

FOREIGN INVESTMENTS ACT OF 1991
[Republic Act No. 7042]

AN ACT TO PROMOTE FOREIGN INVESTMENTS,
PREScribe THE PROCEDURES FOR REGISTERING ENTERPRISES
DOING BUSINESS IN THE PHILIPPINES AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES

SECTION 1. Title. - This Act shall be known as the "Foreign Investments Act of 1991."

SEC. 2. Declaration of Policy. - It is the policy of the State to attract, promote and welcome productive investments from foreign individuals, partnerships, corporations, and governments, including their political subdivisions, in activities which significantly contribute to national industrialization and socio-economic development to the extent that foreign investment is allowed in such activity by the Constitution and relevant laws. Foreign investments shall be encouraged in the enterprises that significantly expand livelihood and employment opportunities for Filipinos; enhance economic value of farm products; promote the welfare of Filipino consumers; expand the scope, quality and volume of exports and their access to foreign markets; and/or transfer relevant technologies in agriculture, industry and support services. Foreign investments shall be welcome as a supplement to Filipino capital and technology in those enterprises serving mainly the domestic market.

As a general rule, there are no restrictions on extent of foreign ownership of export enterprises. In domestic market enterprises, foreigners can invest as much as one hundred percent [100%] equity except in areas included in the negative list. Foreign-owned firms catering mainly to the domestic market shall be encouraged to undertake measures that will gradually increase Filipino participation in their businesses by taking in Filipino partners, electing Filipinos to the board of directors, implementing transfer of technology to Filipinos, generating more employment for the economy and enhancing skills of Filipino workers.

SEC. 3. Definitions. - As used in this Act:

a. The term "Philippine national" shall mean a citizen of the Philippines; of a domestic partnership or association wholly owned by citizens of the Philippines; or a corporation organized under the laws of the Philippines of which at least sixty percent (60%) of the

The History of Foreign Investment in the United States, 1914-1945 Mira WILKINS, Mira Wilkins, 2009-06-30 Mira Wilkins the foremost authority on foreign investment in the United States continues her magisterial history in a work covering the critical years 1914-1945 Wilkins includes all long term inward foreign investments both portfolio by individuals and institutions and direct by multinationals across such enterprises as chemicals and pharmaceuticals textiles insurance banks and mortgage providers other service sector companies and mining and oil industries She traces the complex course of inward investments presents the experiences of the investors and examines the political and economic conditions particularly the range of public policies that affected foreign investments She also offers valuable discussions on the intricate cross investments of inward and outward involvements and the legal precedents that had long term consequences on foreign investment At the start of World War I the United States was a debtor nation By the end of World War II it was a creditor nation with the strongest economy in the world Integrating economic business technological legal and diplomatic history this comprehensive study is essential to understanding the internationalization of the American economy as well as broader global trends

The United States and Venezuela during the First World War H. Micheal Tarver, 2021-08-19 This book details the diplomatic relations between the United States and Venezuela during a pivotal time in world history Through the utilization of archival materials and newspaper accounts the author highlights the words of the major participants to demonstrate how the two nations worked together sometimes hand in hand sometimes face to face to prevent the European War from spreading to the Western Hemisphere Despite several efforts to develop hemispheric unity during the War Venezuelan leaders perceived the policy of neutrality to be in the best interest of the country's national sovereignty This book explores the personalities of the chief executives and selected diplomats to illustrate how both personnel and personalities molded their nation's foreign relations In the end while perceived as two very different individuals who pursued different paths during the global conflict the leadership styles of President Woodrow Wilson and General Juan Vicente Gómez were more alike than they realized The overall cordial relations between the two nations during the period under review helped establish the foundation for the petroleum bonanza that United States companies would enjoy in the following years

Foreign Direct Investment in the U.S. and U.S. Trade Robert E. Lipsey, 1991 Foreign owned manufacturing firms shares of U S trade grew from almost nothing in the 1960s to 7 or 8 per cent of trade in manufactured goods by the 1980s It has changed little in the past decade except for fluctuations related to changing U S exchange rates Foreign owned firms are less export oriented than U S parent companies overall and in the same industries and more dependent on imports relative to their sales The foreign affiliates comparative advantage relative to U S parent firms and U S firms in general is concentrated in chemicals and metals industries Foreign owned firms in machinery and transport equipment do relatively little exporting from the U S in comparison with U S owned firms The trade of the foreign owned firms as measured by exports sales and imports sales ratios and by export import ratios fluctuates more than that of U S firms In particular foreign affiliates seem to be more responsive than U S parents to exchange rate changes shifting their production between sales in the U S and exports and their inputs between U S production and imports as the value of the dollar rises and falls
