The Annual Of Psychoanalysis Annual Of Psychoanalysis:

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 32 Jerome A. Winer, James W. Anderson, 2013-05-13 Psychoanalysis and Women Volume 32 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis is a stunning reprise on theoretical developmental and clinical issues that have engaged analysts from Freud on. It begins with clinical contributions by Joyce McDougall and Lynne Layton, two theorists at the forefront of clinical work with women. Jessica Benjamin, Julia Kristeva, and Ethel Spector Person, from their respective vantage points, all engage the issue of passivity which Freud tended to equate with femininity. Employing a self-psychological framework, Christine Kieffer returns to the Oedipus complex and sheds new light on the typically Pyrrhic oedipal victory of little girls. Section III broadens the historical context of contemporary theorizing about women by offering the personal reminiscences of Nancy Chodorow, Carol Gilligan, Brenda Solomon, and Malkah Notman. A final section dedicated to women who shared psychoanalysis features historical essays on Ida Bauer, Freud's Dora, Anna Freud, Dorothy Burlingham, Edith Jacobson, and Therese Benedek, along with Linda Hopkins's revealing interview of Marion Milner. Of special note is Marian Tolpin's examination of three women: Bauer, Helene Deutsch, and Anna Freud, who helped shape Freud's notion of the female castration complex, and Elisabeth Young-Bruehl's exploration of how two women, Anna Freud and Dorothy Burlingham, developed parent-infant observation. Psychoanalysis and Women is an extraordinary chronicle of the distance traveled since Freud characterized women's sexual life as the dark continent. The contributors vitalize a half-century of theory with the lessons of biography and they broaden clinical sensibilities by drawing on recent developmental, gender-related, and socio-psychological research. In doing so, they attest to the ongoing reconfiguration of Freud's dark continent and show the psychoanalytic psychology of women to be very much a revolution in progress.

Winer, 2013-05-13 Volume 17, the first volume of The Annual published by The Analytic Press, includes John Gedo's examination of the epistemology of transference and Edwin Wallace's outline of a phenomenological and minimally theoretical psychoanalysis. Studies in applied psychoanalysis focus on the art of Edvard Munch, Mavis, and Harold Wylie. George Eliot's Romola, Jerome Winer, and psychoanalysis and music, Martin Nass.

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 30 Jerome A. Winer, James W. Anderson, 2019-07-18 The issue of same-gender sexual identity has challenged our understanding of psychological development and psychological intervention throughout the century just past and continues to provoke discussion in the century upon us. Over the past three decades, psychoanalysis advanced toward a contemporary perspective which holds that the dynamics of sexual orientation must be an important element of the psychoanalytic process but must be approached without prejudice regarding the outcome of analytic exploration of wish and desire. Taken together, the essays in Rethinking Psychoanalysis and the Homosexualities, a thematic volume of The Annual of Psychoanalysis, provide a developmentally grounded and clinically consequential enlargement of this basic premise The result is a timely overview of contemporary approaches to the study of sexual orientation within psychoanalysis that highlights issues salient to clinical work with lesbian and gay patients The section on The Meaning of Sexualization in Clinical Psychoanalysis demonstrates the importance of psychoanalytic study of same gender desire and sexual orientation for analyst and analysand alike Philips considers the analyst's own sexual identity as a factor shaping the analysand's experience of sexuality whereas Shelby Lynch Roughton and Young Bruehl from their various perspectives address the problem of stigma and prejudice as they distort same gender desire and same gender sexual identity Two concluding sections of the book explore the implications of a clinical psychoanalytic perspective for the study of gay and lesbian lives Timely and essential reading for all mental health professionals Rethinking Psychoanalysis and the Homosexualities underscores the profound distance traversed by psychoanalysis in arriving at its contemporary understandings of gender sexual identity and sexual desire The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 24 Jerome A.

