Structured Input Grammar Instruction For The Acquisition Oriented Classroom:

Structured Input Andrew P. Farley, 2004 This new text in the McGraw Hill Second Language Professional series brings together theory research and practice on structured input an instructional technique that first emerged in the early 1990s in association with processing instruction The author skillfully makes theoretical concepts and research accessible to the uninitiated reader while offering an abundance of examples of structured input activities in various languages Researchers and instructors looking for more examples and clarification on structured input activities will welcome this new title

Input Processing and Grammar Instruction in Second Language Acquisition Bill VanPatten, 1996 This book provides an alternative to the grammar debate in second language acquisition theory and teaching Accepting that language acquisition is at least partially input dependent the author asks how grammatical form is processed in the input by second language learners and is it possible to assist this in ways that help the learner to create richer grammatical intake He answers these questions and explains why traditional paradigms are not psycholinguistically motivated Drawing on research from both first and second language acquisition he outlines a model for input processing in second language acquisition that helps to account for how learners construct grammatical systems He then uses this model to motivate processing instruction a type of grammar instruction in which learners are engaged in making form meaning connections during particular input activities

Grammar Acquisition and Processing Instruction Alessandro G. Benati, James F. Lee, 2008 The research we present in this book establishes a unique line of research within the Processing Instruction model by assessing the transfer of training effects of this approach to grammar instruction on how learners make form meaning connections In this book we present the results of three experimental studies investigating secondary and cumulative effects in French Italian and English

Teaching Grammar in Second Language Classrooms Hossein Nassaji, Sandra S. Fotos, 2011-03-17 This text identifies and explores the various options for integrating a focus on grammar and a focus on communication in classroom contexts and offers concrete examples of teaching activities for each option

Input Processing and Processing Instruction Alessandro Benati, 2021-09-08 Input Processing is a theoretical framework on which the pedagogical paradigm called Processing Instruction is predicated In this book new data on the acquisition of Italian and Modern Standard Arabic are presented and analyzed within this framework Each study in the book explores how input processing strategies affect the acquisition of a particular linguistic feature and or structure in the two languages The studies use both offline e.g. sentence and discourse level tasks and online tests e.g. eye tracking to measure the effects of this instructional training

The Art of Teaching Spanish Rafael Salaberry, Barbara A. Lafford, 2006-12-08 The Art of Teaching Spanish explores in depth the findings of research in second language acquisition SLA and other language related fields and translates those findings into practical pedagogical tools for current and future Spanish language instructors This volume addresses how theoretical frameworks affect the application of research findings to the teaching of Spanish how logistical factors affect the way research findings can be applied to teach Spanish and how findings from Spanish SLA research would be applicable to Spanish second language teaching and represented in Spanish curricula through objectives and goals as evidenced in pedagogical materials such as textbooks and computer assisted language learning software Top SLA researchers and applied linguists lend their expertise on matters such as foreign language across curriculum programs testing online learning the incorporation of linguistic variation into the classroom heritage language learners the teaching of translation the effects of study abroad and classroom contexts on learning and other pedagogical issues Other common themes of The Art of Teaching Spanish include the rejection of the concept of a monolithic language competence the importance of language as social practice and cultural competence the psycholinguistic component of SLA and the need for more cross fertilization from related fields
