Light as Experience and Imagination from Paleolithic to Roman Times David S. Herrstrom,2017-09-26 This book is an interdisciplinary synthesis and interpretation about the experience of light as revealed in a wide range of art and literature from Paleolithic to Roman times Humanistic in spirit and in its handling of facts it marshals a substantial body of scholarship to develop an explication of light as a central even dramatic reality of human existence and experience in diverse cultural settings David S Herrstrom underscores our intimacy with light not only its constant presence in our life but its insinuating character Focusing on our encounters with light and ways of making sense of these this book is concerned with the personal and cultural impact of light exploring our resistance to and acceptance of light Its approach is unique The book s true subject is the individual s relationship with light rather than the investigation of light s essential nature It tells the story of light seducing individuals down through the ages Consequently it is not concerned with the progress of scientific inquiries into the physical properties and behavior of light optical science but rather with subjective reactions to it as reflected in art Paleolithic through Roman architecture Egyptian Grecian Roman mythology and religion Paleolithic Egyptian and literature e g Akhenaten Plato Aeschylus Lucretius John the Evangelist Plotinus and Augustine This book celebrates the complexity of our relation to light s character No individual experience of light is truer than any other none improves on any previous experience of light s tidal pull on us And the wondrous variety of these encounters has yielded a richly layered tapestry of human experience By its broad scope and interdisciplinary approach this pioneering book is without precedent Greek Art and Aesthetics in the Fourth Century B.C. William A. P. Childs,2018-04-10 Greek Art and Aesthetics in the Fourth Century B

C analyzes the broad character of art produced during this period providing in depth analysis of and commentary on many of its most notable examples of sculpture and painting Taking into consideration developments in style and subject matter and elucidating political religious and intellectual context William A P Childs argues that Greek art in this era was a natural outgrowth of the high classical period and focused on developing the rudiments of individual expression that became the hallmark of the classical in the fifth century As Childs shows in many respects the art of this period corresponds with the philosophical inquiry by Plato and his contemporaries into the nature of art and speaks to the contemporaneous sense of insecurity and renewed religious devotion Delving into formal and iconographic developments in sculpture and painting Childs examines how the sensitive expressive quality of these works seamlessly links the classical and Hellenistic periods with no appreciable rupture in the continuous exploration of the human condition Another overarching theme concerns the nature of style as a concept of expression an issue that becomes more important given the increasingly multiple styles and functions of fourth century Greek art Childs also shows how the color and form of works suggested the unseen and revealed the profound character of individuals and the physical world