Winer, 2013-05-13 Volume 24 of The Annual opens with a memorial tribute to the late Merton M Gill 1914 1994 a major voice in American psychoanalysis for half a century Remembrances of Gill by Robert Holt Robert Wallerstein Philip Holzman and Irwin Hoffman are followed by thoughtful appreciations of Gill's final book Psychoanalysis in Transition A Personal View Analytic Press 1994 by John Gedo Jerome Oremland Arnold Richards and Arthur Lynch Joseph Schachter and Bhaskar Sripada and Shara Kronmal Section II offers four papers from a major conference on Mind Brain held in Osaka Japan In addition to publishing two clinical papers by the Chicago analyst John Gedo The Annual introduces readers to two prominent Japanese neuroscientists whose work is relevant to psychoanalysis Hiroshi Utena links brain development to the individual's freedom to make optimal adaptive choices whereas Makoto Iwata outlines the modular organization of vision in the brain and then illustrates each modular potential by examining the paintings of four artists Mondrian Duchamp Seurat and Rothko Kenneth Newman's sensitive consideration of analyst self discourse as the outcome of successful management of the countertransference and Frank Summers' astute assessment of the place of self psychology in the history of psychoanalytic ideas are followed by three engaging and instructive studies in applied analysis Elaine Caruth and Milton Eber's examination of Woody Allen's The Purple Rose of Cairo as a metaphoric depiction of the blurring of boundaries in psychotherapy Frank and Annette Lachmann's study of the creative process of Henrik Ibsen as a self transformational response to narcissistic injury and W W Meissner's exploration of the role of shame in Vincent van Gogh's life and art The volume concludes with a provocative contribution to psychoanalytic history J Bos's social constructivist rereading of the Minutes of the Vienna Psycho Analytic Society with an eye to illuminating why and how psychoanalysis changed during its early years True to its distinguished lineage volume 24 of The Annual continues to broaden the conceptual clinical and historical vistas of its readers Moreover with its revealing reminiscences and substantive appraisals of Merton Gill this volume becomes a fascinating marker in the very psychoanalytic history it helps recount The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 25 Jerome A.

Winer, 2021-02-25 Volume 25 of The Annual is dedicated to the memory of Michael Franz Basch who achieved distinction as both a psychoanalytic theorist of the first rank and an authority on the nature and conduct of dynamic psychotherapy. A wide range of original contributions bear witness to his theoretical, clinical, and educational interests. A number of papers remind us of Basch's prominence as a self-psychological theorist: Elson's self-psychological reappraisal of self-pity, dependence, and manipulation as self-states; Ornstein's developmental perspective on power, self-esteem, and destructive aggression; Tolpin's review of sexuality from the standpoint of normal self-development; and Wolf's discussion of self-psychology and the aging self. Basch's life-long educational concerns gain expression in Goldberg's discussion of clinical teaching, particularly the challenge of leading of case conferences, and Ornstein's and Kay's thoughtful consideration of enduring difficulties in American medical education. Additional highlights of the volume include Fawcett's consideration of the role of pharmacotherapy in psychodynamic treatment; Jaffe's consideration of the applicability of hierarchical models to assessment and intervention in brief psychotherapy; Galatzer-Levy's review of the witch metapsychology; Gedo's analysis of mythic themes in the operas Don Giovanni and Der Rosenkavalier; Modell's reflections on metaphor and affects; and Kernberg's discussion of a new psychoanalytic mainstream which he compares and contrasts with a parallel convergence of Kohutian and interpersonal analytic approaches. Many of these contributions incorporate reflections on Basch as a teacher and colleague, and the entire volume is framed by Goldberg's moving tribute. Analysts and psychotherapists sharing Basch's commitment to academic and clinical excellence and his keen awareness of the pragmatic requirements of doing effective therapy will find in Volume 25 a cornucopia of riches.

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 22 Jerome A. Winer, 2013-05-13 Volume 22 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis begins with the provocative reflections of Jane Flax and Robert Michels on the current status and future prospects of psychoanalysis a century after Freud. Flax believes that analysis will not survive in the postmodern West if analysts cling to the medical model and the notion of analysis as a clinical science. Michels believes analysis will be revived in the next century by reorganizing its training institutes within universities. A section on Psychoanalysis and the Visual Arts includes John Gedo's probing examination of the inner world of Paul Gauguin and William Meissner's reflections on Vincent van Gogh as artist. Johann Michael Rotmann's examination of the transference meanings of third party payment within Germany's health insurance system is a timely consideration of issues that are increasingly salient for American analysts and therapists. A rich harvest of theoretical and clinical papers rounds out this volume of The Annual. In A Time of Questioning Leon Wurmser responds to the inner and outer challenges before analysis in a closely reasoned defense of the applicability of classical analytic technique to severely disturbed patients. Michael Hoit examines the noninterpretive, interactive aspects of the analytic relationship, arguing that the analyst's noninterpretive activities are intrinsic to treatment and must be incorporated into the theory of therapeutic action. In Fables as Psychoanalytic Metaphors Elaine Caruth describes some psychoanalytic metaphors contained within the lessons of the Aesopian fables, proposing that the fables address interpersonal and group conflicts that often involve moral issues Wilma Bucci offers her multiple code theory as a new model of emotion and mind based on current theory and research in cognitive science that can account for clinical concepts and provide coherent framework for empirical research And Ralph Roughton uses the case history of Laura to underscore the central role of repetition and interaction in the analytic process Volume 22 will not disappoint readers of this distinguished continuing series Like its predecessors it is a thoroughly assembled collection responsive to the conceptual clinical and institutional challenges now before the field

