The Anti Apartheid Reader The Struggle Against White Racist Rule In South:

The Anti-Apartheid Reader David Mermelstein, 1987 Places in perspective all the conflicts and opinions on the issues surrounding South Africa Black Women and the Struggle Against Apartheid in South Africa Oyibo H. Afoaku, 2023-01-09 This book documents the experiences of Black women during the apartheid era in South Africa from 1948 through 1994 Before the arrival of Europeans the Indigenous groups that made up what later became known as South Africa had instilled in their sons and daughters different gender roles based on the dominant cultural standards Women were expected to take care of the home while the men were supposed to serve as breadwinners and leaders Following the the decision by European travelers to establish a service station at the Cape of Good Hope in 1662 Black women became more marginalized in the political economic and social aspects of family life and at the national level At the same time Black woman were reduced to maids serving at the pleasure of European families and were confronted with the three fold challenge of discrimination based on race class and gender Readers will be exposed to the strategies and tactics Black women adopted in response to discrimination in and outside their homes which participating in the collective struggle against the apartheid system Struggle for a Free South Africa Derek Charles Catsam, 2024-02-15 This book explores anti apartheid movements on university and college campuses across Africa and the United States in the 1970s and 1980s In the wake of the March 1960 Sharpeville Massacre in South Africa the country s apartheid policies drew increasing critical international attention By the 1970s South Africa found itself isolated due to growing sporting economic and cultural boycotts Africans across the continent showed solidarity with Black South Africans through a range of boycotts and protests by hosting South Africans exiled from their home country and by vilifying the apartheid government at every turn This volume looks at elite institutions as well as state colleges and universities in the United States and the actions of university students in Nigeria Kenya Ghana and South Africa during the anti apartheid movements in the 1970s and 1980s revealing the local manifestations of a global struggle The chapters showcase how vibrant campus anti apartheid movements were what universal problems emerged and where unique concerns manifested at a wide range of institutions Taking innovative approaches and offering case studies Struggle for a Free South Africa reveals the myriad ways the anti apartheid struggle manifested in a range of academic environments and how those campaigns have been remembered and documented This book was originally published as a special issue of Safundi Reinventing Hoodia Laura A. Foster, 2017-09-18 Native to the Kalahari Desert Hoodia gordonii is a succulent plant known by generations of Indigenous San peoples to have a variety of uses to reduce hunger increase energy and ease breastfeeding In the global North it is known as a natural appetite suppressant a former star of the booming diet industry In Reinventing Hoodia Laura Foster explores how the plant was reinvented through patent ownership pharmaceutical research the self determination efforts of Indigenous San peoples contractual benefit sharing commercial development as an herbal supplement and bioprospecting legislation Using a feminist decolonial technoscience approach Foster argues that although patent law is inherently racialized gendered and Western it offered opportunities for Indigenous San peoples South African scientists and Hoodia growers to make unequal claims for belonging within the shifting politics of South Africa This radical interdisciplinary and intersectional account of the multiple materialities of Hoodia illuminates the co constituted connections between law science and the marketplace while demonstrating how these domains value certain forms of knowledge and matter differently

Education Reform in Societies in Transition Jaya Earnest, David F. Treagust, 2006 Framed against the background of educational change this book proposes to examine the relationship between curriculum change teacher professional development policy reform and the processes of educational change The main aims of the book are to 1 focus on educational changes and reconstruction in transitional societies that have undergone political economic and social change in the past two decades 2 provide a forum for the dissemination of research on education reconstruction and reform in transitional societies 3 disseminate ideas that enhance both the practical and theoretical aspects of educational changes in these societies 4 further knowledge and understanding of emerging trends and issues in education in these societies 5 reflect the realities of educational scenarios in each transitional society The book presents an in depth exploration of educational reconstruction in 15 transitional societies In each chapter the authors have provided an overview of educational processes in the country a distillation of education change or reform and or reconstruction in each transitional society Collectively the chapters in the book have attempted to contribute to a better understanding of the educational system in respective countries by identifying the challenges and obstacles the policy implications the teacher professional development needs and curriculum reform efforts

