Aristotle on Thought and Feeling Paula Gottlieb, 2021-01-07 Aristotle's discussion of the motivation of the good person is both complicated and cryptic Depending on which passages are emphasized he may seem to be presenting a Kantian style view according to which the good person is and ought to be motivated primarily by reason or a Humean style view according to which desires and feelings are or ought to be in charge In this book Paula Gottlieb argues that Aristotle sees the thought desires and feelings of the good person as interdependent in a way that is sui generis and she explains how Aristotle's concept of choice prohairesis is an innovative and pivotal element in his account Gottlieb's interpretation casts light on Aristotle's account of moral education on the psychology of good bad and half bad akratic people and on the aesthetic and even musical side to being a good person