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 28 Jerome A. Winer, 2013-06-17 Volume 28 of The Annual features stimulating original essays on the relationship between psychoanalysis and the neurosciences Edelman s Neural Darwinism informs Barry s investigation of the psychoanalytic theory of internalization and Fajardo s reassessment of breaks in consciousness whereas Gedo s hierarchical model of mental functioning informs Fisher s presentation of the treatment of an autistic child Elsewhere Hadley proposes a neurobiologically distinct motivational system devoted to the development of autonomy Solms attempts to bridge psychoanalysis and the neurophysiology of dreaming Levin and Trevarthen examine the relationship of conscious and unconscious functions to the executive control network ECN of the brain Levin examines the contributions of chaos theory to psychoanalysis and Modell explores metaphor as the crucial aspect of the developing mind and brain through which cognition itself occurs Moraitis s examination of why analysis has been so slow to integrate its findings with the insights of contemporary neuroscience and cognitive psychology and Sadow s reprise on the role of theory in the evolution of psychoanalysis usefully frame the contributions to this section Section II of Volume 28 reengages a subject area for which The Annual has become well known The four characteristically excellent studies in applied psychoanalysis found here cover the effect of early father loss on the work of the American watercolorist Charles Burchfield The Creativity of Women the unconscious influence of metaphor on attitudes and value judgments and the application of self psychology to the dramas of Eugene O Neill It is altogether typical of this fine series that a collection of essays dedicated to the development of a psychobiologically sophisticated psychoanalysis should be followed by contributions that testify to the explanatory vitality of psychoanalysis with respect to issues of literature art and creativity The Annual of Psychoanalysis ,1973

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 29 Jerome A. Winer, James W. Anderson, 2013-05-13 Sigmund Freud and His Impact on the Modern World volume 29 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis is a comprehensive reassessment of the influence of Sigmund Freud Intended as an unofficial companion volume to the Library of Congress s exhibit Sigmund Freud Conflict and Culture it ponders Freud s influence in the context of contemporary scientific psychotherapeutic and academic landscapes Beginning with James Anderson s biographical remarks which are geared specifically to the objects on display in the Library of Congress exhibit and Roy Grinker Jr s more personal view of Freud the volume branches out in various directions in an effort to comprehend the multidimensional and multidisciplinary richness of Freud s contribution In section II we find authoritative summaries of Freud s scientific contributions of his continuing impact as a thinker of his notion of symbolization in the context of recent neuroscientific findings and of his status as a cultural subversive In section III contributors hone in on more specific aspects of Freud's legacy such as an experimental method to review how Freud's idea of childhood sexuality has fared and a look at the women who became analysts in the United States In the concluding section of the volume contributors turn to Freud's influence in various humanistic disciplines literature drama religious studies the human sciences the visual arts and cinema With this scholarly yet highly accessible compilation the Chicago Institute provides another service to its own community and to the wider reading public Sure to enhance the experience of all those attending Sigmund Freud Conflict and Culture Sigmund Freud and His Impact on the Modern World will appeal to anyone desirous of an up to date overview of the man whose work shaped the psychological sensibility of the century just past and promises to reverberate throughout the century just born The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 19 Jerome A.

