New York Public Library. Art and Architecture Division,1975      Anglo-American Encyclopedia ,1910      English and British Fiction, 1750-1820 Peter Garside,Karen Elisabeth O'Brien,2015 This series presents a comprehensive global and up to date history of English language prose fiction and written by a international team of scholars dust jacket      William Blake and His Contemporaries and Followers Robert N. Essick,1987      Kinaesthesia and Classical Antiquity 1750-1820 Helen Slaney,2020-09-03 This book argues that touch and movement played a significant role long overlooked in generating perceptions of ancient material culture in the late 18th century At this time the reception of classical antiquity had been transformed Interactions with material culture ruins sculpture and artefacts formed the core of this transformation Some such interactions were proto archaeological such as the Dilettanti expeditions to Athens and Asa Minor others were touristic seen in the guidebooks consulted by travellers to Rome and the diaries they composed and others creative resulting in novels poetry and dance performances Some involved the reproduction of experience in a gallery or museum setting What all encounters with ancient material culture had in common however is their haptic sensory basis The sense typically associated with the Enlightenment is vision but this has obscured the equally important contribution made by touch and movement to the way in which a newly materialised Graeco Roman world was perceived Kinaesthesia or the sense of self movement is rarely recognised in its own right but because all encounters with sites and objects are embodied and all embodiment takes place in motion this sense is vital to forming more abstract or imaginative impressions Theories of embodied cognition propose that all intellectual processes are also physical This book shows how ideas about classical antiquity in the volatile milieu of the late 18th century developed as a result of diverse kinaesthetic relationships      Books in Print ,1994      The Official Museum Directory 1991 ,1990