Apartheid and Racism in South African Children's Literature 1985-1995 Donnarae MacCann, Yulisa Amadu Maddy, 2013-09-13 While white racism has global dimensions it has an unshakeable lease on life in South African political organizations and its educational system Donnarae MacCann and Yulisa Maddy here provide a thorough and provocative analysis of South African children's literature during the key decade around Nelson Mandela's release from prison Their research demonstrates that the literature of this period was derived from the same milieu intellectual educational religious political and economic that brought white supremacy to South Africa during colonial times This volume is a signal contribution to the study of children's literature and its relation to racism and social conditions

Registratur AA. 3 Basler Afrika Bibliographien, 2006 The collection contains primary material from Swapo and about Swapo dating from the 1960s to 1990 It contains the history of Swapo and the Namibian liberation struggle

The Will to Arise Caleb Oluremi Oladipo, 2006 One of the most important developments of Christianity in the twentieth century was its transformation in South Africa where it became a vibrant religion rooted in African idioms and cultures The church also became engaged in the struggle against social and political injustice and church leaders employed the vocabularies of faith to secure civil liberty This hard hitting book focuses on post apartheid Christian character and establishes the theological and spiritual authority of African Christians calling contemporary Christians to renew their faith and Christian identity It shows too that one cannot seriously consider contemporary Christianity apart from the African experience Sex in Transition Amanda Lock Swarr,2012-11-20 Argues that South Africa s apartheid system of racial segregation relied on an unexamined but interrelated system of sexed oppression that was at once both rigid and flexible Neo-Imperialism in Children's Literature About Africa Yulisa Amadu Maddy,Donnarae MacCann,2008-12-28 In the spirit of their last collaboration Apartheid and Racism in South African Children s Literature 1985 1995 Yulisa Amadu Maddy and Donnerae MacCann once again come together to expose the neo imperialist overtones of contemporary children s fiction about Africa Examining the portrayal of African social customs religious philosophies and political structures in fiction for young people Maddy and MacCann reveal the Western biases that often infuse stories by well known Western authors In the book s introductory section Maddy and MacCann offer historical information concerning Western notions of Africa as primitive and then present background information about the complexity of feminism in Africa and about the ongoing institutionalization of racism The main body of the study contains critiques of the novels or short stories of eleven well known writers including Isabel Allende and Nancy Farmer all demonstrating that children s literature continues to mis represent conditions and social relations in Africa The study concludes with a look at those short stories of Beverley Naidoo which bring insight and historical accuracy to South African conflicts and emerging solutions Educators literature professors publishers professors of Diaspora and African studies and students of the mass media will find Maddy and MacCann s critique of racism in the representation of Africa to be indispensable to students of multicultural literature Migration, Space and Transnational Identities D. Conway,P. Leonard,2014-12-10 Twenty years after the post apartheid Government took office this timely text interrogates the extent to which the attitudes identities and everyday lives of British people have changed in accordance with the new South Africa New ethnographic research is drawn upon to explore important questions of mobility locality and identity Africa Air University (U.S.). Library,1988

African Theology Emmanuel Martey,2009-11-01 Two major strands of theology have developed in Africa inculturation and liberation each in response to different needs Emmanuel Martey s African Theology provides a clear scholarly examination of these two basic approaches solidly based on Martey s understanding of contemporary theology and his firsthand knowledge of Africa Martey first examines the historical background of each of these theological developments especially relating to cultural and political movements enveloping the continent in the 1970s In sub Saharan Africa struggles for independence from colonizers have resulted in inculturation theology The defining aspect of this theology is that it pushes its roots firmly in African culture and traditions In South Africa on the other hand Black Africans struggling against the oppressive systems of apartheid have turned to liberation theology Martey shows how the real hope for African theology lies in the dialectical encounter between these two approaches and in their potential for convergence The two foci of liberation and inculturation Martey says are not contradictory but complement each other African Theology concludes by challenging

African theologians to weld together the praxis of inculturation with that of liberation in order to achieve an integrative vision for the continent

