Structural and Sectoral Adjustment Carl Jayarajah, William H. Branson, 1995-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 290 Draws on the lessons of experience of developing countries in decentralizing infrastructure and provides new empirical evidence on the quantitative and qualitative effects of decentralization This collection of five papers highlights the lessons of the World Bank's research and experience on the linkages between infrastructure and decentralization The paper provides A summary of the lessons from World Bank experience giving a general review of the importance of the decentralization of infrastructure A review of the institutional aspects of decentralization and their implications for policy design An empirical assessment of the consequences of decentralization for expenditure levels and performance in infrastructure An outline for a research agenda on decentralization in light of recent developments in the theory of the firm The authors conclude that some degree of decentralization will improve performance in certain areas of infrastructure such as roads and electricity 2000

Annual Review of Development Effectiveness William Battaille, 2001-01-01 This Annual Review of Development Effectiveness ARDE builds on previous reviews i e the 1998 review released in a hostile environment of financial crisis concluded that improvements in project performance cannot be enough that improvements at a higher plane of program and country performance should also be present and the 1999 review inscribed within the Comprehensive Development Framework dilemmas and challenges identified practices for dealing with those challenges namely to be based on country commitments to poverty reduction and sustainable growth The ARDE 2000 finds that progress was solid on a broad front but that further progress is likely Portfolio performance is likely to exceed the Strategic Compact target of seventy five percent satisfactory outcomes and sustainability and institutional development ratings reflect improvements Though progress is commendable this review examines four tensions the Bank faces learning to reconcile client and corporate priorities adapting global prescriptions to local conditions balancing country performance and poverty incidence in allocating its resources and achieving efficiency selectivity seeking to implement a holistic vision of development Bank strategies should acknowledge client needs judicious adaptation to institutional social and political fronts should be pursued and an approach to poor performing countries should be addressed

Making Development Work Robert Selman, 2018-01-16 Worldwide the number of poor people increased during the past decade despite technological improvements more open trade and improved policy frameworks in developing countries Regional conflicts adverse shifts in terms of trade and marginalization of poor countries in the new global economy explain this outcome This highlights the need to reform development assistance and improve its effectiveness Making Development Work examines the four key principles of the Comprehensive Development Framework a World Bank initiative currently being piloted in twelve developing countries The initiative promotes a holistic long term vision of development domestic ownership of development programs and focus on results and stronger partnership between government the private sector and the civil society The first section of the volume describes the evolution in development

thinking that culminated in this new consensus The second focuses on country ownership of development policies and programs Based on empirical evidence it proposes a new view of the aid relationship as a mutual learning process The third section focuses on results and on the ways aid agencies might enhance development impact of their operations It concludes with a preliminary assessment of strategies for scaling up from specific projects to sector and programmatic approaches and suggests ways to adapt them to counter conditions The experience of a bilateral aid agency U S Agency for International Development USAID is examined in this context The fourth section focuses on partnership emphasizing that aid agencies must be explicit about the kinds of partnerships they seek with countries and the kinds of strategic selectivity they will exercise The final chapter pulls together the lessons of development experience at various levels of operation It outlines key tensions between comprehensiveness and selectivity ownership and conditionality speed and broad based ownership focus on results and poor local evaluation capacity and enhanced country focus and globalization Promising approaches to manage these tensions are put forward to replace one size fits all prescriptions with client empowerment and social learning Making Development Work offers rich lessons on improving the effectiveness of aid It will be of particular interest to development practitioners students and professors of development economics studies Nagy Hanna is a lead corporate strategist and evaluation officer at the World Bank He has published extensively on development management and knowledge Robert Picciotto is director general of Operations Evaluation at the World Bank

IMF and World Bank Sponsored Structural Adjustment Programs in Africa Kwadwo Konadu-Agyemang, 2018-10-24 This title was first published in 2001 Bringing together geographers planners political scientists economists rural development specialists bankers public administrators and other development experts this volume questions the benefits of Structural Adjustment Programmes SAPs It critically assesses the impact of SAPs from a wider perspective than a purely economic one highlighting concerns about impacts of adjustments on the more vulnerable elements of society such as social welfare the environment labour gender and agriculture Revealing both the costs and benefits of the economic restructuring programme the book also suggests alternatives to current development models and how SAPs can be made more sustainable An original and comprehensive addition to the collections of both students and practitioners of development

Aid and the Political Economy of Policy Change Tony Killick, Ramani Gunatilaka, Ana Marr, 1998 Confronts the theory of conditionality with its limitations in practice analyses the reasons for these limitations and suggests constructive alternatives

Transforming Development Jim Freedman, 2000-01-01 Foreign aid is now known more for its failures than its successes leading to claims in academic and policy circles that foreign aid has outlived its usefulness Instead of foreseeing the end of foreign these essays show how it might be restored
