Structural Adjustment And African Women Farmers:

Structural Adjustment and African Women Farmers Christina H. Gladwin, 1991 Structural Adjustment Reconsidered David E. Sahn, Paul A. Dorosh, Stephen D. Younger, 1999-08-13 In this 1998 study the authors isolate the effect of specific policy measures associated with adjustment programs in ten African countries Raising the Productivity of Women Farmers in Sub-Saharan Africa Katrine Anderson Saito, Hailu Mekonnen, Daphne Spurling, 1994 World Bank Discussion Paper 230 Based on four country studies and extensive household surveys this paper documents the breakdown of traditional farming systems in Sub Saharan Africa and its implications for the role of women in agriculture Structural Adjustment & the African Farmer Alex Duncan, John Howell, 1992 This book traces the impact of structural adjustment policies upon the incomes and welfare of Africa's peasant farmers who currently operate at very low levels of productivity of both land and labour and are confronted with low household income and inadequate food security A common method has been applied across five countries Analyses have been made of the links between national economic policies and the various markets in which the smallholders operate and the services and infrastructures which influence their productive capacities There are differences in the resource base and the level of ecological deterioration in export opportunities in physical infrastructure and in particular in the depth and nature of economic policy reforms The team have recognised the important differences between these five countries and overcome the formidable problems of collecting agricultural data in Africa The book provides firm evidence of the impact both positive and negative of structural adjustment The editors argue for a more targeted project specific approach to small farmer development This complements the current donor interest in policy related aid support Women's Activism and Feminist Agency in Mozambique and Nicaragua Jennifer Leigh Disney, 2008 In Women's Activism and Feminist Agency in Mozambique and Nicaragua Jennifer Leigh Disney investigates the contours of women's emancipation outside the framework of liberal democracy and a market economy She interviews 146 women and men in the two countries to explore the comparative contribution of women's participation in subsistence and informal economies political parties and civil society organizations She also discusses military struggles against colonialism and imperialism in fostering feminist agency to provide a fascinating look at how each movement evolved and how it changed in a post revolutionary climate Historical Dictionary of Women in Sub-Saharan Africa Kathleen Sheldon, 2005-03-16 This vast dictionary launches the new series Historical Dictionaries of Women in the World and fills a huge gap in the literature as there previously has not been any comprehensive reference work on African women This dictionary includes over 660 entries on notable women in history politics religion the arts and other sectors on events particularly associated with women on women's organizations and publications and on a range of topics that are important to women in general or that have a special importance for African women including marriage fertility market women goddesses and much more Entries include cross referencing information that facilitates readers ability to find related information The book also includes an introductory essay and a chronology on African women's history as well as an extensive bibliography divided into sub sections on different historical eras and subjects Access to finding specific information is further aided by a country index A wide range of users will find this reference extremely valuable including researchers in African or women's history high school and university students and people involved with African policy and development issues such as diplomats or aid workers

Women's Labor in the Global Economy Sharon Harley, 2007-06-05 Globalization is not a new phenomenon women throughout the world have been dealing with the circumstances and consequences of an international economy long before the advent of the transnational corporate conglomerate However in a mercenary example of the tried cliché the more things change the more they stay the same women particularly those of color continue to be relegated to the lowest rung of the occupational ladder where their indispensable contributions to global market capitalism are downplayed or invalidated completely through the perpetuation of stereotypes and the denial of access to better job opportunities and resources How women of color around the world adapt and challenge the economic political and social effects of globalization is the subject of this broad minded and incisive anthology From Mexico Jamaica Ghana Zimbabwe and Sri Lanka to immigrant and non immigrant communities in the United States the women documented in these essays are agricultural and factory workers artists and entrepreneurs mothers and activists Their stories bear stark witness to how globalization continues to develop new sites and forms of exploitation while its apparent victims continue to be women men and children of color

Women's Experiences with HIV/AIDS Lynellyn Long, E. M. Ankrah, 1996 HIV AIDS affects women worldwide Elderly women bear a disproportionate burden of caring for those who are afflicted with the disease while young women increasingly comprise the majority of new HIV cases Intervention programs often fail to take into account the particular situations and behaviors that make women more vulnerable than men Though policy debates increasingly include women and gender considerations funds and resources for women especially those already suffering with HIV AIDS remain inadequate Women's Experiences with HIV AIDS gives voice to the experience of individual women whose personal stories reveal the daily struggles and concerns that fill their lives but are ignored in the larger dialogues about HIV AIDS Women and men from diverse backgrounds discuss the differences between women within and across cultures and how particular traditions and attitudes can affect the prevention of or vulnerability to HIV AIDS The authors address not only women's empirical experiences but also their personal feelings beliefs and expectations as reflected in their narratives Approaching the issue from several disciplines Women's Experiences with HIV AIDS paves the way for the empowerment of women by bringing them directly into the debates concerned with their protection against HIV AIDS This collection edited by two well known scholars in this field provides a much needed critical examination of the interventions and policies that do not yet fully address the needs and limitations of women and girls suffering with or confronting the possibility of infection

Finance, and Urban Affairs. Subcommittee on International Development, Finance, Trade, and Monetary Policy,1991

