The Art Of Hunger:

The Art of Hunger Paul Auster, 1992 Now including The Red Notebook a collection of autobiographical sketches on coincidence The Art Of Hunger undermines our accepted notions about literature Auster's meditations on writing and artists leads us to a better understanding of the toll of writing The Art of Hunger Paul Auster, 1982 The Art of Hunger Paul Auster, 1998 This collection includes essays on Kafka Beckett and other 20th century literary figures and reflections by Auster on his own work on the need to break down the boundary between living and writing and on the use of certain genre conventions to penetrate matters of memory and identity The Art of Hunger Alys Moody, 2018-11-10 Hunger is one of the governing metaphors for literature in the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries Beginning in the mid nineteenth century writers and critics repeatedly describe writing as a process of starvation as in the familiar type of the starving artist and high art as the rejection of culinary pleasures The Art of Hunger Aesthetic Autonomy and the Afterlives of Modernism argues that this metaphor offers a way of describing the contradictions of aesthetic autonomy in modernist literature and its late twentieth century heirs This book traces the emergence of a tradition of writing it calls the art of hunger from the origins of modernism to the end of the twentieth century It focuses particularly on three authors who redeploy the modernist art of hunger as a response to key moments in the history of modernist aesthetic autonomy's delegitimization Samuel Beckett in post Vichy France Paul Auster in post 1968 Paris and New York and J M Coetzee in late apartheid South Africa Combining historical analysis of these literary fields with close readings of individual texts and drawing extensively on new archival research this book offers a counter history of modernism's post World War II reception and a new theory of aesthetic autonomy as a practice of unfreedom The Revival of the Art of Hunger Hiromi Itō, Jerome Rothenberg, 1991 The Art of Return James Meyer, 2019-09-11 More than any other decade the sixties capture our collective cultural imagination And while many Americans can immediately imagine the sound of Martin Luther King Jr declaring I have a dream or envision hippies placing flowers in gun barrels the revolutionary sixties resonates around the world China's communist government inaugurated a new cultural era African nations won independence from colonial rule and students across Europe took to the streets calling for an end to capitalism imperialism and the Vietnam War In this innovative work James Meyer turns to art criticism theory memoir and fiction to examine the fascination with the long sixties and contemporary expressions of these cultural memories across the globe Meyer draws on a diverse range of cultural objects that reimagine this revolutionary era stretching from the 1950s to the 1970s including reenactments of civil rights antiwar and feminist marches paintings sculptures photographs novels and films Many of these works were created by artists and writers born during the long Sixties who were driven to understand a monumental era that they missed These cases show us that the past becomes significant only in relation to our present and our remembered history never perfectly replicates time past This Meyer argues is precisely what makes our contemporary attachment to the past so important it provides us a critical opportunity to examine our own relationship to history memory and nostalgia

An Art of Desire Bernd Herzogenrath, 2024-12-09 An Art of Desire Reading Paul Auster the first book length study solely devoted to the novels of Paul Auster From the vantage point of poststructuralist theory especially Lacanian psychoanalysis and Derridean deconstruction this book explores the relation of Auster s novels City of Glass In the Country of Last Things Moon Palace and The Music of Chance to the rewriting and deconstruction of genre conventions their connections to concepts such as catastrophe theory the sublime Freud s notion of the death drive as well as the philosophical underpinnings of his work At the focus of this study however is the concept of desire an important concept in the writings of both Auster and Lacan and the various manifestations of this concept in Auster s novels Auster s novels always emphasize a kind of outside of the text chance the real the unsayable a kind of hope for a transparent language a hope however that is exactly posited as impossible to fulfill The relation of Daniel Quinn Anna Blume Marco Fogg and Jim Nashe to this lack is the motor of their desire the driving force for the subject that has always already left the real and has been inscribed into the representational system called reality It is here in its relation to the signifier that the subject s desire is played out that its experience is ordered interpreted and articulated It is their ability to make connections to proliferate to affirm free play their ability not to bemoan the absence of the centre that ultimately decides over success or failure of Auster s subjects whether they partake in the joyous errance of the sign or whether their fate is that of the unfortunate traveler

Performing Authorship Sonja Longolius, 2016-05-15 Authors not only create artworks In the process of creating they simultaneously bring to life their author personae Approaching this phenomenon from an interdisciplinary point of view Sonja Longolius develops a concept of performative authorship by examining different strategies of becoming an author In regard to the notion of her concept this work offers a critical and comparative analysis of the works of Paul Auster Candice Breitz Sophie Calle and Jonathan Safran Foer Specifically Auster Calle and Breitz Foer form a generational pair of opposites enabling a discussion of postmodern and post postmodern artistic strategies of performative authorship

Kirshenblatt-Gimblett,Jonathan Karp,2013-02-11 The wide ranging portrayal of modern Jewishness in artistic terms invites scrutiny into the relationship between creativity and the formation of Jewish identity and into the complex issue of what makes a work of art uniquely Jewish Whether it is the provenance of the artist as in the case of popular Israeli singer Zehava Ben the intention of the iconography as in Ben Shahn s antifascist paintings or the utopian ideals of the Jewish Palestine Pavilion at the 1939 New York World s Fair clearly no single formula for defining Jewish art in the diaspora will suffice The Art of Being Jewish in Modern Times is the first work to analyze modern Jewry s engagement with the arts as a whole including music theater dance film museums architecture painting sculpture and more Working with a broad conception of what counts as art the book asks the following questions What roles have commerce and politics played in shaping Jewish artistic agendas Who determines the Jewishness of art and for what purposes What role has aesthetics played in reshaping religious traditions and rituals This richly illustrated volume illuminates how the arts have helped Jews confront the various challenges of modernity including cultural adaptation and self preservation economic diversification and ritual transformation There truly is an art to being Jewish in the modern world or alternatively an art to being modern in the Jewish world and this collection fully captures its range diversity and historical significance The Art of Selling Big Dr. Utpal
