The Emerging Economic Geography In Eu Accession Countries:

The Emerging Economic Geography in EU Accession Countries Peter Nijkamp, 2017-11-30 This title was first published in 2003 Since 1990 Central and Eastern European countries have experienced increased economic integration with the European Union The spatial implications of this process have been little investigated so far Have patterns of regional specialization and industrial concentration changed during the 1990s How does regional specialization relate to economic performance How has access to Western markets affected the regional wage structure What types of regions are winners and what types of regions are losers This book poses and answers such policy relevant questions It is organized into three parts The first introduces the main features of economic integration and transition processes in Central and Eastern Europe and discusses the theoretical and methodological framework of the research The second part examines the cases of five countries Bulgaria Estonia Hungary Romania and Slovenia and the final part includes three comparative analyses which explain the underlying factors that determine the changing patterns of location of manufacturing activity the adjustment pattern of regional wages and adaptation processes in border regions in the five countries

Regional Labor Market Developments in Transition Peter Huber, 2006 The author analyzes regional labor market disparities in transition by presenting some data and summarizing existing literature He finds that large and persistent regional labor market disparities developed in virtually all transition countries and that there is some evidence of polarization Differences in starting conditions and market access seem to be the major reasons for regional divergence in transition Furthermore regional wages are only slightly more flexible than in many European Union labor markets interregional migration is low and capital seems to move toward high wage and low unemployment urban centers rather than to the most backward regions Policy should thus take a long run perspective on the existing regional disparities focus on removing barriers to mobility review existing institutions for implementing regional policy and aim at a close coordination of regional and labor market policy instruments World Bank web site

The Global Competitiveness Report 2002-2003 World Economic Forum, 2003-03-27 The annual Global Competitiveness Report is widely recognized as the world's leading cross country comparison of data and information relating to economic competitiveness and growth Over the years the Report has become the most authoritative and comprehensive assessment of the comparative strengths and weaknesses of national economies throughout the world The World Economic Forum continues its tradition of excellence with The Global Competitiveness Report 2002 2003 which provides the most updated and recent data rankings and analysis of 75 industrialized and emerging economies and the latest thinking and research from prominent academics and international institution leaders on global competitiveness This year's report begins by presenting the widely quoted global competitive index that really comprises two indices one for growth and one for productivity It then provides global and regional analyses with examinations of the competitive landscapes of Africa Asia Central and Eastern Europe and Latin America Essays on a wide range of special topics follow including national innovative capacity governance foreign direct investment and trade performance The Report concludes with detailed country profiles data presentation and an exhaustive survey of senior business executives that touches on business conditions infrastructure the character of the regulatory regime the quality of government organized labor corruption and tax evasion The Global Competitiveness Report 2002 2003 provides essential information for business leaders government decision makers and for academics to examine the critical challenges facing a multitude of the world s economies

Economic Growth and Structural Features of Transition

E. Marelli, M. Signorelli, 2010-01-20 This book examines theoretically and empirically the key aspects and differences of economic growth It provides a comprehensive investigation of the numerous features of development in transition countries covering the last two decades from the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989 to the current financial crisis

Overcoming Fragmentation in Southeast Europe Panayiotis Getimis, 2017-11-28 With the expansion of the European Union the countries of Southeast Europe have finally been brought together within one socio political entity The restructuring of these economies following globalization and neoliberalization has meant that this region has become much more open to geopolitical shifts and trends While the various countries have all entered into the slow process of European integration the historic fragmentation of this region has led to various conflicts and contradictions in the restructuring and transition of national economies This volume provides a theoretical and comparative overview which examines the prospects for spatial cohesion in this region With the need to handle persisting problems and conflicts from the past while coping with new economic and political structures Southeast Europe proves to be a challenging yet fruitful testing ground for how best to overcome fragmentation and establish a long term process of social and economic integration

Knowledge Flows, Technological Change and Regional Growth in the European Union Małgorzata Runiewicz-Wardyn, 2013-06-14 The book provides conceptual and empirical insights into the complex relationship between knowledge flows and regional growth in the EU The author critically scrutinizes and enhances the RIS Regional Innovation System approach discussing innovation as a technological institutional and evolutionary process Moreover she advances the ongoing discourse on the role of space and technological proximity in the process of innovation and technological externalities The book closes with an investigation of the role of technological change and knowledge spillovers in the dynamic growth and catching up of EU regions

The Economy and Economics After Crisis Jüri Sepp, Dean Frear, 2011-01-01

Geography, Institutions and Regional

Economic Performance Riccardo Crescenzi, Marco Percoco, 2012-12-13 The book aims to present traditional features of regional science as geographical concepts and institutions as well as relatively new topics such as innovation and agglomeration economies In particular it demonstrates that contrary to what has been argued by recent economics literature both geography and institutions or culture are relevant for local development In fact these phenomena along with the movement of goods and workers are among the main reasons for persisting development differentials These intriguing relationships are at the heart of the analysis presented in this book and form the conceptual basis for a promising

institutional approach to economic geography      Entrepreneurial and Demographic Challenges in Economic Development of EU Candidate Countries Vemić, Milan B.,2024-11-22 The economic development of EU candidate countries is shaped by entrepreneurial and demographic challenges that significantly influence their integration into the European Union As these nations aim for growth and stability they face various obstacles characterized by shifting demographic profiles including aging populations and human migration Fostering an effective entrepreneurial system is essential for increased innovation and job creation Navigating these challenges requires specific policies that support small and medium sized enterprises while addressing socio economic disparities and demographic trends that hinder sustainable development Further understanding of this relationship is pivotal for creating strategies that promote economic growth and foster the successful integration of these countries into the European Union Entrepreneurial and Demographic Challenges in Economic Development of EU Candidate Countries explores solutions for the economic improvement of European Union country candidates through entrepreneurship and demographics The effectiveness of sustainable business management practices on global organizations are examined This book covers topics such as management science capitalism and sociology and is a useful resource for government officials policymakers economists business owners sociologists academicians researchers and scientists      Globalization and Regional Growth in Europe Roberta Capello,Ugo Fratesi,Laura Resmini,2011-05-27 After a description of the new forms of globalization currently shaping our world and of their possible spatial effects the book highlights which European regions have in the past succeeded in taking advantage of globalization trends and identifies the major reasons for their success The book also offers a prospective analysis utilizing scenarios based on different assumptions of how globalization trends will develop identifying the regional winners and losers for each scenario The analysis greatly benefits from a unique database which contains among others data on FDI by sector and professions at the regional Nuts 2 level for all 27 EU countries A time span of more than 10 years is covered and scenarios are developed for the future development up to 2020