Women Farmers and Commercial Ventures Anita Spring,2000 In this volume case studies reveal that farm women in Africa Asia and Latin America are rapidly becoming more than subsistence producers It explores the societal and domestic changes brought about as women move to positions as wage labourers contract growers and farm owners Renewing Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Deryke Belshaw,the late Arthur Ian Livingstone,2005-06-29 Renewing Development in Sub Saharan Africa reviews the debates and brings together specialist contributions to provide a clear guide to the major complexities of African development They lay the foundation for designing a range of individual country specific policy sets in which the strategic components are prioritized according to each country s constraints and opportunities The emphasis of the book is on the identification of effective strategies that will enable individual countries to most effectively exploit their growth opportunities and to meet poverty reducing and other key equity objectives Women's Activism in Africa Balghis Badri,Aili Mari Tripp,2017-02-15 Throughout Africa growing numbers of women are coming together and making their voices heard mobilising around causes ranging from democracy and land rights to campaigns against domestic violence In Tanzania and Tunisia women have made major gains in their struggle for equal political rights and in Sierra Leone and Liberia women have been at the forefront of efforts to promote peace and reconciliation While some of these movements have been influenced by international feminism and external donors increasingly it is African women who are shaping the global struggle for women s rights Bringing together African authors who themselves are part of the activist groups this collection represents the only comprehensive and up to date overview of women s movements in contemporary Africa Drawing on case studies and fresh empirical material from across the continent the authors challenge the prevailing assumption that notions of women s rights have trickled down from the global north to the south showing instead that these movements have been shaped by above all the unique experiences and concerns of the local women involved Women in Agriculture Marie Maman,Thelma H. Tate,2012-10-12 First published in 1996 In what ways have women contributed to agriculture To what extent have scholars addressed these contributions in the professional literature What has been the impact of gender in agricultural policy and economic development What is the status of gender equity in the division of farm labor and in agricultural education Such questions are raised by students and researchers worldwide who seek documentation which focuses on these vital topics The purpose of this bibliography is therefore to synthesize this unique widely dispersed information in one volume to assist researchers faculty and students in expediting the research process Soil Management of Smallholder Agriculture Rattan Lal,B.A. Stewart,2014-11-24 Nearly two billion people depend on hundreds of millions of smallholder farmers for food security Yet these farmers lives also hang in the balance due to their extreme vulnerability to the risks of soil degradation and depletion soil exhaustion climate change and numerous biotic and abiotic stresses Soil Management of Smallholder Agriculture Gender, Family and Work in Tanzania Colin

Creighton, C.K. Omari, 2024-11-01 This title was first published in 2000 The essays in this volume explore the changing nature of family and gender relations in contemporary Tanzania Particular attention is paid to the social construction of marriage and to the interplay of family life and gender relations with economic processes and forms of work Many of the papers are based upon recent ethnographic and survey research others provide a much needed historical perspective upon the change in family patterns and upon the ways in which gender and family relations are shaped by and in turn help to shape wider social institutions and processes

Transforming Capitalism and Patriarchy April A. Gordon, 1996 Gordon analyzes the interplay between capitalism development and the status of African women Drawing on the work of both African and Western researchers she shows that capitalist development projects have mainly benefited a small stratum of African elites and proposes concrete strategies for making it more equitable for women

African Women Kathleen Sheldon, 2017-04-24 African women's history is a topic as vast as the continent itself embracing an array of societies in over fifty countries with different geographies social customs religions and historical situations In African Women Early History to the 21st Century Kathleen Sheldon masterfully delivers a comprehensive study of this expansive story from before the time of records to the present day She provides rich background on descent systems and the roles of women in matrilineal and patrilineal systems Sheldon's work profiles elite women as well as those in leadership roles traders and market women religious women slave women women in resistance movements and women in politics and development The rich case studies and biographies in this thorough survey establish a grand narrative about women's roles in the history of Africa

Shea Butter Republic Brenda Chalfin, 2004-06 This ethnographic study traces shea from a pre to post industrial commodity to provide a deeper understanding of emerging trends in tropical commoditization cosmopolitan consumption global economic restructuring and rural livelihoods

GENDER AND DECENTRALIZATION Simi Afonja & Monica Alagbile, GENDER DECENTRALISATION Gender and Decentralization in Nigeria is a product of two years research sponsored by the Gender Unit of the International Development Research Centre IDRC Canada as part of its Gender and Decentralization Program for sub Saharan Africa The overall objective of the program was to document and analyze specific state decentralization reforms that have worked to promote women's rights and or reforms that have created barriers to the protection and realization of these rights At the core of the Nigerian project were women's representation and political effectiveness in local administration The issues transcended the usual structural analysis of the political administrative and fiscal changes associated with decentralization and a breakdown by gender Given the centrality of equity and accountability issues in current good governance debates a feminist perspective on voice and action was inserted into the traditional public administration perspective Going beyond numbers description of gender inequitable electioneering processes poor accountability of the state of political parties and the women's constituency the book also focusses on feminist political activism at the grassroots level The authors also document the potential impact of re politicizing civil society and restructuring of gender ideologies to achieve self determination and increase women representation and political effectiveness Women, Land and Agriculture Caroline Sweetman, 1999 Contributors assert that women's contribution to global agricultural production for food and for profit continues to be largely unacknowledged and undervalued and that their ability to farm is constrained by lack of control over land agricultural inputs credit and other essential resources
