Structural Adjustment In A Newly Industrialized Country The Korean Experience:

Structural Adjustment in a Newly Industrialized Country Vittorio Corbo, Sang-mok Sö, Sang-Mok Suh, 1992 Structural Adjustment in a Newly Industrialized Country Vittorio Corbo, Sang-mok Sö, 1992 Korea's Growth and Industrial Transformation H. Lim, 1998-08-19 This book seeks to explore the role of domestic politics in the selection of industrial policy and the different patterns of industrial transformation in East Asia The approach taken in this book partly draws on earlier studies of industrial transformation product cycle theory and statist theory but combines and complements them by emphasizing the role of coalition in industrial policy and industrial transformation Development Strategies in East Asia and Latin America Akio Hosono, Neantro Saavedra-Rivano, 1998-07-15 A fresh insight on the unequal impact of development policies in East Asia and Latin America Written by economists and political scientists from Brazil Chile Korea Japan Malaysia and the US chapters share a political economy perspective and are the result of collaborative work coordinated by researchers at the University of Tsukuba Japan In addition to chapters on particular countries and on broad subjects there are three chapters presenting detailed comparisons of pairs of countries Brazil and Korea Indonesia and Mexico Chile and Malaysia Women in the Age of Economic Transformation Nahid Aslanbeigui, Steven Pressman, Gale Summerfield, 2005-08-04 Changes are sweeping the world economy and are most apparent in post socialist Europe and in the developing world This volume examines the impact these changes are having on women The authors discuss the evidence of gender bias and reach some telling if unsurprising conclusions Regardless of the country involved the findings point to consistent female disadvantage in the transformation process Understanding Korean Politics Soong Hoom Kil, Chung-in Moon, 2010-03-10 Essential reading for anyone interested in contemporary Korea and East Asia this book provides a comprehensive and balanced introduction to contemporary Korean politics It explicates the great changes in South Korea which has gone from being one of the poorest nations to a proud member of the Organization for Economic Development and Cooperation while making the transition to democracy The work focuses on the geopolitical and cultural setting historical evolution institutional foundation dynamics of political leadership and political and administrative processes of Korean politics It also features chapters on political determinants of the rise and decline of the Korean economy foreign and unification policy of South Korea and political development and decay in North Korea Cinema and the Cultural Cold War Sangjoon Lee, 2020-12-15 Cinema and the Cultural Cold War explores the ways in which postwar Asian cinema was shaped by transnational collaborations and competitions between newly independent and colonial states at the height of Cold War politics Sangjoon Lee adopts a simultaneously global and regional approach when analyzing the region's film cultures and industries New economic conditions in the Asian region and shared postwar experiences among the early cinema entrepreneurs were influenced by Cold War politics US cultural diplomacy and intensified cultural flows during the 1950s and 1960s By taking a closer look at the cultural realities of this tumultuous period Lee comprehensively reconstructs Asian film history in light of the international relationships forged broken and re established as the influence of the non aligned movement grew across the Cold War Lee elucidates how motion picture executives creative personnel policy makers and intellectuals in East and Southeast Asia aspired to industrialize their Hollywood inspired system in order to expand the market and raise the competitiveness of their cultural products They did this by forming the Federation of Motion Picture Producers in Asia co hosting the Asian Film Festival and co producing films Cinema and the Cultural Cold War demonstrates that the emergence of the first intensive postwar film producers network in Asia was in large part the offspring of Cold War cultural politics and the product of American hegemony Film festivals that took place in cities as diverse as Tokyo Singapore Hong Kong and Kuala Lumpur were annual showcases of cinematic talent as well as opportunities for the Central Intelligence Agency to establish and maintain cultural political and institutional linkages between the United States and Asia during the Cold War Cinema and the Cultural Cold War reanimates this almost forgotten history of cinema and the film industry in Asia

Specificity and the Macroeconomics of Restructuring Ricardo J. Caballero, 2007 A proposal that the notion of specificity the idea that factors of production are not interchangeable can provide a unified framework to analyze and understand a wide variety of macroeconomic phenomena stemming from the transactional environment and microeconomic restructuring The core mechanism that drives economic growth in modern market economies is massive microeconomic restructuring and factor reallocation the Schumpeterian creative destruction by which new technologies replace the old At the microeconomic level restructuring is characterized by countless decisions to create and destroy production arrangements The efficiency of these decisions depends in large part on the existence of sound institutions that provide a proper transactional environment In this groundbreaking book Ricardo Caballero proposes a unified framework to analyze and understand a wide variety of macroeconomic phenomena stemming from limitations especially institutional that hinder these adjustments Caballero argues that macroeconomic models need to be made more structural in a precise sense and can not be maintained on the assumption that decisions are fully flexible What is needed he proposes is the notion of specificity the idea that factors of production are not freely interchangeable Many of the major macroeconomic developments of recent decades he argues fit naturally into this perspective including the transition problems of Eastern Europe the heavy weight of labor regulations in Western Europe the emerging market crises of the 1990s the prolonged expansion of the U S economy and Japan s stagnation following the collapse of its real estate bubble After describing the basic arguments of the book and developing models to illustrate two different kinds of specificity relationship specificity and technological specificity Caballero analyzes a variety of aspects of inefficient restructuring and revisits perennial business cycle patterns such as the cyclical behavior of unemployment investment and wages Finally he looks at the endogenous response of political institutions and technology to opportunistic exploitation of relationship specificity Economists working on macroeconomics development growth labor and productivity issues will find Caballero's conceptual framework applicable to phenomena in their fields

Policy Reform As Collective Action Mr.Omotunde E. G.

Johnson,1997-12-01 A government desiring support for its policy reform program without coercion behaves as if it faces a political constraint Citizen support depends on the estimate by at least some minimum proportion of the population that the program will succeed and the outcome will be in their individual self interest Government behavior has implications for the program whose contents constitute the set of signals used by citizens to estimate the probability that the program will succeed The government uses various devices to mobilize support for its program An informed expert could design a program acceptable to both the government and the citizens
