Student Workbook to Accompany Cowan & Cowan Writing Virginia R. Bahe, 1980 Against Creative Writing Andrew Cowan, 2022-09-13 The rise of Creative Writing has been accompanied from the start by two questions can it be taught and should it be taught This scepticism is sometimes shared even by those who teach it who often find themselves split between two contradictory identities the artistic and the academic Against Creative Writing explores the difference between writing which is what writers do and Creative Writing which is the instrumentalisation of what writers do Beginning with the question of whether writing can or ought to be taught it looks in turn at the justifications for BA MA and PhD courses and concludes with the divided role of the writer who teaches It argues in favour of Creative Writing as a form of hands on literary education at undergraduate level and a form of literary apprenticeship at graduate level especially in widening access to new voices It argues against those forms of Creative Writing that lose sight of literary values as seen in the proliferation of curricular couplings with non literary subjects or the increasing emphasis on developing skills for future employment Against Creative Writing written by a writer is addressed to other writers inside or outside the academy at undergraduate or graduate level whether creative or critical Action Research for Student Teachers Colin Forster, Rachel Eperjesi, Author, 2021-03-03 Action research is a popular part of many teacher training courses but understanding how to do it well is not always straightforward Previously known as Action Research for New Teachers this book will guide you through each step of the process from initial stages of planning and research through to how to analyse your data and write up your research project This second edition includes A new Critical task feature with suggested responses Discussion of where action research fits in the world of education research Exploration of the skills and attributes needed for undertaking action research Guidance on how to write with clarity and purpose Catalog of Copyright Entries.
