Structure And Meaning In Human Settlements:

Structure and Meaning in Human Settlement Tony Atkin, Joseph Rykwert, 2005-11-28 This book explores the relationships between form space and cultural meaning in human habitation Authors from a variety of disciplines and international sites address the possibilities of common ground in architectural theories about place and dwelling anthropological research on settlement archaeology and the study of cultural landscapes and geography Illustrated with 220 full color images this book is a unique attempt to combine thinking about cultural meaning in space and settlements both ancient and contemporary

Structure & Meaning in Human Settlement Brian Ta Schuch, 2004      Handbook of Material Culture Chris Tilley, Webb Keane, Susanne Kuechler, Mike Rowlands, Patricia Spyer, 2006-01-05 The study of material culture is concerned with the relationship between persons and things in the past and in the present in urban and industrialized and in small scale societies across the globe The Handbook of Material Culture provides a critical survey of the theories concepts intellectual debates substantive domains and traditions of study characterizing the analysis of things It is cutting edge rather than simply reviewing the field as it currently exists It also attempts to chart the future the manner in which material culture studies may be extended and developed The Handbook of Material Culture is divided into five sections Section I maps material culture studies as a theoretical and conceptual field Section II examines the relationship between material forms the human body and the senses Section III focuses on subject object relations Section IV considers things in terms of processes and transformations in terms of production exchange and consumption performance and the significance of things over the long term Section V considers the contemporary politics and poetics of displaying representing and conserving material and the manner in which this impacts on notions of heritage tradition and identity The Handbook charts an interdisciplinary field of studies that makes an unique and fundamental contribution to an understanding of what it means to be human It will be of interest to all who work in the social and historical sciences from anthropologists and archaeologists to human geographers to scholars working in heritage design and cultural studies      Architecture, Ritual and Cosmology in China Xuemei Li, 2023-05-31 Drawing on the author s extensive fieldwork in the Dong areas in southwest China this book presents a detailed picture of the Dong s buildings and techniques with new insights into the Dong s cosmology and rituals of everyday life meshed with the architecture and the symbolic meanings It examines how the buildings and techniques of the Dong are ordered and influenced by the local culture and context The timber bridges and drum towers are the Dong s most prominent architectural monuments Usually built elaborately with multiple roofs these bridges and drum towers were designed and maintained by the local carpenters who also built the village suspended houses in an oral tradition carried down from father to son or to apprentice They were funded entirely by the local people and the bridges tend to be built in places without great pressure of traffic or another bridge already existing close by Why does such great expense go into the Dong s buildings with elaboration How were they built And what do they mean to their users and builders This book is an anthropological study on the Dong's architecture and technique and it aims to contribute a discourse on the interdisciplinary research area. It is suitable for graduate and postgraduate readers.

The Evolution of Human Settlements William M. Bowen, Robert E. Gleeson, 2018-08-03 This book analyzes the history and development of settlements from the earliest periods in human history to the present day from a Darwinian evolutionary perspective. At the foundation of the evolutionary model is the argument that the human capacity for complex communication and unique problem solving ability have led to the formation and reality of the modern city and its scaled up megacity status. While evolutionary theory forms the platform for the book's argument, general systems theory provides the operational framework for the organization and interpretations of each chapter. Throughout the book, the authors tackle various issues, questions, and possibilities regarding the future development and evolution of human settlements.

Nishida Kitaro's Chiasmatic Chorology John W. M. Krummel, 2015-09-01 Nishida Kitaro (1870-1945) is considered Japan's first and greatest modern philosopher. As founder of the Kyoto School, he began a rigorous philosophical engagement and dialogue with Western philosophical traditions, especially the work of G. W. F. Hegel. John W. M. Krummel explores the Buddhist roots of Nishida's thought and places him in connection with Hegel and other philosophers of the Continental tradition. Krummel develops notions of self-awareness, will, being, place, the environment, religion, and politics in Nishida's thought and shows how his ethics of humility may best serve us in our complex world.

Architecture as the Ethics of Climate Jin Baek, 2016-06-10 At a time when climate and ethics have become so important to architectural debate, this book proposes an entirely new way for architects to engage with these core issues. Drawing on Tetsuro Watsuji's (1889-1960) philosophy, the book illuminates climate not as a collection of objective natural phenomena but as a concrete form of bond in which who we are, the subjective human experience, is indivisibly intertwined with the natural phenomena. The book further elucidates the inter-personal nature of climatic experiences, criticizing a view that sees atmospheric effects of climate under the guise of personal experientialism and reinforcing the linkage between climate and ethos as the appropriateness of a setting for human affairs. This ethical premise of climate stretches the horizon of sustainability as pertaining not only to man's solitary relationship with natural phenomena, a predominant trend in contemporary discourse of sustainability, but also to man's relationship with man. Overcoming climatic determinism, regional determinism, too, and expanding the ethics of the inter-personal to the level where the whole and particulars are joined through the dialectics of the mutually negating opposites, Jin Baek develops a new thesis engaging with the very urgent issues inherent in sustainable architecture. Crucially, the book explores examples that join climate and the dynamics of the inter-personal, including Japanese vernacular residential architecture, the white residential architecture of Richard Neutra, contemporary architectural works, and urban artifacts by Tadao Ando and Aldo Rossi. Beautifully illustrated, this book is an important contribution to the discourse which surrounds architecture, climate, and ethics and encourages the reader to think more broadly about how to respond to the current challenges facing the profession.