Winer, 2013-05-13 Volume 19 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis turns to the ever intriguing relationship between Psychoanalysis and Art This introductory section begins with Donald Kuspit's scholarly reflections on the role of analysis in visual art and art criticism and then proceeds to a series of topical studies on Freud and art introduced by Harry Trosman Egyptologist Lorelei Corcoran explores the Egypt of Freud's imagination thereby illuminating our understanding of the archaeological metaphor Marion Tolpin offers new insights into Freud's analysis of the American writer Hilda Doolittle by focusing on the meaning of the Goddess Athene whose statue rested on Freud's desk to both analyst and analysand Stephen Toulmin examines Freud's artistic sensibility and places the historical significance of Freud's art collection in bold relief by looking at the many contemporary art objects Freud chose not to collect Danielle Knafo identifies key events in the early life of Austrian Expressionist Egon Schiele that were primary determinants of the content and form of his self portraits And Barbara Almond examines the spontaneous healing process depicted in Margaret Drabble's novel The Needle's Eye as an analogue to the kind of growth and development mobilized by the psychoanalytic process Section II Psychoanalysis and Development begins with Barbara Fajardo's appreciation of the contribution of biology to analyzability she reviews findings from both infant research and biogenetic research that tend toward an understanding of constitution as resilience in development and subsequently in treatment Benjamin Garber adds to the psychoanalytic understanding of childhood learning disabilities by presenting the three and a half year analysis of a learning disabled child In a fascinating two part contribution Bridging the Chasm Between Developmental Theory and Clinical Theory Joseph Palombo sheds light on some of the knottiest problems in contemporary analysis including the relationship between childhood events and the reconstruction of those events in treatment In Section III Psychoanalysis and Empathy Mary Newsome presents case material in support of her claim that the analyst's empathic understanding catalyzes the coalescence of the patient's affect and aim that is the patient's capacity to believe in and then realize his ambitions The acquisition of the capacity she contends not only betokens a specific kind of structure formation but is the bedrock of emerging self cohesion Her challenging paper is thoughtfully discussed by David Terman and Jerome Winer Section IV of The Annual offers Jerome Kavka's appreciation of the work of N. Lionel Blitzstein 1893-1952. Blitzstein, the first Chicago psychoanalyst and one of America's most gifted clinicians and teachers, anticipated modern concepts of narcissism in identifying narcissistic neuroses with special treatment requirements. Morris Sklansky furthers our understanding of Blitzstein in his discussion of Kavka's essay. Ranging across the analytic canvas with presentations as edifying as they are provocative, volume 19 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis challenges readers to wrestle with issues at the cutting edge of the discipline. It takes a well-deserved place in the preeminent continuing series in the field.

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 31 Jerome A. Winer, James W. Anderson, 2013-09-05. In 1958, William L. Langer, in a well-known presidential address to the American Historical Association, declared the informed use of psychoanalytic depth psychology as the next assignment for professional historians. Psychoanalysis and History, volume 31 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis, examines the degree to which Langer's directive has been realized in the intervening 45 years. Section I makes the case for psychobiography in the lives of historical figures and exemplifies this perspective with analytically informed studies of the art of Wassily Kandinsky, the films of Stanley Kubrick, and the anti-Semitism of Adolf Hitler. Section II reviews Freud's own psychohistorical contributions and then considers the relevance to historical inquiry of the more recent perspectives of Winnicott, Kernberg, and Kohut. Section III explores an intriguing tributary of psychobiographical inquiry: the impact of the biographer's own subjectivity on his or her work. Section IV turns to a topic of perennial interest: the psychobiographical study of American presidents. Section V turns to the special challenges of applying psychoanalysis to topics of religious history and includes topical studies of religious figures as disparate as the 15th-century Asian Drukpa Kunley and Osama bin Laden. Section VI focuses on the recent extension of psychohistorical inquiry to groups of people and to cultural phenomena: more generally, an investigation of the youth movement in pre-Nazi Germany, consideration of how societies no less than individuals reenact and work through traumas over time, and an outline of the role of analysis in constructing a depth psychological social psychology of use to historians. These papers, no less than those that precede them, are compelling testimony to the claim with which editors James William Anderson and Jerome A. Winer begin the volume: to wit, that Psychoanalysis would seem to be a resource indispensable to the study of history.

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 18 Jerome A. Winer, 2014-05-12. A highlight of Volume 18 is two developmental studies that attempt to situate psychoanalysis within the landscape of contemporary science. R. Galatzer-Levy and B. Cohler's examination of the developmental psychology of the self and F. Levin's consideration of psychological development and the changing organization of the brain. Clinical studies focus on analytic stalemate. J. G. Maguire, the dream screen transference. D. Edelstein, and varieties of therapeutic alliance. B. Brandchaft and R. Stolorow.

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, 1981. An Introduction to Theories of Human Development Neil J. Salkind, 2004-01-22. This brief, accessible core text provides a comprehensive view of the major developmental perspectives in a way that should appeal especially to students going on to applied careers in the social and behavioral sciences education and the human services and other helping professions Neither overly detailed nor unnecessarily technical it is intended as a basic introduction At the same time the author does not talk down or condescend to the reader He emphasizes the applied nature of these developmental theories not only in the text material but also with features such as boxed highlights The book is organized into five major parts beginning with an introduction to the primary concepts and important ideas about human development and research and then grouping various theories into four major theoretical perspectives maturational and biological psychodynamic behavioral and cognitive developmental before concluding with an integrative chapter that compares the various theories covered ANNUAL OF PSYCHOANALYSIS, 2015 The annual of psychoanalysis.
