The Psychology of Reading Mildred C. Robeck, Randall R. Wallace, 2017-11-06 The need to know why as well as how children and youth respond as they do to reading instruction has guided the selection of this book's content. The second edition of this title, originally published in 1990, has retained and elaborated upon the three major themes previously presented: that reading is a linguistic process; that motivation in the affective domain may be as important in learning to read as the cognitive domain; and that the reality of learning theory is to be found in the mechanisms of the brain where information is mediated and memory traces are stored. The text integrates views from cognitive psychology, psycholinguistics, and neuropsychology as they relate to reading and writing. A learning motivation model is provided to present associative learning, conceptualization, and self-directed reading in a hierarchical relationship with distinct cognitive and affective components. The distinction between beginning and proficient reading is maintained throughout the text. Intelligent Systems Cornelius T.

Leondes, 2018-10-08 Intelligent systems or artificial intelligence technologies are playing an increasing role in areas ranging from medicine to the major manufacturing industries to financial markets. The consequences of flawed artificial intelligence systems are equally wide ranging and can be seen for example in the programmed trading driven stock market crash of October 19, 1987. Intelligent Systems Technology and Applications Six Volume Set connects theory with proven practical applications to provide broad multidisciplinary coverage in a single resource. In these volumes, international experts present case study examples of successful practical techniques and solutions for diverse applications ranging from robotic systems to speech and signal processing, database management, and manufacturing. Styles and Second Language Education Patrycja Marta Kamińska, 2014-06-26 This book contributes to the body of knowledge concerning individual learner differences by addressing the issue of learning styles in developing a second language. It comprises five chapters. The notion of style, together with its place among other individual differences and its relation to learning strategies, is presented in Chapter 1. The reasons for researching styles are also delineated in this chapter. Chapter 2 describes simple one-dimensional models of learning styles, contrary to Chapter 3 in which two-dimensional compound models are presented. Multi-dimensional complex models of learning styles are the focus of Chapter 4. Each model discussed in Chapters 2 through 4 is accompanied by an outline of its significance to second language educators as demonstrated in earlier studies. The final fifth chapter is devoted to the discussion of the practical exploitation of the learning style awareness in second language education. The options suggested include accommodating learners' styles, stretching them by exposing the students to the less familiar and less preferred options, and mixtures of both approaches. The book will be of interest to applied linguists, psycholinguists, and language teaching practitioners, as well as tertiary level students interested in finding out the ways in which learning styles account for linguistic achievement.
