Structural Adjustment Reconsidered Economic Policy And Poverty In Africa:

Structural Adjustment Reconsidered David E. Sahn, Paul A. Dorosh, Stephen D. Younger, 1999-08-13 In this 1998 study the authors isolate the effect of specific policy measures associated with adjustment programs in ten African countries

Structural Adjustment Reconsidered, 1997 2 Poverty in Africa Structural Adjustment Reconsidered David E. Sahn, Paul Anthony Dorosh, Stephen D. Younger, 1997 2 Poverty in Africa IMF and World Bank Sponsored Structural Adjustment Programs in Africa Kwadwo Konadu-Agyemang, 2018-10-24 This title was first published in 2001 Bringing together geographers planners political scientists economists rural development specialists bankers public administrators and other development experts this volume questions the benefits of Structural Adjustment Programmes SAPs It critically assesses the impact of SAPs from a wider perspective than a purely economic one highlighting concerns about impacts of adjustments on the more vulnerable elements of society such as social welfare the environment labour gender and agriculture Revealing both the costs and benefits of the economic restructuring programme the book also suggests alternatives to current development models and how SAPs can be made more sustainable An original and comprehensive addition to the collections of both students and practitioners of development Growth, Distribution and Poverty in Africa Luc J. Christiaensen, Lionel Demery, Stefano Paternostro, 2002-01-01 This publication analyses country studies into poverty dynamics over the past decade in eight African countries Ethiopia Ghana Madagascar Mauritania Nigeria Uganda Zambia and Zimbabwe Using improved household survey data the book provides an overview of poverty trends and considers the impact of policy reforms to promote economic growth and poverty reduction The report highlights the importance of the following factors in the success of poverty reduction strategies in Africa country location as some regions have failed to benefit from economic growth due to their remoteness the role of infrastructure such as a viable road network access to education and land are key private endowments in helping households to benefit from emerging economic opportunities and the significance of social protection measures for poverty outcomes Rethinking Development Economics Ha-Joon Chang, 2003 Impressive provides a very good compendium of what are usually classified as heterodox development economics an excellent volume Journal of International Development This important new collection tackles the failure of neoliberal reform to generate longterm growth and reduce poverty in many developing and transition economies As dramatically demonstrated in the collapse of the WTO s Seattle talks there is increasing dissatisfaction in both developing and developed countries with the emerging neoliberal global economic order The resignations of Joseph Stiglitz and Ravi Kanbur from the World Bank emphasize that this disillusionment with the orthodoxy now exists at the very heart of the establishment Yet the increasing demand for an alternative to this orthodoxy is not being met Over the last few decades the older generation of development economists have been edged out of most major universities particularly in the USA The situation in most developing countries is even worse although there is more demand for alternatives to orthodox development economics these countries have even less capability to generate such alternatives Rethinking Development Economics is intended to fill this gap It addresses key issues in development economics ranging from macroeconomics finance and governance to trade industry agriculture and poverty Bringing together some of the foremost names in the field this comprehensive and timely collection constitutes a critical staging post in the future of development economics Leading Issues in Black Political Economy Thomas D. Boston, 2018-01-16 Leading Issues in Black Political Economy brings together the foremost experts on issues ranging from employment training and education of African Americans It also emphasizes macro economic concerns of business development with special emphasis on long term trends of black owned businesses The work emphasizes welfare considerations in an anti welfare epoch and the role of affirmative action now that it is under attack Attention is given to the role of race in the continuing disparity of income distribution in American society The highlights of Leading Issues include An Employment and Business Strategy for the Next Century A Comment by Thomas D Boston Long Term Trends and Prospects for Black owned Business by Andrew F Brimmer Is the U S Small Business Administration a Racist Institution by Timothy Bates Worker Re Training and Labor Market Outcomes A New Focus for Labor Research by James B Stewart Race Cognitive Skills Psychological Capital and Wages by Arthur H Goldsmith William Darity Jr and Jonathan R Veum and Reparations and Public Policy by Richard F America The overall findings suggest that empirical wage equation specifications do matter The role of psychological capital is critical in the marketplace Race is indeed an important determinant of wages especially when the influence of both cognitive skills and psychological capital are included in the wage equation This volume will be of crucial interest to economists political scientists sociologists and policy analysts studying African American life Thomas D Boston is editor of the Review of Black Political Economy and professor of economics at the Georgia Institute of Technology He is the co editor with Catherine L Ross of The Inner City Urban Poverty and Economic Development in the Next Century also available from Transaction

