architects face as they attempt to blend form and function in new and exciting ways Readers are sure to love this detailed look at a kind of art they see around them every day and a career path they can pursue if they are interested in architecture

Periodization in the Art Historiographies of Central and Eastern Europe Shona Kallestrup, Magdalena Kunińska, Mihnea Alexandru Mihail, Anna Adashinskaya, Cosmin Minea, 2022-06-07 This volume critically investigates how art historians writing about Central and Eastern Europe in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries engaged with periodization At the heart of much of their writing lay the ideological project of nation building Hence discourses around periodization such as the mythicizing of certain periods the invention of historical continuity and the assertion of national specificity contributed strongly to identity construction Central to the book's approach is a transnational exploration of how the art histories of the region not only interacted with established Western periodizations but also resonated and entangled with each other In their efforts to develop more sympathetic frameworks that refined ignored or hybridized Western models they sought to overcome the centre periphery paradigm which equated distance from the centre with temporal belatedness and artistic backwardness The book thus demonstrates that the concept of periodization is far from neutral or strictly descriptive and that its use in art history needs to be reconsidered Bringing together a broad range of scholars from different European institutions the volume offers a unique new perspective on Central and Eastern European art historiography It will be of interest to scholars working in art history historiography and European studies The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Gothic Art Victoria Charles, Klaus H. Carl, 2008-01-01 Gothic art finds its roots in the powerful architecture of the cathedrals of northern France It is a medieval art movement that developed all across Europe for more than 200 years Leaving Roman roundish forms behind the architects started using flying buttress and pointed arches to open cathedrals to the daylight Period of great economic and social changes the gothic period also saw the development of a new iconography celebrating the Holy Mary at the opposite to the fearful iconography of dark Roman times Full of rich changes in all the different arts architecture sculpture painting etc gothic gave way to the Italian renaissance and international gothic Art-Union, 1861