Finding Kluskap Jennifer Reid,2013-07-16 The Mi kmaq of eastern Canada were among the first indigenous North Americans to encounter colonial Europeans As early as the mid sixteenth century they were trading with French fishers and by the mid seventeenth century large numbers of Mi kmaq had converted to Catholicism Mi kmaw Catholicism is perhaps best exemplified by the community's regard for the figure of Saint Anne the grandmother of Jesus Every year for a week coinciding with the saint's feast day of July 26 Mi kmaw peoples from communities throughout Quebec and eastern Canada gather on the small island of Potlotek off the coast of Nova Scotia It is however far from a conventional Catholic celebration In fact it expresses a complex relationship between the Mi kmaq Saint Anne a series of eighteenth century treaties and a cultural hero named Kluskap Finding Kluskap brings together years of historical research and learning among Mi kmaw peoples on Cape Breton Island Nova Scotia The author's long term relationship with Mi kmaw friends and colleagues provides a unique vantage point for scholarship one shaped not only by personal relationships but also by the cultural intellectual and historical situations that inform postcolonial peoples The picture that emerges when Saint Anne Kluskap and the mission are considered in concert with one another is one of the sacred life as a site of adjudication for both the meaning and efficacy of religion and the impact of modern history on contemporary indigenous religion The Cambridge World History Norman Yoffee,2015-03-12 The most comprehensive account yet of the human past from prehistory to the present

The Explorations of Edmund Snow Carpenter Richard Cavell,2024-10-15 Edmund Snow Carpenter 1922 2011 shaped by an early encounter with Marshall McLuhan was a renegade anthropologist who would plumb the connection between anthropology and media studies over a thoroughly unconventional career As co conspirators in the founding of the legendary journal Explorations 1953 59 Carpenter and McLuhan established the groundwork for media studies After ten years teaching anthropology at the University of Toronto hosting radio and television shows on the CBC and doing major research in the Arctic Carpenter left Toronto and became an itinerant anthropologist He took up a position in Papua New Guinea where he countered anthropological practice by handing his camera to the Papuans Carpenter's marriage to the artist and heiress Adelaide de Menil made him a truly independent scholar With the support of the Rock Foundation founded by de Menil he collected ethnographical art curated exhibitions and edited the materials for a twelve volume study of social symbolism based on the massive archives created by Carl Schuster Richard Cavell shows Carpenter austere generous and unpredictable to also be unwavering in working throughout his career within the framework established by Explorations The anthropological impetus for media studies has largely been forgotten This study restores that memory tracing Carpenter s work in media and in anthropology over a lifetime of cultural achievements and intellectual convolutions

The Cambridge World History: Volume 3, Early Cities in Comparative Perspective, 4000 BCE-1200 CE Norman Yoffee,2015-03-19 From the fourth millennium BCE to the early second millennium CE the world became a world of cities This volume explores this critical transformation from the appearance of the earliest cities in Mesopotamia and Egypt to the rise of cities in Asia and the Mediterranean world Africa and the Americas Through case studies and comparative accounts of key cities across the world leading scholars chart the ways in which these cities grew as nodal points of pilgrimages and ceremonies exchange storage and redistribution and centres for defence and warfare They show how in these cities along with their associated and restructured countrysides new rituals and ceremonies connected leaders with citizens and the gods new identities as citizens were created and new forms of power and sovereignty emerged They also examine how this unprecedented concentration of people led to disease violence slavery and subjugations of unprecedented kinds and scales

Indicators for the Design of Human Settlement Policies in Developing Countries Jorge Enrique Hardoy,1980 Dynamic Interpretation of Early Cities in Ancient China Hong Xu,2021-06-14 This book offers an archaeological study on China s ancient capitals Using abundant illustrations of ancient capital sites it verifies the archaeological discoveries with documentary records The author introduces the dynamical interpretation of each ancient capital to the interpretation of the entire development history of China s ancient capitals The book points out that for most of the almost 2000 years from the earliest Erlitou to the Ye city there was an era where ancient capitals didn t have outer enclosures due to factors such as the strong national power the military and diplomatic advantage the complexity of the residents and the natural conditions Thus an era of the huge ancient capitals without guards lasting for over 1000 years formed The concept that China s ancient capitals don t have outer enclosures presented in the book questions the traditional view that every settlement has walled enclosures Combining science with theory it offers researchers of history a clear understanding of the development process of China s ancient capitals

Landscape Architecture ,2006 A Morphological Interpretation of a Northern Chinese Traditional Village Kun Li,2024-04-23 This book challenges the definition of a new approach for integrating protection and enhancing the Chinese heritage category of Traditional Villages By applying a specific case study in the Hancheng context Shaanxi Province which lacks sound studies the book formulates new theoretical prerequisites for future re searches an in depth knowledge path and sound methodological principles By working in a multiple scales approach the object of preservation and enhancement is first of all redefined in its ontology as a unity formed by the courtyard type the morphology of the village and the related landscape structures All these three levels of study have been deeply investigated put into the relationship and resulting in a new methodology which overcomes the inadequacy and ineffectiveness of the notion of setting deriving from conservation Charters to embrace the structural notion of context and a knowledge approach to rural settlements form The innovative and original features of this book are both in the reading villages in their landscape dimension which in turn is studied as a context made of several interrelated structures Another original feature of the book is the integration of Italian historic structural and morphological methodologies with specific Chinese cultural aspects The author's work dug deeply and interdisciplinary in all those dimensions to account for the complex issues that are related and embodied in both the physical and intangible meaning of human settlements opening a novel scientific methodology for Chinese studies as a sound base to define three key integrated project actions what why how to preserve enhance develop
