Structure Of Social Welfare:

Social Welfare David Macarov, 1995-02-28 Poverty unemployment limited access to health care the litany of ills plaguing contemporary society seems endless reflective of the pragmatic and philosophical battles waged to overcome what some perceive as insurmountable obstacles What role has the state played in mitigating the effects of these harsh realities Offering a comprehensive survey of past and present programs Social Welfare considers the substance and results of government intervention Shaped by the works of such distinguished figures as Martin Luther Adam Smith and Charles Darwin this incisive text charts the progression of social welfare policy from inception to its current status David Macarov links present policy to the convergence of five interacting motivations mutual aid religion politics economics and ideology In identifying these elements Macarov assays the significance of each in determining the nature of social welfare and its future Featuring chapter summaries and exercises this intriguing introduction to social welfare policy and practice will involve and inform students of social work political science and sociology David Macarov has written a handy introductory social policy text for undergraduate that transcends the descriptive accounts of the social services that pervade the literature Unlike many other introductory texts Macarov does not seek to list the major social services and describe their functioning but focuses instead on the role of ideas and wider social forces in social welfare The book is easy to read and thoroughly supported with recommendations for additional reading It is a useful addition to the literature Journal of Sociology and Social Welfare fundamental postulate of sociology is that human beings act not by their own free decisions taken rationally but under the influence of history and culture and the expectations and demands of others human beings are both the products and the makers of their societies During the 20th century sociologists have been particularly interested in the influence of role status class and power on experience and behaviour in the family and in the community in the factors which contribute to cohesion and conflict in social structure and social stratification and in social problems such as crime drug addiction and domestic violence
