Experiments in Skin Thuy Linh Nguyen Tu, 2021-02-22 In Experiments in Skin Thuy Linh Nguyen Tu examines the ongoing influence of the Vietnam War on contemporary ideas about race and beauty Framing skin as the site around which these ideas have been formed Tu foregrounds the histories of militarism in the production of US biomedical knowledge and commercial cosmetics She uncovers the efforts of wartime scientists in the US Military Dermatology Research Program to alleviate the environmental and chemical risks to soldiers skin These dermatologists sought relief for white soldiers while denying that African American soldiers and Vietnamese civilians were also vulnerable to harm Their experiments led to the development of pharmaceutical cosmetics now used by women in Ho Chi Minh City to tend to their skin and to grapple with the damage caused by the war s lingering toxicity In showing how the US military laid the foundations for contemporary Vietnamese consumption of cosmetics and practices of beauty Tu shows how the intersecting histories of militarism biomedicine race and aesthetics become materially and metaphorically visible on skin Skin Ilka Tampke, 2015-02-25 For the people of Caer Cad skin is their totem their greeting their ancestors their land Ailia does not have skin Abandoned at birth she serves the Tribequeen of her township Ailia is not permitted to marry excluded from tribal ceremonies and most devastatingly forbidden to learn But the Mothers the tribal ancestors have chosen her for another path Lured by the beautiful and enigmatic Taliesin Ailia embarks on an unsanctioned journey to attain the knowledge that will protect her people from the most terrifying invaders they have ever faced Set in Iron Age Britain on the cusp of Roman invasion Skin is a thrilling full blooded mesmerising novel about the collision of two worlds and a young woman torn between two men Stories on Skin Terry Baxter, Libby Coyner-Tsosie, 2025-01-23 Helping expand archival studies into impermanent media like body art this book suggests that archiving must be considered a form of storytelling Tattoos are not merely decorative they contain deep meaning for individuals and communities They document their wearers personal histories and position in families or society and they engage with a communal understanding of symbols This unique book makes the case that archivists who want to preserve as full a human story as possible must recognize the rich documentation provided by tattoos It also argues in a broader sense that traditional archives are not representative of the ways human beings transmit information through time and that they must be augmented by other types of storytelling to provide a more complete record of our species Authors

Baxter and Coyner touch on timely topics such as historical narratives storytelling cultural traditions the body as a text social control and memorialization by considering tattoos as a personal and community archive Discussing tattoos as a storytelling tool the authors also challenge how history is kept and who gets included Stories on Skin is committed to the rights of communities to tell their stories in their own way and to the power that right brings Stories in a New Skin Keavy Martin,2012-12-15 In an age where southern power holders look north and see only vacant polar landscapes isolated communities and exploitable resources it is important to note that the Inuit homeland encompasses extensive philosophical political and literary traditions Stories in a New Skin is a seminal text that explores these Arctic literary traditions and in the process reveals a pathway into Inuit literary criticism Author Keavy Martin considers writing storytelling and performance from a range of genres and historical periods the classic stories and songs of Inuit oral traditions life writing oral histories and contemporary fiction poetry and film and discusses the ways in which these texts constitute an autonomous literary tradition She draws attention to the interconnection between language form and context and illustrates the capacity of Inuit writers singers and storytellers to instruct diverse audiences in the appreciation of Inuit texts Although Eurowestern academic contexts and literary terminology are a relatively foreign presence in Inuit territory Martin builds on the inherent adaptability and resilience of Inuit genres in order to foster greater southern awareness of a tradition whose audience has remained primarily northern Tattooed Bodies James Martell,Erik Larsen,2022-01-20 The essays collected in Tattooed Bodies draw on a range of theoretical paradigms and empirical knowledge to investigate tattoos tattooing and our complex relations with marks on skin Engaging with diverse disciplinary perspectives in art history continental philosophy media studies psychoanalysis critical theory literary studies biopolitics and cultural anthropology the volume reflects the sheer diversity of meanings attributed to tattoos throughout history and across cultures Essays explore conceptualizations of tattoos and tattooing in Derrida Deleuze and Guattari Lacan Agamben and Jean Luc Nancy while utilizing theoretical perspectives to interpret tattoos in literary works by Melville Beckett Kafka Genet and Jeff VanderMeer among others Tattooed Bodies prompts readers to explore a few significant questions Are tattoos unique phenomena or an art medium in need of special theoretical exploration If so what conceptual paradigms and theories might best shape our understanding of tattoos and their complex ubiquity in world cultures and histories Inuit Stories of Being and Rebirth Bernard Saladin d'Anglure,2018-11-30 Ujarak Iqallijuq and Kupaaq were elders from the Inuit community on Igloodik Island in Nunavut The three elders among others shared with Bernard Saladin d'Anglure the narratives which make up the heart of Inuit Stories of Being and Rebirth Through their words and historical sources recorded by Franz Boas and Knud Rasmussen Saladin d'Anglure examines the Inuit notion of personhood and its relationship to cosmology and mythology Central to these stories are womb memories narratives of birth and reincarnation and the concept of the third sex an intermediate identity between male and female As explained through first person accounts and traditional legends myths and folk tales the presence of

The handbook examines policy making in the sphere of colorism internationally and across countries and provides thoughtful insights on colorism discrimination in different contexts. Hallam, Tim Ingold, 2016-05-13 Making and Growing brings together the latest work in the fields of anthropology and material culture studies to explore the differences and the relation between making things and growing things and between things that are made and things that grow. Though the former are often regarded as artefacts and the latter as organisms, the book calls this distinction into question, examining the implications for our understanding of materials, design and creativity. Grounding their arguments in case studies from different regions and historical periods, the contributors to this volume show how making and growing give rise to co-produced and mutually modifying organisms and artefacts, including human persons. They attend to the properties of materials and to the forms of knowledge and sensory experience involved in these processes and explore the dynamics of making and undoing, growing and decomposition. The book will be of broad interest to scholars in the fields of anthropology, archaeology, material culture studies, history and sociology. The Story of Elysian writers