A History of African Higher Education from Antiquity to the Present Y. G-M Lulat, 2005-08-30 This book surveys the history of higher education principally universities in Africa Its geographical coverage encompasses the entire continent from Afro Arab Islamic Africa in the north to the former apartheid South Africa in the south and the historical time span ranges from the Egyptian civilization to the present Since little has been written on this topic particularly its historical component the work fills an important gap in the literature The book delineates the broad contours of the history of higher education in Africa in exceptional historical breadth voluminously documenting its subject in the text detailed footnotes and lengthy appendices Its methodological approach is that of critical historiography in which the location of the African continent in world history prior to the advent of European colonization is an important dimension In addition the book incorporates a historical survey of foreign assistance to the development of higher education in Africa in the post independence era with a substantive focus on the role of the World Bank It has been written with the following readership in mind those pursuing courses or doing research in African studies studies of the African Diaspora and comparative international education It should also be of interest to those concerned with developing policies on African higher education inside and outside Africa as well as those interested in African Islamic history the development of higher education in medieval Europe the contributions of African Americans to African higher education and such controversial approaches to the reading of African history as Eurocentrism and Afrocentrism

A Global History of Anti-Apartheid Anna Konieczna, Rob Skinner, 2019-04-15 This book explores the global history of anti apartheid and international solidarity with southern African freedom struggles from the 1960s It examines the institutions campaigns and ideological frameworks that defined the globalization of anti apartheid the ways in which the concept of solidarity was mediated by individuals organizations and states and considers the multiplicity of actors and interactions involved in generating and sustaining anti apartheid around the world It includes detailed accounts of key case studies from Europe Asia and Latin America which illustrate the complex relationships between local and global agendas as well as the diverse political cultures embodied in anti apartheid Taken together these examples reveal the tensions and synergies transnational webs and local contingencies that helped to create the sense of being global that united worldwide anti apartheid campaigns

Man's Most Dangerous Myth Ashley Montagu, 2001-04-19 Man's Most Dangerous Myth was first published in 1942 when Nazism flourished when African Americans sat at the back of the bus and when race was considered the determinant of people's character and intelligence It presented a revolutionary theory for its time breaking the link between genetics and culture it argued that race is largely a social construction and not constitutive of significant biological differences between people In the ensuing 55 years as Ashley Montagu's radical hypothesis became accepted knowledge succeeding editions of his book traced the changes in our conceptions of race and race relations over the 20th century Now over 50 years later Man's Most Dangerous Myth is back in print fully revised by the original author Montagu is internationally renowned for his work on race as well as for such influential books as The Natural Superiority of Women Touching and The Elephant Man This new edition contains Montagu's most complete explication of his theory and a thorough updating of previous editions The Sixth Edition takes on the issues of the Bell Curve IQ testing ethnic cleansing and other current race relations topics as well as contemporary restatements of topics previously addressed A bibliography of almost 3 000 published items on race compiled over a lifetime of work is of enormous research value Also available is an abridged student edition containing the essence of Montagu's argument its policy implications and his thoughts on contemporary race issues for use in classrooms Ahead of its time in 1942 Montagu's arguments still contribute essential and salient perspectives as we face the issue of race in the 1990s Man's Most Dangerous Myth is the seminal work of one of the 20th century's leading intellectuals essential reading for all scholars and students of race relations The Sacrificed Generation Lesley A. Sharp, 2002-09-03 This fascinating study grounded in vivid depictions of local life relates to larger questions about the postcolonial exercise of political and economic power when ostensibly sovereign states such as Madagascar are so profoundly controlled by international organizations unattached to any particular state Sharp asks how young people in these radically changing circumstances are taught and teach themselves to understand their past present and future Gillian Feeley Harnik author of A Green Estate Sharp's work is in the best tradition of classic anthropology extending the critiques of Fanon Mannoni Memmi and Freire by examining the effects of the socialist revolution the birth of Malagasy nationalism and the imposition of a postcolonial pedagogy on the minds of the sacrificed generation Her detailed ethnography is superb Nancy Scheper Hughes author of Death without Weeping [A Comparative Analysis of the South African and German Reception of Nadine Gordimer's, Andre Brink's and J.M.
