The Enduring Dream History Of Benedict College 18701995:

The Violent World of Broadus Miller Kevin W. Young, 2024-04-30 In the summer of 1927 an itinerant Black laborer named Broadus Miller was accused of killing a fifteen year old white girl in Morganton North Carolina Miller became the target of a massive manhunt lasting nearly two weeks After he was gunned down in the North Carolina mountains his body was taken back to Morganton and publicly displayed on the courthouse lawn on a Sunday afternoon attracting thousands of spectators Kevin W Young vividly illustrates the violence wracked world of the early twentieth century in the Carolinas the world that created both Miller and the hunters who killed him Young provides a panoramic overview of this turbulent time telling important contextual histories of events that played into this tragic story including the horrific prison conditions of the era the rise of the Ku Klux Klan and the influx of Black immigrants into North Carolina More than an account of a single murder case this book vividly illustrates the stormy race relations in the Carolinas during the early 1900s reminding us that the legacy of this era lingers into the present

The Enduring Dream Marianna W. Davis, 1995 Congregation and Campus William H. Brackney, 2008 In this book the fullness of the Baptist experience in Christian higher education is explored charted and analyzed Beginning with the establishment in 1756 of the Academy and reaching to the present the author explores the need for Baptists to pursue education and the types of schools they founded Included are colleges universities manual labor schools literary and theological institutions theological schools and bible colleges Special attention is given to women and higher education and the Black Baptist achievements Details are provided about what makes a Baptist school Baptist charters trustees presidents support church accountability Chapters at the end of the typological and chronological narratives ponder the meaning of denominational education at present with suggestions about the future of faith based institutions and the failure of contemporary literature to attend properly to Baptist idiosyncrasies

South Carolina Women Marjorie Julian Spruill, 2010-01-25 The biographical essays in this volume provide new insights into the various ways that South Carolina women asserted themselves in their state and illuminate the tension between tradition and change that defined the South from the Civil War through the Progressive Era As old rules including gender conventions that severely constrained southern women were dramatically bent if not broken these women carved out new roles for themselves and others The volume begins with a profile of Laura Towne and Ellen Murray who founded the Penn School on St Helena Island for former slaves Subsequent essays look at such women as the five Rollin sisters members of a prominent black family who became passionate advocates for women s rights during Reconstruction writer Josephine Pinckney who helped preserve African American spirituals and explored conflicts between the New and Old South in her essays and novels and Dr Matilda Evans the first African American woman licensed to practice medicine in the state Intractable racial attitudes often caused women to follow separate but parallel paths as with Louisa B Poppenheim and Marion B Wilkinson Poppenheim who was white and Wilkinson who was black were both driving forces in the women s club movement Both saw clubs as a way not only to help women and children but also to showcase these positive changes to the wider nation Yet the two women worked separately as did the white and black state federations of women s clubs Often mixing deference with daring these women helped shape their society through such avenues as education religion politics community organizing history the arts science and medicine Women in the mid and late twentieth century would build on their accomplishments The South Carolina Encyclopedia Walter B.
