The Anthropology Of War And Peace Perspectives On The Nuclear Age:

The Anthropology of War and Peace Paul R. Turner, David Pitt, 1989 Drawing parallels between tribal behavior and international relations to demonstrate that societies are not inherently aggressive but are led into conflict when pride or in group pressures push people to fight this profound look at the chilling reality of cold war and its arsenal of nuclear destruction offers valuable new insights into how prejudices and stereotypes contribute to what may seem like an inexorable drift to war Yet the authors conclude that war is not inevitable as they offer suggestions for an end to the arms race in the nuclear age Based on original research this is a long overdue contribution to the study of war and peace in our time and a text for newly emerging courses on the subject The Anthropology of War and Peace David Pitt, Paul R.

Indoctrinability, Ideology, and Warfare Irenäus Eibl-Eibesfeldt, Frank K. Salter, 1998 Violent ethno nationalist conflicts continue to mar the history of the twentieth century yet no satisfactory answer as to why humans are susceptible to indoctrination by ideologies leading to inter group hostility has thus far been found This volume brings together an international team of leading scientists to address this complex issue from disciplines as diverse as anthropology psychology psychobiology sociology philosophy ethology sociology and political science Treating the processes of indoctrination as a biological phenomenon with physiological and psychological aspects these essays explore the answers to this pressing question in humanity's evolutionary past An Anthropology of War Alisse Waterston, 2009 The contributors reflect on their ethnographic work at the frontlines and recount not only what they have seen and heard in war zones but also what is being read studied analyzed and remembered in such diverse locations as Colombia and Guatemala Israel and Palestine Iraq Afghanistan and Haiti They reflect on the important issue of accountability and offer explanations to discern causes patterns and practices of war

Ethnic Conflict and Indoctrination Irenäus Eibl-Eibesfeldt, Frank K. Salter, 1998 Violent ethno nationalist conflicts continue to mar the history of the current century yet no satisfactory answer to the question of why humans are susceptible to indoctrination by ideologies that lead to inter group hostility has so far been found In this volume an international team of leading scientists from many different fields approach this complex issue from a biological perspective treating indoctrinability as a predisposition that has its roots in humanity's evolutionary past The Bomb Beatrice Heuser, 2014-09-25 This tightly argued and profoundly thought provoking book tackles a huge subject the coming of the nuclear age with bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki in August 1945 and the ways in which it has changed our lives since Dr Heuser sets these events in their historical context and tackles key issues about the effect of nuclear weapons on modern attitudes to conflict and on the ethics of warfare Ducking nothing she demystifies the subject seeing the bomb not as something unique and paralysing but as an integral part of the strategic and moral context of our time For a wide multidisciplinary and general readership Encyclopedia of Conflicts Since World War II James Ciment,2015-03-27

Thoroughly revised to include 25 conflicts not covered in the previous edition as well as expanded and updated information on previous coverage this illustrated reference presents descriptions and analyses of more than 170 significant post World War II conflicts around the globe Organized by region for ease of access Encyclopedia of Conflicts Since World War II Second Edition provides clear in depth explanations of events not covered in such detail in any other reference source Including more than 180 detailed maps and 150 photos the set highlights the conflicts that dominate today s headlines and the events that changed the course of late twentieth century history War and Gender Joshua S. Goldstein,2003-07-17 Gender roles are nowhere more prominent than in war Yet contentious debates and the scattering of scholarship across academic disciplines have obscured understanding of how gender affects war and vice versa In this authoritative and lively review of our state of knowledge Joshua Goldstein assesses the possible explanations for the near total exclusion of women from combat forces through history and across cultures Topics covered include the history of women who did fight and fought well the complex role of testosterone in men s social behaviours and the construction of masculinity and femininity in the shadow of war Goldstein concludes that killing in war does not come naturally for either gender and that gender norms often shape men women and children to the needs of the war system Illustrated with photographs drawings and graphics and drawing from scholarship spanning six academic disciplines this book provides a unique study of a fascinating issue Fieldwork

