The Arms Trade With The Third World:

The Arms Trade with the Third World Stockholm International Peace Research Institute,1975     The A to Z of the Non-Aligned Movement and Third World Guy Arnold,2010-04-06 During the long period when the world was divided between East and West and the Cold War threatened to turn hot with devastating consequences the Non Aligned Movement was one of the few institutions that consistently sought other outcomes not in its own interest but that of all humanity Consisting of over 100 states that are free of any formal alliances with any major power bloc the Non Aligned Movement provides aid to those countries striving to gain independence eliminate poverty and develop their economy Just what the Non Aligned Movement and Third World sought and at times achieved is set forth in this unique reference work with its over 200 cross referenced dictionary entries on important persons organizations and conferences as well as the key issues and concepts Entries are supported by an extensive chronology an introduction to the movement and a bibliography for further research

Air Force Journal of Logistics ,1983     Security and Economy in the Third World Nicole Ball,2014-07-14 Nicole Ball brings the effects of security expenditure to the center of that debate examining in detail how the potential negative consequences on development outweigh the potential positive effects Originally published in 1988 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905     Arms Trade with the Third World SIPRI,1971-01-01     Multinational Corporations And The Third World C.J. Dixon,2019-03-06 This book an outcome of the conference in 1983 held at the University of Birmingham examines the varied roles played by multinational corporations in the economies of the Third World countries and concentrates more closely on regional national sectoral or corporate levels     The Soviet Union in the Third World Robert H.

Donaldson,2022-12-28 The Soviet Union in the Third World 1981 analyses Soviet objectives in the developing world the instruments of foreign policy employed and their success and failure the implications of Soviet foreign policy for the international system in general and the US foreign and defence policies in particular Twenty leading specialists examine Soviet involvement in Latin America Africa the Middle East and Asia and discuss the subject from both security and economic perspectives     Militarization, Internal Repression and Social Welfare in the Third World Miles D Wolpin,2023-10-27

First published in 1986 Militarization Internal Repression and Social Welfare in the Third World argues that there is a relationship between the level of a regime s military spending and the degree of internal repression it inflicts This book presents a detailed empirical analysis of this situation and presents the results of more than three dozen researchers who have published comparative or case studies of the substitution effects of military expenditures in socio economic areas While the primary concern is with the Third World the book also analyses the costs to advanced capitalist and to state socialist systems and discusses their role in further militarization This book will be of interest to students of political science international relations colonialism and area studies

Military Industry and Regional Defense Policy Timothy D. Hoyt, 2017-07-05 Military Industry and Regional Defense Policy re examines military industrialization in the developing world focusing on policy making in producer states and the impact of security perceptions on such policy making Timothy D Hoyt reassesses the role of regional state sub systems in international relations and recent historical studies of international technology and arms transfers Looking at Israel Iraq and India the three most powerful regional powers in the Cold War era he presents an expert analysis of the three sided phenomena of the regional hegemony the regional competitor and the small over achiever This new book breaks away from existing literature on military industries in the developing world which has focused on their economic and development costs and benefits These past studies have used primitive methodologies that focus on the production of complete weapons systems a misleading gauge in a world of growing international defense cooperation They have also ignored empirical evidence of the impact of local military industrial production on Cold War regional conflict and of the defence planning and concerns that drove development of indigenous military industries in key regional powers This new text delivers an incisive new perspective

Building Global Security Through Cooperation Joseph Rotblat, John P. Holdren, 2012-12-06 1989 was by any standards an extraordinary year the year in which the Cold War ended However although much has changed much remains unresolved or not changed at all Even though the rationale for the huge military forces has been removed from the East West relationship these forces still retain a tremendous potential to do harm Moreover threats to peace may grow along North South and South South axes An example of such a threat is the rapid growth in size and sophistication of military arsenals in the South The contributions to this volume make it clear that the problems of East and West North and South are inter twined Security can be gained only through cooperation The contributors who come from widely differing geographical cultural and political backgrounds all share the Pugwash tradition of scientific objectivity

