The Ecology Of Malnutrition In Mexico And Central America:

The Ecology of Malnutrition in México and Central America Jacques M. May, 1972 The Ecology of Malnutrition in Mexico and Central America Jacques Meyer May, Donna L. McLellan, 1972 The Geography of Central America and Mexico Thomas A. Rumney, 2013-04-04 Connecting the massive landscapes of North and South America are Mexico and Central America An area of fascination and study for geographers and scholars from around the world for millennia these lands and people have played important roles in the discoveries and distributions of civilizations resources and nations These regions have stimulated a large amount of research and publications across the sub disciplines of geography The Geography of Central America and Mexico A Scholarly Guide and Bibliography by Thomas A Rumney collects organizes and presents as many of these publications as possible to encourage efforts in the teaching study and continuing scholarship of the geography of this area which includes Mexico Belize Guatemala Honduras El Salvador Nicaragua Costa Rica and Panama Beginning with the region as a whole each chapter that follows one per nation is divided by the specific sub disciplines of geography cultural social economic historical physical and environmental political and urban Each section is further divided by document type atlases books book chapters articles from scholarly journals master s theses and doctoral dissertations Although the majority of entries recorded focus on English language works selected entries written in Spanish as well as French German and other languages are included with entries titles translated into English and noted accordingly

Scarcity and Survival in Central America William Durham, 1979-06-01 Looking at both population and land tenure dynamics in their historical context this study challenges the view that the 1969 conflict between El Salvador and Honduras was primarily a response to population pressure The author demonstrates that land scarcity a principal cause of the war was largely a product of the concentration of landholdings The analysis focuses on the emigration of 300 000 Salvadoreans to Honduras in the years before the war inquiring into the reasons for the emigration its impact on local agricultural economies and its relation to the conflict Answers to these questions are based on a new interpretation of national statistics and on original survey research in peasant communities The author has used an interdisciplinary approach drawing on the perspectives of anthropology ecology history demography and geography In addition to its value as a case study in human ecology this book gives a clear account of the nature and origins of ecological pressures in rural Central America The book is illustrated with 21 photographs and 7 maps Medical Geography, Third Edition Melinda S. Meade, Michael

Emch, 2010-04-20 The leading text in the field this comprehensive book reviews geographic approaches to studying disease and public health issues across the globe It presents cutting edge techniques of spatial and social analysis and explores their relevance for understanding cultural and political ecology disease systems and health promotion Essential topics include how new diseases emerge and epidemics develop in particular places the intersecting influences on health of biological processes culture environment and behavior and the changing landscape of health care planning and service delivery The text is richly illustrated with tables figures and maps including 16 color plates Geographers T. W. Freeman, 2016-01-28 An annual collection of studies of individuals who have made major contributions to the development of geography and geographical thought Subjects are drawn from all periods and from all parts of the world and include famous names as well as those less well known explorers independent thinkers and scholars Each paper describes the geographer's education life and work and discusses their influence and spread of academic ideas Each study includes a select bibliography and brief chronology The work includes a general index and a cumulative index of geographers listed in volumes published to date National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1972 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965-70 Mapping the Cold War Timothy Barney, 2015-04-13 In this fascinating history of Cold War cartography Timothy Barney considers maps as central to the articulation of ideological tensions between American national interests and international aspirations Barney argues that the borders scales projections and other conventions of maps prescribed and constrained the means by which foreign policy elites popular audiences and social activists navigated conflicts between North and South East and West Maps also influenced how identities were formed in a world both shrunk by advancing technologies and marked by expanding and shifting geopolitical alliances and fissures Pointing to the necessity of how politics and values were spatialized in recent U S history Barney argues that Cold War era maps themselves had rhetorical lives that began with their conception and production and played out in their circulation within foreign policy circles and popular media Reflecting on the ramifications of spatial power during the period Mapping the Cold War ultimately demonstrates that even in the twenty first century American visions of the world and the maps that account for them are inescapably rooted in the anxieties of that earlier era Area Handbook for Mexico Thomas E. Weil, 1975 Human Settlements Sam Stuart, 2013-10-02 Human Settlements An Annotated Bibliography is an annotated bibliography on human settlements and includes books journal articles reports and documents Documents from Habitat United Nations Conference on Human Settlements with National Reports are arranged alphabetically by country along with other Conference documents This book is comprised of four chapters and begins with a list of books journal articles reports and documents dealing with topics such as housing policies housing problems in underdeveloped areas and the effects of land reform and rural ordinance programs The next chapter is devoted to a bibliography of bibliographies covering topics ranging from land use planning to rural roads and their potential The third chapter includes national reports from countries such as Afghanistan Algeria and Bangladesh The bibliography concludes with a subject index of key words subdivided geographically a secondary author index that includes personal and corporate authors editors compilers and authors of significant introductions and a list of libraries consulted This monograph should be of interest to housing officials and policymakers
