Confraternities offers new perspectives on the contribution of guild and devotional confraternities to the urban phonosphere based on original research and an interdisciplinary approach. Historians of art, architecture, culture, sound, music, and the senses consider the ways in which, through their devotional practices, confraternities acted as patrons of music, created their identity through sound, and were involved in the everyday musical experience of major cities in early modern Europe. Confraternities have been studied from many different angles but only rarely as acoustic communities that communicated through sound and whose musical activities delimited the urban spaces in which they were active.

Spectacular Wealth Lisa Voigt, 2016-12-13. Bridging print culture and performance. Spectacular Wealth draws on eighteenth century festival accounts to explore how colonial residents of the silver mining town of Potosi in the viceroyalty of Peru and the gold mining region of Minas Gerais in Brazil created rich festive cultures that refuted European allegations of barbarism and greed. In her examination of the festive participation of the towns' diverse inhabitants, including those whose forced or slave labor produced the colonies' mineral wealth, Lisa Voigt shows how Amerindians, Afro-descendants, Europeans, and creoles displayed their social capital and cultural practices in spectacular performances. Tracing the multiple meanings and messages of civic festivals and religious feast days alike, Spectacular Wealth highlights the conflicting agendas at work in the organization, performance, and publication of festivals. Celebrants and writers in mining boomtowns presented themselves as far more than tributaries yielding mineral wealth to the Spanish and Portuguese empires, using festivals to redefine their reputations and to celebrate their cultural, spiritual, and intellectual wealth.

The Pinkster King and the King of Kongo Jeroen Dewulf, 2016-12-20. The Pinkster King and the King of Kongo presents the history of the nation's forgotten Dutch slave community and free Dutch speaking African Americans from seventeenth century New Amsterdam to nineteenth century New York and New Jersey. It also develops a provocative new interpretation of one of America's most intriguing black folkloric traditions. Pinkster. Jeroen Dewulf rejects the usual interpretation of this celebration of a slave king as a form of carnival. Instead, he shows that it is a ritual rooted in mutual aid and slave brotherhood traditions. By placing these traditions in an Atlantic context, Dewulf identifies striking parallels to royal election rituals in slave communities elsewhere in the Americas, and he traces these rituals to the ancient Kingdom of Kongo and the impact of Portuguese culture in West Central Africa. Dewulf's focus on the social capital of slaves follows the mutual aid to seventeenth century Manhattan. He suggests a much stronger impact of Manhattan's first slave community on the development of African American identity in New York and New Jersey than hitherto assumed. While the earliest works on slave culture in a North American context concentrated on an assumed process of assimilation according to European standards, later studies pointed out the need to look for indigenous African continuities The Pinkster King and the King of Kongo suggests the necessity for an increased focus on the substantial contact that many Africans had with European primarily Portuguese cultures before they were shipped as slaves to the Americas The book has already garnered honors as the winner of the Richard O Collins Award in African Studies the New Netherland Institute Hendricks Award and the Clague and Carol Van Slyke Prize Ebony, 1973-11 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine Black Power Ideologies John Mccartney, 2010-06-18 Tracing the course of Black Power Movements from the 18th century to the present