African Economies and the Politics of Permanent Crisis, 1979-1999 Nicolas Van de Walle, 2001-09-24 This Book explains why African countries have remained mired in a disastrous economic crisis since the late 1970s It shows that dynamics internal to African state structures largely explain this failure to overcome economic difficulties rather than external pressures on these same structures as is often argued Far from being prevented from undertaking reforms by societal interest and pressure groups clientelism within the state elite ideological factors and low state capacity have resulted in some limited reform but much prevarication and manipulation of the reform process by governments which do not really believe that reform will be effective

The Historical Origin of the African Economic Crisis Alemayehu Geda, 2019-02-13 This book illuminates the answers to various major questions on African development related to international trade and finance It explores the economic interaction between Africa and the now developed countries the West in the past and China today as well as the legacy of these interactions for Africa s growth and poverty reduction effort today In addition it discusses the implication of this legacy for Africa's future development and considers whether lessons can be drawn from this experience in terms of the continent's future development. By providing in-depth historical and economic analysis conducted in non-technical terms, the book represents a valuable resource for policy makers, researchers, and students, as well as international organizations that focus on African development. Macroeconomic Policies and Poverty Ashoka Mody, Catherine Pattillo, 2004-08-02. In this volume, world-renowned contributors including Martin Ravallion, Michael Kremer, and Robert Townsend deal with the institutional characteristics of poverty, resulting from the time pattern of aid, the nature of financial systems, and the political economy of budgetary decisions. Going beyond the traditional literature on poverty, this original book deals with themes of broad interest to both scholars and policymakers in a clear yet technically sophisticated manner. Departing from conventional methods employed in poverty studies, these innovative essays enquire into the institutional characteristics of poverty and, using current case studies, they examine the crucial idea that periods of crises seriously affect poverty. Perspectives on Agricultural Transformation Thomas S. Jayne, 2002. Perspectives on Agricultural Transformation: A View From Africa

Africa in Transformation Carlos Lopes, 2018-11-19. Lopes brings his rigorous insight and experience to this timely new book, presenting a compelling rethink of traditional development models in Africa and the need to seize on transformational change to build a sustainable future for the continent. Kofi Annan, former United Nations Secretary General, says: "Some readers will enjoy Lopes' eclectic brilliance and breath-taking culture. Others will salute his ability to bring compelling new angles to every topic. Everyone will be impressed with his craftsmanship, his rich and multi-faceted approach to development, and his high ethical standards. It is impossible to read this jewel book and not feel smarter." C. Lester Monga, African Development Bank's Vice President and Chief Economist, says: "Drawing on his distinguished academic career, policy experience at the highest level, and deep love of the continent, Lopes provides a visionary analysis of Africa's current problems and future prospects. This book provides a highly unusual combination of intellectualism and hard-nosed pragmatism. A singular achievement." Ha Joon Chang, University of Cambridge, UK, says: "Thorough thought-provoking and beyond rhetoric, definitely a must-read for anyone who wants to understand Africa's present and future." Enrico Letta, former Prime Minister of Italy, Dean of the Paris School of International Affairs, Sciences Po, France, says: "Lopes delivers an overview of the critical development issues facing the African continent today. He offers readers a blueprint of policies to address issues and an intense heartfelt meditation on the meaning of economic development in the age of democratic doubts, identity crises, global fears, and threatening issues of sustainability."

