Higher Education in International Perspective Philip G. Altbach, David H. Kelly, Jan Kluczyński, 1985

The Gold and the Blue, Volume One Clark Kerr, 2001-10-16 One of the last century s most influential figures in higher education Clark Kerr was a leading visionary architect leader and fighter for the University of California Chancellor of the Berkeley campus from 1952 to 1958 and president of the university from 1958 to 1967 Kerr saw the university through its golden years a time of both great advancement and great conflict This absorbing memoir is an intriguing insider s account of how the University of California rose to the peak of scientific and scholarly stature and how under Kerr s unique leadership the university evolved into the institution it is today In this first of two volumes Kerr describes the private life of the university from his first visit to Berkeley as a graduate student at Stanford in 1932 to his dismissal under Governor Ronald Reagan in 1967 Early in his tenure as a professor the Loyalty Oath issue erupted and the university particularly the Berkeley campus underwent its most difficult upheaval until the onset of the Free Speech Movement in 1964 Kerr discusses many pivotal developments including the impact of the GI Bill and the evolution of the much emulated 1960 California Master Plan for Higher Education He also discusses the movement for universal access to education and describes the establishment and growth of each of the nine campuses and the forces and visions that shaped their distinctive identities Kerr s perspective of more than fifty years puts him in a unique position to assess which of the academic structural and student life innovations of the 1950s and 1960s have proven successful and to consider what lessons about higher education we might learn from that period The second volume of the memoir will treat the public life of the university and the political context that conditioned its environment

Student Activism in Asia Meredith Leigh Weiss, Edward Aspinall, 2012 Since World War II students in East and Southeast Asia have led protest movements that toppled authoritarian regimes in countries such as Indonesia South Korea and Thailand Elsewhere in the region student protests have shaken regimes until they were brutally suppressed most famously in China s Tiananmen Square and in Burma But despite their significance these movements have received only a fraction of the notice that has been given to American and European student protests of the 1960s and 1970s The first book in decades to redress this neglect Student Activism in Asia tells the story of student protest movements across Asia Taking an interdisciplinary comparative approach the contributors examine ten countries focusing on those where student protests have been particularly fierce and consequential China Japan Hong Kong Taiwan South Korea Indonesia Burma Malaysia Thailand and the Philippines They explore similarities and differences among student movements in these countries paying special attention to the influence of four factors higher education systems students collective identities students relationships with ruling regimes and transnational flows of activist ideas and inspirations The authors include leading specialists on student activism in each of the countries investigated Together these experts provide a rich picture of an important tradition of political protest that has ebbed and flowed but has left indelible marks on Asia s sociopolitical landscape Contributors Patricio N Abinales U of Hawaii Manoa Prajak Kongkirati Thammasat U Thailand Win Min Vahu Development Institute Stephan Ortmann City U of Hong Kong Mi Park Dalhousie U Canada Patricia G Steinhoff U of Hawaii Manoa Mark R Thompson City U of Hong Kong Teresa Wright California State U Long Beach
