Bokody,2017-07-05 The rebirth of realistic representation in Italy around 1300 led to the materialization of a pictorial language which dominated Western art until 1900 and it dominates global visual culture even today Paralleling the development of mimesis self reflexive pictorial tendencies emerged as well Images within images visual commentaries of representations by representations were essential to this trend They facilitated the development of a critical pictorial attitude towards representation This book offers the first comprehensive study of Italian meta painting in the age of Giotto and sheds new light on the early modern and modern history of the phenomenon By combining visual hermeneutics and iconography it traces reflexivity in Italian mural and panel painting at the dawn of the Renaissance and presents novel interpretations of several key works of Giotto di Bondone and the Lorenzetti brothers The potential influence of the contemporary religious and social context on the program design is also examined situating the visual innovations within a broader historical horizon The analysis of pictorial illusionism and reality effect together with the liturgical narrative and typological role of images within images makes this work a pioneering contribution to visual studies and premodern Italian culture Conduct Becoming

Syrian Jews of a Host the bread consecrated by a priest during the Christian Mass The text is the work of a playwright possessed of a tremendous theatrical imagination notwithstanding his choice of subject matter Music and Performance in the Later Middle Ages E. Upton,2012-12-28 This book seeks to understand the music of the later Middle Ages in a fuller perspective moving beyond the traditional focus on the creative work of composers in isolation to consider the participation of performers and listeners in music making Divine Domesticity: Augustine of Thagaste to Teresa of Avila Marjorie O'Rourke Boyle,2021-11-01 This volume is a cultural analysis of the home during the Christian centuries when home was believed to be heaven It investigates the traditional belief in the divine indwelling but by reversing the history of doctrine to venture doctrine as history Analysis proceeds not by speculation on faculties of the soul but by research on actualities of housing What did believers experience about habitat its relationships its rooms The book examines four cultural constructs of dwelling the inn the sanctuary the villa and the castle Its focus is the hearth as the familial place A lesson in alterity it exposes the rejection of the divine indwelling as at home John 14 23 It discovers a fundamental disparity between domesticity and the asceticism that dominated western civilization Defiant Priests Michelle Armstrong-Partida,2017-06-06 Two hundred years after canon law prohibited clerical marriage parish priests in the late medieval period continued to form unions with women that were marriage all but in name In Defiant Priests Michelle Armstrong Partida uses evidence from extraordinary archives in four Catalan dioceses to show that maintaining a family with a domestic partner was not only a custom entrenched in Catalan clerical culture but also an essential component of priestly masculine identity From unpublished episcopal visitation records and internal diocesan documents including notarial registers bishops letters dispensations for illegitimate birth and episcopal court records Armstrong Partida reconstructs the personal lives and careers of Catalan parish priests to better understand the professional identity and masculinity of churchmen who made up the proletariat of the largest institution across Europe These untapped sources reveal the extent to which parish clergy were embedded in their communities particularly their kinship ties to villagers and their often contentious interactions with male parishioners and clerical colleagues Defiant Priests highlights a clerical culture that embraced violence to resolve disputes and seek revenge to intimidate other men and to maintain their status and authority in the community Jan van Eyck Craig Harbison,2012-01-01 The surviving work of Flemish painter Jan van Eyck c 1395 1441 consists of a series of painstakingly detailed oil paintings of astonishing verisimilitude Most explanations of the meanings behind these paintings have been grounded in a disguised religious symbolism that critics have insisted is foremost But in Jan van Eyck Craig Harbison sets aside these explanations and turns instead to the neglected human dimension he finds clearly present in these works Harbison investigates the personal histories of the true models and participants who sat for such masterpieces as the Virgin and Child and the Arnolfini Double Portrait This revised and expanded edition includes many illustrations and reveals how van Eyck presented his contemporaries with a more subtle and complex view of the value of appearances as a route to understanding the meaning of life Nicholas of Cusa on Christ and the Church Chandler McC. Brooks, Gerald Christianson, Thomas M. Izbicki, American Cusanus Society, 1996 This collection casts light on various aspects of the life and thought of Nicholas of Cusa The first part is concerned with the context in which he made his contributions The second part is concerned with Nicholas work for ecclesiastical reform and his thought on the Church The third part deals with Cusanus ideas on Christ and mystical experience as well as the larger significance of his speculative works The Moon and the Western Imagination Scott L. Montgomery, 2022-03-29 The Moon is at once a face with a thousand expressions and the archetypal planet Throughout history it has been gazed upon by people of every culture in every walk of life From early perceptions of the Moon as an abode of divine forces humanity has in turn accepted the mathematized Moon of the Greeks the naturalistic lunar portrait of Jan van Eyck and the telescopic view of Galileo Scott Montgomery has produced a richly detailed analysis of how the Moon has been visualized in Western culture through the ages revealing the faces it has presented to philosophers writers artists and scientists for nearly three millennia To do this he has drawn on a wide array of sources that illustrate mankind s changing concept of the nature and significance of heavenly bodies from classical antiquity to the dawn of modern science Montgomery especially focuses on the seventeenth century when the Moon was first mapped and its features named From literary explorations such as Francis Godwin s Man in the Moone and Cyrano de Bergerac s L autre monde to Michael Van Langren s textual lunar map and Giambattista Riccioli s Almagestum novum he shows how Renaissance man was moved by the lunar orb how he battled to claim its surface and how he in turn elevated the Moon to a new level in human awareness The effect on human imagination has been cumulative our idea of the Moon and therefore the planets is multilayered and complex having been enriched by associations played out in increasingly complicated harmonies over time We have shifted the way we think about the lunar face from a perfect body to an earthlike one with corresponding changes in verbal and visual expression Ultimately Montgomery suggests our concept of the Moon has never wandered too far from the world we know best the Earth itself And when we finally establish lunar bases and take up some form of residence on the Moon s surface we will not be conquering a New World fresh and mostly unknown but a much older one ripe with history Innovation and Visualization Amy Ione, 2005 Amy Ione s Innovation and Visualization is the first in detail account that relates the development of visual images to innovations in art communication scientific research and technological advance Integrated case studies allow Ione to put aside C P Snow s two culture framework in favor of cross disciplinary examples that refute the science humanities dichotomy The themes which range from cognitive science to illuminated manuscripts and media studies will appeal to specialists artists art historians cognitive scientists etc interested in comparing our image saturated culture with the environments of earlier eras The scope of the examples will appeal to the generalist A World Art History and Its Objects David Carrier, 2008-11-28 Is writing a world art history possible Does the history of art as such even exist outside the Western tradition Is it possible to consider the history of art in a way that is not fundamentally Eurocentric In this highly readable and provocative book David Carrier a philosopher and art historian does not attempt to write a world art history himself Rather he asks the question of how an art history of all cultures could be written or whether it is even possible to do so He also engages the political and moral issues raised by the idea of a multicultural art history Focusing on a consideration of intersecting artistic traditions Carrier negotiates the way meaning and understanding shift or are altered when a visual object from one culture for example is inserted into the visual tradition of another culture A World Art History and Its Objects proposes the use of temporal narrative as a way to begin to understand a multicultural art history

