The Anthropology Of Art:

The Anthropology of Art Howard Morphy, Morgan Perkins, 2009-02-04 This anthology provides a single volume overview of the essential theoretical debates in the anthropology of art Drawing together significant work in the field from the second half of the twentieth century it enables readers to appreciate the art of different cultures at different times Advances a cross cultural concept of art that moves beyond traditional distinctions between Western and non Western art Provides the basis for the appreciation of art of different cultures and times Enhances readers appreciation of the aesthetics of art and of the important role it plays in human society Anthropology, Art, and Aesthetics Jeremy Coote, Anthony Shelton, 1992 This collection of essays on anthropological approaches to art and aesthetics is the first in its field to be published for some time It is finely balanced between developing existing traditions in the anthropology of art and charting new problematics and approaches

The Anthropology of Art Robert Layton, 1991-08-30 An authoritative introduction to art forms in the non Western world addresses the problem of cross cultural aesthetic appreciation in societies ranging from traditional West African craftsmen to Australian hunter gatherers Art as Culture Evelyn Payne Hatcher, 1985 Style and Meaning Anthony Forge, 2017 Anthropology's engagement with art has a complex and uneven history While material culture decorative art and art styles were of major significance for founding figures such as Alfred Haddon and Franz Boas art became marginal as the discipline turned towards social analysis in the 1920s This book addresses a major moment of renewal in the anthropology of art in the 1960s and 1970s British anthropologist Anthony Forge 1929 1991 trained in Cambridge undertook fieldwork among the Abelam of Papua New Guinea in the late 1950s and 1960s and wrote influentially especially about issues of style and meaning in art His powerful question raising arguments addressed basic issues asking why so much art was produced in some regions and why was it so socially important Fifty years later art has renewed global significance and anthropologists are again considering both its local expressions among Indigenous peoples and its new global circulation In this context Forge's arguments have renewed relevance they help scholars and students understand the genealogies of current debates and remind us of fundamental questions that remain unanswered This volume brings together Forge's most important writings on the anthropology of art published over a thirty year period together with six assessments of his legacy including extended reappraisals of Sepik ethnography by distinguished anthropologists from Australia Germany Switzerland and the United Kingdom Provided by publisher

Community Art Kate Crehan, 2020-05-26 Exploring key issues for the anthropology of art and art theory this fascinating text provides the first in depth study of community art from an anthropological perspective The book focuses on the forty year history of Free Form Arts Trust an arts group that played a major part in the 1970s struggle to carve out a space for community arts in Britain Turning their back on the world of gallery art the fine artist founders of Free Form were determined to use their visual expertise to connect through collaborative art projects with the working class people excluded by the established art world In seeking to give the residents of poor communities a greater role in shaping their built environment the artists aesthetic practice would be transformed Community Art examines this process of aesthetic transformation and its rejection of the individualized practice of the gallery artist The Free Form story calls into question common understandings of the categories of art expertise and community and makes this story relevant beyond late twentieth century and early twenty first century Britain Anthropology and Art Charlotte M. Otten,1976 Art and Agency Alfred Gell,1998-07-09 Alfred Gell puts forward a new anthropological theory of visual art seen as a form of instrumental action the making of things as a means of influencing the thoughts and actions of others He argues that existing anthropological and aesthetic theories take an overwhelmingly passive point of view and questions the criteria that accord art status only to a certain class of objects and not to others The anthropology of art is here reformulated as the anthropology of a category of action Gell shows how art objects embody complex intentionalities and mediate social agency He explores the psychology of patterns and perceptions art and personhood the control of knowledge and the interpretation of meaning drawing upon a diversity of artistic traditions European Indian Polynesian Melanesian and Australian Art and Agency was completed just before Alfred Gell s death at the age of 51 in January 1997 It embodies the intellectual bravura lively wit vigour and erudition for which he was admired and will stand as an enduring testament to one of the most gifted anthropologists of his generation Anthropology of the Arts Gretchen Bakke,Marina Peterson,2016-12-29 A comprehensive introduction to the anthropology of the arts this is the first textbook to go beyond visual art to cover the arts more broadly Drawing together media such as painting sound performance video and film it presents a clear overview of the cross cultural human experience of art Introducing students to the basics as well as the latest scholarship the book features 45 chapters which combine classic texts from anthropologists such as Pierre Bourdieu Claude L vi Strauss Margaret Mead Bronislaw Malinowski Alfred Gell Franz Boas and Mary Douglas with recent scholarship by George Marcus Tim Ingold Roger Sansi Christopher Pinney Georgina Born and others Both theoretical and ethnographic readings with coverage ranging from Bali Papua New Guinea Egypt sub Saharan Africa Eastern Europe and Australia to the United States Introductory materials ethnographic exercises further reading ideas and alternative suggestions for navigating the content based on medium geography theory or ethnography Designed for classroom use Anthropology of the Arts is invaluable for teaching and learning Engaging and accessible it is essential reading for students in anthropology of art anthropology of design anthropology of performance and related courses An Anthropology of Contemporary Art Thomas Fillitz,Paul van der Grijp,2018-01-25 Drawing on the exciting developments that have occurred in the anthropology of art over the last twenty years this study uses ethnographic methods to explore shifts in the art market and global contemporary art Recognizing that the huge diversity of global phenomena requires research on the ground An Anthropology of Contemporary Art examines the local art markets biennials networks of collectors curators artists patrons auction houses and museums that constitute the global art world Divided into four parts Picture and Medium World Art Studies and Global

