Biswas, Manis

Kumar Raha, Palash Chandra Coomar, 2018-01-01 The Andaman and Nicobar Group of Islands consisting of over 500 islands islets and rocks is situated in the Bay of Bengal about 1200 km from the mainland of India. These islands have a long history which ever goes beyond the period when the British took control of Andaman Islands in 1790 and Nicobar Islands in 1869. The book deals mainly with the security of the Islands, claim for the autonomy and also the development of the Islands. The isolation and the remoteness of these islands from mainland India once made these islands almost defenseless and as a result these islands were prone to the conventional and non conventional external threats. Sensing these the Government has made adequate arrangement for the protection of these islands and long coast line and EEZ by establishing all the three wings of defense Air Navy and Army and also Coast Guard. With the progress of these islands demands for the autonomy. Instead of the present administrative set up a section of the people is demanding Legislative Assembly for these Islands. Like other parts of India these islands are also progressing with the help of a number of development programmes covering different aspects of people's life. This book possibly the only of its kind particularly on these islands provides enough knowledge to the readers about once very remote and inaccessible islands on above themes and surely enrich the knowledge of the social scientists, defense policy makers, administrators, planners and even the public. Partition and the Practice of Memory Churnjeet

Mahn, Anne Murphy, 2017-12-05 This edited collection attends to the locations of memory along and about the Indo Pakistan and Indo Bangladesh borders and the complex ways in which such memories are both allowed for and erased in the present. The collection is situated at the intersection of narratives connected to memory and commemoration in order to ask how memories have been formed and perpetuated across the imposition of these borders. It explores how national boundaries both silence memories and can be subverted in important ways through consideration of physical sites and cultural practices on both sides of the India Pakistan Bangladesh borders that gesture towards that which has been lost, that is the cultural whole that was the cultural regions of Punjab and Bengal before Partition as well as broader cultural wholes across South Asia across religious and linguistic lines alongside forces that deny such connections. The chapters address issues of heritage and memory through specific case studies on present day memorial, museological and commemoration practices through which sometimes competing memorial landscapes have been constructed and show how memories of past traumas and histories become inscribed into diverse forms of cultural heritage: the built landscape, literature, film. A Myanmar Miscellany: Selected Articles, 2007-2023 Andrew Selth, 2024-09-30

Andrew Selth has been watching Myanmar for 50 years. During this time he has published 10 books and more than 400 other works about the country. In 2020 he released a collection of almost 100 articles that had been posted on the Lowy Institute's Interpreter website. This second anthology brings together another 72 articles written for a range of outlets between 2007 and 2023. This period saw the installation of a disciplined democracy under Aung San Suu Kyi, the 2021 military coup and the country's descent into a bitter civil war. Many of the articles in the book deal with international relations and security issues but there are also works on Myanmar's history, politics and culture. as well as some personal reminiscences Together they make a unique contribution from an Old Myanmar Hand with wide ranging interests and insights Saints on Earth Caroline Mathew,2024-08-22 Have you ever visited the Andaman and Nicobar Islands This book will take you on a visual voyage to the Emerald Green Islands The story revolves around ordinary people who perform simple tasks with great love and display exemplary courage in times of peril Unwavering in their values they are the true saints of this earth The protagonist of this memoir is Abba a village boy from remote South India raised by his parents amidst life s adversities In 1956 at the age of 20 destiny leads him to the Andaman and Nicobar Islands The narrative follows Abba and his wife through their daily struggles the hardships they face as parents their illnesses internal setbacks and the challenges of building a home all the while upholding their moral values and cultural traditions Beyond their family life the book delves into history recounting the horrors of British rule and the brutal massacres by the Japanese on the islands It also highlights the mesmerizing beauty of the islands the prehistoric life of the aborigines and the transformation of the islands into a melting pot of Indian culture now known as Mini India Prepare to embark on a captivating tour of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands In the Forest Vishvajit Pandya,2009-04-16 There are always at least two histories of encounter or contact as each party would tell the story differently but where and when is it really the first contact and for whom This book deploys an analytical framework developed from Semiotics to have both sides of the story address each other It is ethnography of dialogue emerging from textual representation by outsiders and its relationship to visual response and presentations by the Andaman Islanders that this book aims to present as the critical ethnography of history The section on Visuality looks at how the Other is incorporated into an organized knowledge system including Ongee myths and songs about outsiders and the early photographs of tribal people by British settlers and ethnographers The section on Materiality concerns the investment in things made to influence natural processes or to distinguish the human body and discusses how they are transacted between cultures that come into contact The concluding section on history addresses encounters and developments in which the experiences of both tribal and settler are implicated more thoroughly than in the transaction of objects Thus juxtaposing alternative perspectives on change indicates areas of experience unaccounted for in the dominant discourse and shows the provisionality of images Historical Dictionary of the British Empire Kenneth J. Panton,2015-05-07 For much of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Britain was the dominant world power its strength based in large part on its command of an Empire that in the years immediately after World War I encompassed almost one quarter of the earth s land surface and one fifth of its population Writers boasted that the sun never set on British possessions which provided raw materials that processed in British factories could be re exported as manufactured products to expanding colonial markets The commercial and political might was not based on any grand strategic plan of territorial acquisition however The Empire grew piecemeal shaped by the diplomatic economic and military circumstances of the times and its speedy dismemberment in the mid twentieth century was similarly a reaction to the realities of geopolitics in post between Europeans and Indians during the precolonial and colonial periods the book analyzes European especially English efforts to exoticize or investigate the social practices of the Other It also presents the culturally conditioned Indian subject's perspective on Europe and the imperial society The book engages with narratives of suppressed movements of tribals and dalits of erosion of the culture and history of ancient communities and recovers the local narratives of marginalized groups in Andaman and Malabar which get superseded by the larger narrative of nation building Often relying on oral history instead of printed material and sociological fieldwork the alternate histories are presented through unconventional literary or semi literary genres like travel narratives fiction films and songs thus presenting an alternative interpretation to the central narrative of the progress of mainstream India Representing cultural history and the view from below the book shifts its focus from the conventional historiography associated with political history and will be of interest to academics working in the field of cultural studies the historiography of India South Asian Studies and an interdisciplinary audience in history sociology literature media and English studies
