Stanford Electronics Laboratories,V. Gopala Krishna Reddi,1963 An electrical breakdown phenomenon in heavily gold doped silicon has been observed The samples prepared with the proper ohmic end contacts exhibit linear current voltage relationships at low fields followed by a slight saturation in current only in some samples Then at some critical electric field a sharp increase in current density more than one order of magnitude occurs Some of the samples also exhibit negative incremental resistance at high values of the current density This phenomenon is readily seen at room temperature in n type samples and at dry ice temperatures in p type samples Author Subject Catalog Library of Congress, K.F. Karjalainens
