their lives Making History Richard Cohen, 2022-04-19 A supremely entertaining The New Yorker exploration of who gets to record the world's history from Julius Caesar to William Shakespeare to Ken Burns and how their biases influence our understanding about the past. There are many stories we can spin about previous ages but which accounts get told? And by whom? Is there even such a thing as objective history? In this witty, wise and elegant The Spectator book, Richard Cohen reveals how professional historians and other equally significant witnesses such as the writers of the Bible, novelists and political propagandists influence what becomes the accepted record. Cohen argues, for example, that some historians are practitioners of Bad History and twist reality to glorify themselves or their country. Scholarly, lively, quotable up to date and fun. Hilary Mantel, author of the bestselling Thomas Cromwell trilogy Making History, investigates the published works and private utterances of our greatest chroniclers to discover the agendas that informed their and our views of the world. From the origins of history writing when such an activity itself seemed revolutionary through to television and the digital age, Cohen brings captivating figures to vivid light from Thucydides and Tacitus to Voltaire and Gibbon, Winston Churchill and Henry Louis Gates. Rich in complex truths and surprising anecdotes, the result is a revealing exploration of both the aims and art of history making, one that will lead us to rethink how we learn about our past and about ourselves.

History Making History William D. Dean, 1988-01-01. This book recognizes that the postmodern new historicism leads to a value neutral relativism and leaves theology with an impossible choice. Dean argues that the postmodern challenge is incoherent and ineffective unless it is reinterpreted in terms of its classical American roots. Before offering a third option, Dean defends the neopragmatism of Richard Rorty, Richard Bernstein, Nelson Goodman, Hilary Putnam, Cornel West and Jeffrey Stout, the deconstructivism of Jacques Derrida and Mark Taylor and the recent theology of Gordon Kaufman. The third option, opening up a new possibility for American theology, is the radical empiricism of William James and John Dewey and the precedent of the Chicago School.

Making History Matter Robert Dawidoff, 2000. This collection of Robert Dawidoff's essays and journalism is peopled by the likes of the Founding Fathers, Fred Astaire, Henry and William James, Sophie Tucker, Trent Lott and Cole Porter. Drawing together this unlikely cast of characters, Dawidoff probes into the role of outsider groups as well as intellectual and political elites in the formation of American culture. As a scholar of intellectual and cultural history, Dawidoff takes the stance that historians ought to take an active role in our democratic culture, informing and participating in public discourse. He argues for a broad reach when it comes to cultural expression, resisting the polarization of formal intellectual history and folk or commercial popular culture. In his view, and in his book, Ralph Waldo Emerson and Katharine Hepburn are equally worthy topics for a historian's consideration, providing that they are treated with equal seriousness of purpose and analytic rigor. In The Gay Nineties section that closes the book, he traces key events in the continual struggle for gay and lesbian civil rights and takes on such unresolved issues as safer sex, needle exchange programs to control HIV transmission and the public controversy around the portrayal of gay and lesbian television characters. Divided into sections that deal with the patriarchs of American political and intellectual culture, expressive culture and a historian's public voice.

this book is a model of engaged and engaging writing Accessible and witty Making History Matter will appeal to general and academic readers interested in American history as well as gay and lesbian political and cultural issues Author note Robert Dawidoff is John D and Lillian Maguire Distinguished Chair and Professor of History at Claremont Graduate University He is most recently the author with Michael Nava of Created Equal Why Gay Rights Matter to America and The Genteel Tradition and the Sacred Rage High Culture V Democracy in Adams James and Santayana Teaching Global History Alan J.

Singer,2012-04-27 Teaching Global History challenges prospective and beginning social studies teachers to formulate their own views about what is important to know in global history and why It explains how to organize the curriculum around broad social studies concepts and themes and student questions about humanity history and the contemporary world All chapters include lesson ideas a sample lesson plan with activity sheets primary source documents and helpful charts graphs photographs and maps High school students responses are woven in throughout Additional material corresponding to each chapter is posted online at http://people.hofstra.edu/alan_j_singer The traditional curriculum tends to highlight the Western heritage and to race through epochs and regions leaving little time for an in depth exploration of concepts and historical themes for the evaluation of primary and secondary sources and for students to draw their own historical conclusions

Offering an alternative to such pre packaged textbook outlines and materials this text is a powerful resource for promoting thoughtful reflection and debate about what the global history curriculum should be and how to teach it Making History