The DISAM Journal of International Security Assistance Management ,1994 The USSR and Iraq Oles M. Smolansky, 1991 In The USSR and Iraq the first major study of Soviet Iraqi relations Oles M Smolansky examines the history of the relationship between these two countries during the past twenty years and attempts to dispel the misconception that the Soviet Union has enjoyed undue influence over Iraq Drawing on ten years of research in Western Arab and Soviet sources Smolansky analyzes the complex issues at the center of Soviet Iraqi relations from 1968 through 1988 including the nationalization of the oil industry the Kurdish question the Iraqi Communist Party the affairs of the Persian Arabian Gulf and ultimately the war between Iraq and Iran Smolansky concludes that Iraq has never been under the dominant influence of Moscow nor has it even been a loyal Soviet ally In fact Iraq has managed to reap major benefits from the relationship without losing its autonomy or sacrificing its major interests The author discusses the Soviet Union and Iraq within the larger framework of the nature of influence relationships between great and small powers      Soviet Foreign Policy in a Changing World Robbin F. Laird, Erik P. Hoffmann, 2021-03-22 No detailed description available for Soviet Foreign Policy in a Changing World      The Quest For A Just World Order Samuel S Kim, 2019-07-11 In response to a growing sense of dissatisfaction with the state of the world and the state of international relations research Professor Kim has taken an alternative approach to the study of contemporary world politics Specifically he has adopted and expanded the cross cultural interdisciplinary and transnational approach developed by the World Order Models Project WOMP an enterprise committed to the realization of peace economic equality and well being social justice and ecological balance Systemic in scope and interdisciplinary in methodology The Quest for a Just World Order explains and projects the issues patterns and trends of world politics giving special attention to the attitudinal normative behavioral and institutional problems involved in the politics of system transformation Professor Kim also attempts to remedy a number of problematic features of traditional approaches including a value neutral orientation fragmentation and overspecialization overemphasis on national actors the superpowers and stability and the Hobbesian image of world politics Part 1 presents a conceptual framework for developing a normative theory of world order Each of the four chapters in Part 2 examines a specific global crisis in depth working within the framework laid out in Part 1 In Part 3 a variety of desirable and feasible transition strategies are proposed and Professor Kim assesses the prospects for achieving a just and humane world order system by the end of this century      The End of the Third World Guy Arnold, 2016-07-27 The end of the Cold War has changed all the parameters of our world and not least of these is the relationship between the rich developed North and the poor developing South Without the compulsions of the Cold War and the need for its two sides to seek allies in the South the Third World will now find itself increasingly marginalised by a West which only sees it as a series of depressed trading partners to be managed or ignored depending upon circumstances now completely beyond the South's control while the West itself appears to have lost both its purpose and its way as the former communist bloc disintegrates      Prospects for Peace Frank Barnaby, 2015-04-30 Prospects for Peace is an eight chapter text that focuses on the issues and controversies in the so called global peace The first chapters provide a framework of the issues of global peace the increasing probability of nuclear war global militarization and the spread and use of nuclear weapons These topics are followed by discussions of legal policies concerning nuclear weapon particularly nuclear war fighting weapon in Europe A chapter examines the unimaginable consequences of nuclear war The last chapter emphasizes the prospects for peace including nuclear weapon disarmament and the control of military science

Warfare and the Third World R. Harkavy, S. Neuman, 2016-04-30 This book is designed to help the reader better understand the conduct of war by focusing on the how not the why of warfare It examines a number of crucial dimensions of contemporary armed conflict such as the strategies operations tactics doctrines and weapons of conventional and low intensity war military geography the cultural underpinnings of strategies and tactics arms resupply security assistance and foreign intervention      Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,1987-12      The End of the Cold War and The Third World Artemy Kalinovsky, Sergey Radchenko, 2011-04-19 This book brings together recent research on the end of the Cold War in the Third World and engages with ongoing debates about regional conflicts the role of great powers in the developing world and the role of international actors in conflict resolution Most of the recent scholarship on the end of the Cold War has focused on Europe or bilateral US Soviet relations By contrast relatively little has been written on the end of the Cold War in the Third World in Asia Africa and Latin America How did the great transformation of the world in the late 1980s affect regional conflicts and client relationships Who won and who lost in the Third World and why do so many Cold War era problems remain unresolved This book brings to light for the first time evidence from newly declassified archives in Russia the United States Eastern Europe as well as from private collections recent memoirs and interviews with key participants It goes further than anything published so far in systematically explaining both from the perspectives of the superpowers and the Third World countries what the end of bipolarity meant not only for the underdeveloped periphery so long enmeshed in ideological socio political and military conflicts sponsored by Washington Moscow or Beijing but also for the broader patterns of international relations This book will be of much interest to students of the Cold War war and conflict studies third world and development studies international history and IR in general      Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,1984-05