Productive Digression Anselm Haverkamp, 2017-05-08 Productive Digression is a translation of the ancient term poetics as a practice of theory The products produced in the mode of poesis are digressive in that they operate off track they resist the main stream of every day prose They do so for various reasons and in various respects Mostly they are explained historically relative to historical contexts and that is contrary to what they are meant to resist Instead this book investigates the modes of resistance their epistemology of production in short the logic of digression The method addresses the singular exemplarity of art and literature it elucidates the impact of poesis as an epistemological challenge and redefines the analysis of literature and art as branches of an Historical Epistemology Proceeding from the state of affairs in 20th century criticism and aesthetics Benjamin Adorno Blumenberg Merleau Ponty the epistemology of representation Whitehead Canguilhem Bachelard Rheinberger is revised in and with respect to critical consequences Derrida Marin de Man Agamben From literary criticism and critical legal studies to the scenario of the life sciences the essays collected here redirect the logic of research towards the epistemological grounds of an aesthetics underneath the hermeneutics of every day life

God in a Single Vision David Brown,2016-05-26 In the ancient conversation between Western philosophy and Christian theology powerful contemporary voices are arguing for monologue rather than dialogue Instead of these two disciplines learning from and mutually informing each other both philosophers and theologians are increasingly disconnected from and thus unable to hear what the other is saying especially in Anglo American scholarship Some Christian philosophers are now found claiming methodological authority over doctrine while some Christian theologians even deny that philosophy has its own integrity as a separate discipline Against these trends David Brown has argued over the past thirty years that philosophy and theology are both necessary in order to grapple with the reality of divine mystery and Christian faith Neither discipline can be reduced to the other and each has its own contribution to make for a full understanding of what Brown describes as a single vision of God In this volume Brown addresses some key topics in philosophical theology including the created order experience and revelation incarnation and redemption and heaven and our communal destiny Combining analytic clarity doctrinal substance and historical depth this volume exemplifies Brown s project of truly integrating philosophy and theology It thus provides an ideal introduction to this vital conversation for undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as a connected argument of interest to specialists in both disciplines