Dilemmas Hermine G. De Soto,Nora Dudwick,2000 Studying the Image Eloise Meneses,2019-03-26 The field of anthropology provides rich insights into the world of people and cultures But it also presents challenges for Christians in the areas of cultural relativism evolutionary theory race and ethnicity forms of the family governments and war life in the global economy the morality of art and religious pluralism Most significantly it raises questions regarding the truth and how we can know it This book provides the opportunity to investigate such questions with both the informed understanding of anthropological theory and ethnography and the larger framework and commitment of Christian biblical and theological studies So equipped readers are encouraged to investigate for themselves the depths and intricacies of topics in anthropology that are especially relevant for Christians The Radiance of France, new edition Gabrielle Hecht,2009-07-31

How it happened that technological prowess and national glory or radiance which also means radiation in French became synonymous in France as nowhere else In the aftermath of World War II as France sought a distinctive role for itself in the modern postcolonial world the nation and its leaders enthusiastically embraced large technological projects in general and nuclear power in particular The Radiance of France asks how it happened that technological prowess and national glory or radiance which also means radiation in French became synonymous in France as nowhere else To answer this question Gabrielle Hecht has forged an innovative combination of technology studies and cultural and political history in a book that as Michel Callon writes in the new foreword to this edition not only sheds new light on the role of technology in the construction of national identities but is also a seminal contribution to the history of contemporary France Proposing the concept of technopolitical regime as a way to analyze the social political cultural and technological dynamics among engineering elites unionized workers and rural communities Hecht shows how the history of France's first generation of nuclear reactors is also a history of the multiple meanings of nationalism from the postwar period and France's desire for post Vichy redemption to 1969 and the adoption of a Frenchified American design This paperback edition of Hecht's groundbreaking book includes both Callon's foreword and an afterword by the author in which she brings the story up to date and reflects on such recent developments as the 2007 French presidential election the promotion of nuclear power as the solution to climate change and France's aggressive exporting of nuclear technology

The Violence Within Kay Warren, 2018-02-05 This book explores a range of contemporary conflicts in which culture has become an explicit issue ethnic nationalism religious fundamentalism the militarization of civilian life opposition movements in authoritarian states political resistance to redistributive reforms and racism in racial democracies The authors show that one cannot understand current conflicts or crises without studying long term patterns of social political and cultural change At issue throughout the book is how anthropologists and comparative political scientists conceptualize the interplay of culture and politics The result is a volume that offers readers a sophisticated introduction to new currents in cultural analysis demonstrates realms of convergence and continuing debate between the two disciplines and offers focused analyses of contemporary conflicts from the perspective of those caught up in them The case studies for this volume focus on communities and movements in Guatemala Brazil Israel Iran Egypt South Africa the Philippines and Northern Ireland

Arsenals of Folly Richard Rhodes, 2008-11-04 Pulitzer Prize winning author Richard Rhodes delivers a riveting account of the nuclear arms race and the Cold War In the Reagan Gorbachev era the United States and the Soviet Union came within minutes of nuclear war until Gorbachev boldly launched a campaign to eliminate nuclear weapons setting the stage for the 1986 Reykjavik summit and the incredible events that followed In this thrilling authoritative narrative Richard Rhodes draws on personal interviews with both Soviet and U S participants and a wealth of new documentation to unravel the compelling shocking story behind this monumental time in human history its beginnings its nearly chilling consequences and its effects on global politics today

Cultures of Insecurity Jutta Weldes, 1999 Genocide in Rwanda instability in the Middle East anarchy on the Internet insecurities abound But do they occur naturally or are they as this pathbreaking volume suggests cultural and social productions Bringing together scholars from political science and anthropology this collection of essays redirects long standing views on culture as both a source of insecurity and an object of analysis The authors present studies whose topics range from traditional security concerns such as the Cuban missile crisis the Korean War and the Middle East to less conventional issues including the Internet and national security multiculturalism and regional economy in New Mexico

The Ribbon Around the Pentagon Linda Pershing,1996 A consideration of British history and identity breaking traditional chronological and regional borders to debate the major issues of the British state from its medieval foundations 19 historians investigate questions in the Anglo Saxon achievement overlordship the incorporation of Wales Scotland and Ireland and modern questions of imperial multinational polity in conflict with very contemporary realities of sovereignty