Smallholders, globalization and policy analysis, 2004 The challenge of meeting the Millennium Development Goals and particularly the halving of poverty and hunger by 2015 is immense and particularly so in rural areas where nearly half of the population lives on less than one dollar a day and one third are undernourished More than two thirds of the poor in rural areas are smallholder farmers whose resources livelihood patterns and income sources are quite heterogeneous Smallholders as a group including the non poor still dominate most farming systems of developing countries and on the positive side account for a majority of rural employment most food production and significant export earnings

Investing in Peace Robert J. Muscat, 2015-05-20 International intervention in internal wars has gained rhetorical legitimacy in the post cold war period but in practice it has remained problematic Response to these conflicts has remained mainly diplomatic and military and belated Is there anything international actors can do to prevent or at least ameliorate such conflicts Are conflict prevention measures already being attempted and sometimes succeeding so well that we are unaware of their effectiveness If so what can we learn from them In this book Robert J Muscat a veteran international development expert who has worked in South America South and Southeast Asia East Africa and the Balkans attempts to answer these questions Drawing on the work of others as well as his own extensive experience he reviews the accrued insights into the causes of internal conflict He examines nine cases in which the work of development agencies exacerbated or ameliorated the root causes of conflict This permits some generalizations about the efficacy or deleterious effects of development programs and of their futility when the conflict prevention dimension of international assistance efforts is ignored

Encyclopedia of Business Ethics and Society Robert W. Kolb, 2008 This encyclopedia spans the relationships among business ethics and society with an emphasis on business ethics and the role of business in society

Foreign Intervention in Africa after the Cold War Elizabeth Schmidt, 2018-10-22 In Foreign Intervention in Africa after the Cold War interdisciplinary in approach and intended for nonspecialists Elizabeth Schmidt provides a new framework for thinking about foreign political and military intervention in Africa its purposes and its consequences She focuses on the quarter century following the Cold War 1991-2017 when neighboring states and subregional regional and global organizations and networks joined extracontinental powers in support of diverse forces in the war making and peace building processes During this period two rationales were used to justify intervention a response to instability with the corollary of responsibility to protect and the war on terror Often overlooked in discussions of poverty and violence in Africa is the fact that many of the challenges facing the continent today are rooted in colonial political and economic practices in Cold War alliances and in attempts by outsiders to influence African political and economic systems during the decolonization and postindependence periods Although conflicts in Africa emerged from local issues external political and military interventions altered their dynamics and rendered them more lethal Foreign Intervention in Africa after the Cold War counters oversimplification and distortions and offers a new continentwide perspective illuminated by trenchant case studies

Democratic Reform in Africa Emmanuel Gyimah-Boadi, 2004 After more than a decade of reform efforts in Africa much of the optimism over the continent's prospects has been replaced by widespread Afropessimism But to what extent is either view well founded Democratic Reform in Africa plumbs the key issues in the contemporary African experience including intrastate conflict corruption and the development of civil society highlighting the challenges and evaluating the progress of political and economic change Case studies of Botswana Mozambique Nigeria and South Africa complement the thematic chapters exploring the interactions between democracy and development

Trade and Industrial Development in Africa Moyo, Theresa, 2015-03-02 This book revisits the perennial challenge that scholars economists and politicians have been grappling with since the 1960s Development in this book has been defined in a context that projects it as a multidimensional and complex process which seeks to enhance the human social economic and cultural welfare of the people This book calls for a rethinking of trade and industry for Africa's development It uses data drawn from national development plans and strategies and trade and industry issues have been prioritized at the continental level in key policy documents On the whole Africa's industry and trade performance have been poor in spite of national regional and continental plans The contributors to this volume propose some alternative strategies and policies which are necessary for trade and industry to grow and to contribute to the well being of Africa's people It calls for a developmental trade and industry policy which fundamentally must be people centred African states should invest time energy and resources to develop policies which will take into consideration African realities The different contributors are aware that Africa has experienced strong economic growth in the recent past but this growth has largely been due to a strong demand for Africa's primary commodity exports It has also been a result of increases in productivity and domestic investment and remittances from Africans living in the Diaspora It is important to note that despite this unprecedented growth performance the impact of trade and industry on development has been limited The book argues that a structural transformation of Africa's economies is inevitable if Africa is to achieve the shift from the dominant paradigm of production and export of primary goods The various contributors to this book agree that there is need to rethink policy and strategy in order to achieve industrial development in Africa There is no unique solution or answer that can fit all situations as African countries are not the same While Africa can draw lessons from other regions which have successfully industrialized this book argues that policies and strategies will have to be adapted to country specific situations and circumstances