Art Art Markets Maecenas and Collectors Participatory Art and Collaboration chapters go beyond the standard emphasis on Europe and North America to present first hand fieldwork from a wide range of areas including Brazil Turkey and Asia and the Pacific With contributions from distinguished anthropologists such as Philippe Descola and Roger Sansi Roca this book provides a fresh approach to key topics in the discipline A model for demonstrating how contemporary art can be studied ethnographically this is a vital read for students in anthropology of art visual anthropology visual culture and related fields

Anthropology of Art Howard Morphy, Morgan Perkins, 2006 This anthology provides a single volume overview of the essential theoretical debates in the anthropology of art Drawing together significant work in the field from the second half of the twentieth century it enables readers to appreciate the art of various cultures at different times An essay from the editors offering an intellectual critique of the history of the discipline and exploring the contribution that the analysis of art can make to human societies prefaces the volume each part also begins with a useful editorial introduction to the readings The readings themselves cover all the major debates in the field including definitions of art and aesthetics the nature of representational processes the nature of authenticity the Primitivism controversy the history of trade and commodification and the role of contemporary artists This anthology is the ideal resource for readers new to the anthropology of art At the same time it allows those with some knowledge of the discipline to see how art and aesthetics can contribute to their research

A Return to the Object Susanne Kuechler, Timothy Carroll, 2020-11-26 In this book Susan Kuechler and Timothy Carroll draw on the work of anthropologist Alfred Gell to reinstate the importance of the object in art Rather than presenting art as a passive recipient of the artist s intention and the audience s critique this book considers it in the social environment of its production and reception A Return to the Object introduces the reader to the historical and theoretical framework out of which an anthropology of art has emerged and examines the conditions under which it has renewed interest It also shows the reader what art does as a social and cultural phenomenon and how it can impact alternative ways of organising and managing knowledge Using ethnography museological practice and the intellectual history of the arts and sciences material studies and intangible heritage the authors present a case for the re orientation of current conversations surrounding the anthropology of art The book will be complemented by a companion website that will contain illustrations and case studies to aid student engagement

Changing Perspectives in Anthropology of Art Valda Blundell, 2000-08-11 Rather than reflecting ideas originating elsewhere in the social world the book maintains that art contributes to the way in which the social world is structured experienced and reproduced

Contemporary Anthropologies of the Arts in China Aimin Yan, Luo Yifei, 2019-01-24 The anthropology of art in China includes studies of popular arts among the Han in both rural and urban settings and of folk arts among minority peoples The country is currently experiencing rapid social change and aesthetic values are being transformed Chinese scholars have both an exciting range of dramatic case studies to present and their own distinctive theories to offer on these processes This volume is the first to present an overview of the anthropology of art in China to researchers in the English speaking world The essays are written by leading Chinese professors in the fields of visual art dance music and art theory

Beyond Aesthetics Christopher Pinney, Nicholas Thomas, 2020-05-25 The anthropology of art is currently at a crossroads Although well versed in the meaning of art in small scale tribal societies anthropologists are still wrestling with the question of how to interpret art in a complex post colonial environment Alfred Gell recently confronted this problem in his posthumous book Art and Agency The central thesis of his study was that art objects could be seen not as bearers of meaning or aesthetic value but as forms mediating social action At a stroke Gell provocatively dismissed many longstanding but tired questions of definition and issues of aesthetic value His book proposed a novel perspective on the roles of art in political practice and made fresh links between analyses of style tradition and society Offering a new overview of the anthropology of art this book begins where Gell left off Presenting wide ranging critiques of the limits of aesthetic interpretation the workings of objects in practice the relations between meaning and efficacy and the politics of postcolonial art its distinguished contributors both elaborate on and dissent from the controversies of Gells important text Subjects covered include music and the internet as well as ethnographic traditions and contemporary indigenous art Geographically its case studies range from India to Oceania to North America and Europe

Alternative Art and Anthropology Arnd Schneider, 2020-05-14 While the importance of the relationship between anthropology and contemporary art has long been recognized the discussion has tended to be among scholars from North America Europe and Australia until now scholarship and experiences from other regions have been largely absent from mainstream debate Alternative Art and Anthropology: Global Encounters rectifies this by offering a ground breaking new approach to the subject Entirely dedicated to perspectives from Asia Latin America and Africa the book advances our understanding of the connections between anthropology and contemporary art on a global scale Across ten chapters a range of anthropologists artists and curators from countries such as China Japan Indonesia Bhutan Nigeria Chile Ecuador and the Philippines discuss encounters between anthropology and contemporary art from their points of view presenting readers with new vantage points and perspectives Arnd Schneider a leading scholar in the field draws together the various threads to provide readers with a clear conceptual and theoretical narrative The first to map the relationship between anthropology and contemporary art from a global perspective this is a key text for students and academics in areas such as anthropology visual anthropology anthropology of art art history and curatorial studies

The Art and Material Culture of Iranian Shi'ism Pedram Khosronejad, 2011-11-30 Shi'i Islam has been the official religion of Iran from the Safavids 1501 1732 to the present day The

Shi'i world experience has provided a rich artistic tradition encompassing painting sculpture and the production of artefacts and performance which has helped to embed Shi'i identity in Iran as part of its national narrative In what areas of material culture has Iranian Shi'ism manifested itself through objects or buildings that are unique within the overall culture of Islam To what extent is the art and architecture of Iran from the Safavid period onwards identifiably Shi'i What does this say about the relationship of nation state and faith in Iran Here leading experts trace the material heritage of Iranian Shi'ism within each of its political religious and cultural dimensions
