The Animal Mind James L. Gould, Carol Grant Gould, 1999 In this volume James and Carol Gould go in search of the animal mind Taking a fresh look at the evidence on animal capacities for perception thought and language the Goulds show how scientists attempt to distinguish actions that go beyond the innate or automatically learned They provide captivating beautifully illustrated descriptions of a number of clever and curious animal behaviors some revealed to be more or less preprogrammed some seemingly proof of a well developed mental life

Inside the Animal Mind George Page, 2001-08-02 In the bestselling tradition of When Elephants Weep and Dogs Don t Lie About Love Inside the Animal Mind is a groundbreaking exploration of the nature and depth of animal intelligence While in the past scientists have refused to acknowledge that animals have anything like human intelligence a growing body of research reveals otherwise We ve discovered ants that use leaves as tools to cross bodies of water woodpecker finches that hold twigs in their beaks to dig for grubs and bonobo apes that can use sticks to knock down fruit or pole vault over water Not only do animals use tools some also display an ability to learn and problem solve Based on the latest scientific and anecdotal evidence culled from animal experts in the labs and the field Inside the Animal Mind is an engrossing look at animal intelligence cognitive ability problem solving and emotion George Page originator and host of the long running PBS series Nature offers us an informed entertaining and humanistic investigation of the minds of predators and scavengers birds and primates rodents and other species Illustrated with twenty four black and white photographs the book is the companion to the three part hour long show of the same name hosted by Page

The Animal Mind Margaret Floy Washburn, 1923 The Animal Mind Margaret Floy Washburn, 1908 The Animal Mind Margaret Floy Washburn, 2013-10 This is a new release of the original 1926 edition The Animal Mind Margaret Floy Washburn, 2015-06-25 Excerpt from The Animal Mind A Text Book of Comparative Psychology The title of this book might more appropriately if not more concisely have been The Animal Mind as Deduced from Experimental Evidence For the facts set forth in the following pages are very largely the results of the experimental method in comparative psychology Thus many aspects of the animal mind to the investigation of which experiment either has not yet been applied or is perhaps not adapted are left wholly unconsidered This limitation of the scope of the book is a consequence of its aim to supply what I have felt to be a chief need of comparative psychology at the present time Although the science is still in its formative stage the mass of experimental material that has been accumulating from the researches of physiologists and psychologists is already great and is also for the most part inaccessible to the ordinary student being widely scattered and to a considerable extent published in journals which the average college library does not contain While we have books on animal instincts and on the interpretation of animal behavior we have no book which adequately presents the simple facts Probably no bibliography seems to one who carefully examines it entirely consistent in what it includes and what it excludes Certainly the one upon which this book is based contains inconsistencies The design has been to exclude works bearing only upon general physiology upon the morphology of the nervous system and sense organs or upon the nature of animal instinct as such and to include those which bear upon the topics mentioned in the chapter headings About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

ANIMAL MIND MARGARET FLOY. WASHBURN, 2018 Inside the Animal Mind Pamela Weintraub, 2021-04-13 Elephants can count Dogs read our expressions Cows have personality Fish feel Pain What do animals know and feel Are they creative can they actually make art Do they grieve or have agency the ability to make decisions intentionally manipulate other creatures even us or love Animals have extraordinary abilities Their feelings are much like ours and some of their cognitive skills equal our own Inside the Animal Mind unpacks their inner lives and their relationship to us Animal consciousness has long been fascinating but difficult to penetrate Today that is changing and fast Researchers say that each creature has evolved a suitable intelligence and emotional life for its own role in the world Dogs have minds that race though time on the fast track in line with their quick metabolisms Cats have a detailed language of meows to communicate specifically with humans The octopus with eight interacting arms has a wildly complex brain Readers will learn about how dogs love us the special skills of horse therapists and the wisdom of communities of bees We explore how animals remember how they love the nature of their self awareness and moral codes and how they have fun Animal Mind Margaret Floy Washburn, 2019

The Animal Mind Margaret Floy Washburn, 2017-09-16 Excerpt from The Animal Mind A d104 Book of Comparative Psychology The advance of comparative psychology during the past nine years has been remarkable In preparing a second edition of this book I have tried to include every newly discovered fact of the first importance but the literature is now so extensive that in order to keep the bibliography within reasonable limits I have had to exercise more selection than I did in preparing the bibliography for the first edition For like reasons the text of the book does not enter so fully into detail in describing the results of a particular investigation as was possible when the material at hand was so much less in amount More than half the book has been completely rewritten including the chapters on Vision on Spatially Determined Reactions and on The

Modification of Conscious Processes by Individual Experience I hope that the edition represents an advance upon its predecessor not only by including many newly ascertained facts but also by presenting its subject matter in more logical form About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Human and Animal Minds Peter Carruthers, 2019 Claims about consciousness in animals are often made in support of their moral standing Peter Carruthers argues that there is no fact of the matter about animal consciousness and it is of no scientific or ethical significance Sympathy for an animal can be grounded in its mental states but should not rely on assumptions about its consciousness

Animal Minds Donald R. Griffin, 2001-05 Using examples from chimpanzees and dolphins to birds and honeybees Griffin demonstrates how communication among animals can serve as a window into what animals think and feel just as human speech and nonverbal
